Wear Particles: From the Cradle to the Grave D. Dowson,G. Dalmaz,T.H.C. Childs,C.M. Taylor,M. Godet,1992-08-04 The Leeds-Lyon symposia have well established themselves in the tribological calendar. Industrial progress requires a better understanding of interfacial phenomena than now exists and it is exciting to see that the topics addressed in these proceedings volumes are at the forefront of progress in tribological research. These proceedings contain 61 papers written by authors from all over the world, covering the entire spectrum of wear particles. Of particular interest is the detailed consideration of a wide range of particle formations and detachments, as well as a close look at the physics and chemistry of the wear of mechanisms, together with other in-depth state-of-the-art analytical contributions.

Lubrication at the Frontier: The Role of the Interface and Surface Layers in the Thin Film and Boundary Regime M. Priest, P. Ehret, L. Flamand, G. Dalmaz, T.H.C. Childs, D. Dowson, Y. Berthier, C.M. Taylor, A A Lubrecht, J.M. Georges, 1999-07-01 The 25th Leeds-Lyon Symposium on Tribology was held at the Institut des Sciences Appliquées de Lyon, from 8-11th September, 1998. Its central theme was, Lubrication at the frontier: the role of the interface and surface layers in the thin film and boundary regime. This topic was chosen because it represents an important evolution of the research field. The Symposium opened with a keynote address entitled Role of surface-anchored polymer chains in polymer friction which described the processes taking place at the interface between solid and liquid. The keynote address was followed by two invited lectures. Firstly, Fuel efficient engine oils, additive interactions, boundary friction and wear presented the industrial point of view on lubricant formulation and engine testing and its evolution. The second lecture was entitled For establishment of a new EHL theory and stressed the need to extend the current EHL theory. Beginning in 1974, The Leeds-Lyon Symposia have now covered a wide range of topics. The essential aim each year is to select a topic of current interest to tribologists and to contribute to further the advance of knowledge in selected fields.

Advances in Turbulence Genevieve Comte-Bellot, J. Mathieu, 2012-12-06 Since 1964 the main function of the European Mechanics Committee has been to arrange Euromech Colloquia. These are three- or four-day meetings for the discussion of current research on a specified and relatively narrow topic in mechanics, by about 50 specialists chosen for their active involvement in research in that topic. The organization of each Euromech Colloquium is entrusted by the Committee to one or two selected scientists of repute in the field, and these organizers are enjoined to achieve a friendly and informal forum for discussion, with a minimum of paper work and expenditure. Over 220 Euromech Colloquia have been held since 1964 (about 40 each in France, West Germany and Britain and the remainder in 18 countries in both western and eastern Europe) on a wide range of topics drawn from the mechanics of solid materials, hydrodynamics, gas dynamics and mechanical systems. The Committee believes that collectively, Euromech Colloquia have made a significant contribution to the exchange of ideas on topics in mechanics within Europe and have thereby helped to overcome the barriers to easy scientific communication in that sorely divided continent. A few years ago the European Mechanics Committee turned its attention to the possible need for European conferences on a larger scale than Euromech Colloquia.

Aero- and Hydro-Acoustics Genevieve Comte-Bellot, John E. Fowcs-Williams, 2013-03-09 The Symposium Aero-and Hydroacoustics was held at the Ecole Centrale de Lyon, France, on 3rd - 6 July 1985, at the initiative of the International Union of Theoretical and Applied Mechanics (IUTAM) . The research topics discussed concerned the acoustics of unstable and turbulent flows and the noise generated by movable surfaces. Other subjects of interest were thermoacoustics, diffraction, and acoustic propagation through turbulence. Applications of numerical and experimental techniques to source diagnostics were discussed, as was active noise control. In Hydroacoustics the emphasis was on noise due to flow induced vibrations. There were 8 general invited lecturers and 43 other contributors, with 150 participants from 14 countries. Sufficient time was provided for discussions and social gatherings. For example, there was the opening of the high speed anechoic wind tunnel of the Centre Acoustique, and a welcome address given by the Mayor of Lyon in his historic City Hall. The organizing Committee of the Symposium wish to express their thanks to la Direction des Recherches Etudes et Techniques du Ministere des Armees (DRET), le Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique (CNRS), le Conseil General du Rhone, l'Association Universitaire de Mecanique (AUM), le Ministere de l'Environnement, for financial support. Le Groupement des Acousticiens de langue frangaise (GALF) helped advertise the meeting. The organizers are also indebted to the International Union of Theoretical and Applied Mechanics for providing travel subsidies to young scientists
