If you are asked to make a list of the things that lead to a great marriage, what would be your response? Many people would talk about commitment, communication, respect, and many other factors. Only a few people may include sex because people overlook the fact that sex creates an intimacy that helps to sustain other factors in the relationship. In some religious doctrines, couples are taught that sex is only necessary for procreation. These kinds of couples would interpret sexual acts aside from the need for procreation as 'not too welcome' because of their conservative beliefs. Others do not properly discuss sex with their partners and things dwindle as a result of lack of intimacy. Just because you've popped out one or two kids does not mean you should retire from the act of having sex because it is important. Do you care to know why? Sex in a successful relationship has to give both partners pleasure and they both should be able to express themselves. When your relationship was in its early stages, you probably thought that sex happened as a result of the romantic attraction you share. Now that your relationship is aging and you are probably no longer having as much sex as you used to, you may interpret it as a lack of attraction. Don't wait until there's a spark between you and your partner. Use sex to create the spark you want. Sexual intercourse has a lot of positive physicals, emotional, social and intellectual benefits. Think of anything you want to feel, sex can help you feel it. Sex helps you create intimacy in your relationship. Partners who have great sex have a better confidence boost than others. When your experience in bed is good, you will develop a kind of high that makes you feel strong and confident in the other parts of your life. When your sexual life is good, your self-esteem is good. You begin to feel more attractive, and desirable. This feeling changes the way we see ourselves and do things. Go on your street and tell a random person that they are beautiful.
