How to Become a Product Demonstrator Don Levy,2015-12-09 If you looking for a fun job that normally pays above minimum wage then this book will help you find it. Being an active product demonstrator with many years of experience has allowed me to write a guide that will teach you all about the different types of available jobs, places to find them and requirements for each. The best part of the book is the 1,000+ worldwide places to find a job. As I look back on the 80 years of my life I'm in wonder of all the different things that I have done. Many of which have helped me write this guide for becoming a Product Demonstrator. Back in my late 20's up to my 50's I was in the fair and carnival business in different capacities which included demonstrating a variety of products on the different fairgrounds and carnival lots that I was at. Fairs and carnivals operate for a certain length of time each year and then there is the off season. During this time I would do demonstrations at home shows, auto and boat shows, swap meets, music festivals or any place that a number of people would gather. I finally tired of being on the road all the time so I went into real estate and mortgage banking. When I retired from that I finally got bored and decided to find something to do. The main requirement was that along with making money it had to be fun. After a lot of research it sounded like mystery shopping would fit the bill. It was fun but the paperwork and low pay weren't that exciting so I started looking again and began seeing requests for product demonstrators. I wasn't excited about going on the road again but when I found out I didn't have to travel and could work when I wanted I decided to give it a try. Although the pay was a few dollars about minimum to start the job was fun. This was a little more than 5 years ago. After a couple of years I found that it was too hard to stand for the 6 hours in a demonstration. I looked around again and found that I could transition to an alcohol demonstrator job. It was less hours and more money so that's what I'm doing today. keywords: Product demonstrator, event specialist, demonstration, demonstrator, demonstrating, employment, pitchman

Advertising, Gender and Society Magdalena Zawisza-Riley,2019-07-03 Advertising, Gender and Society explores contemporary social-psychological theory and original research that examines the portrayal of gender in advertising. It reports empirical data, discusses the social implications of gendered advertising and comments on the relevant 2019 ASA rules. Zawisza-Riley analyses theories such as stereotype content and elaboration likelihood models, stereotype threat and ambivalent sexism theories, the selectivity hypothesis as well as implicit and embodied cognition to illuminate the relationships between sex, gender and advertising in cultural and social contexts. The author thus examines the portrayal of gender in advertising, its effectiveness and effect on audiences and the ways in which audiences, marketers and policy-makers can mitigate potential harm of gendered advertising. She offers theory extension and novel application of existing theory and research to the subject of gender advertising. Advertising, Gender and Society is ideal for students, academics and professionals in the fields of psychology, gender and media studies as well as marketing, advertising and policy-making.

Community Media and Identity in Ireland Jack Rosenberry,2017-10-10 This book explores how Ireland's community media outlets reflect and shape identity at the local level. While aspects of its culture date back centuries, the nation-state of Ireland is less than one hundred years old. Because of this and other elements of the island's history, Irish identity is a contested topic and the island is a place where culture, identity and geography are tightly intertwined. By addressing how community media serve as agents for community building, the book examines how they in turn influence the way individuals connect with their communities.

We learn about their backgrounds and what shaped them, how they came up with their killer business ideas, as well as the challenges that confronted them along the way and while they have enjoyed the sweet taste of victory, all, without exception, have known times of bitter defeat. Multimodal Metaphor and Metonymy in Advertising Paula Pérez Sobrino, 2017-12-15 Metaphor and metonymy appeal to us because they evoke mental images in unique but still recognisable ways. The potential for figurative thought exists in everyone, and it pervades our everyday social interactions. In particular, advertising offers countless opportunities to explore the way in which people think creatively through metaphor and metonymy. The thorough analysis of a corpus of 210 authentic printed advertisements shows the central role of multimodal metaphor, metonymy, and their patterns of interaction, at the heart of advertising campaigns. This book is the first in-depth research monograph to bring together qualitative and quantitative evidence of metaphor-metonymy combinations in real multimodal discourse. It combines detailed case study analyses with corpus-based analysis and psycholinguistic enquiry to provide the reader with a prismatic approach to the topic of figurative language in multimodal advertising. Besides its theoretical contribution to the field of multimodal figurative language, this monograph has a wide number of practical applications due to its focus on advertising and the communicative impact of creative messages on consumers. This book will pave the way for further qualitative and quantitative research on the ways in which figurative language shapes multimodal discourse, and how it relates to our everyday creative thinking.

This is the fifth book published in the 'GOD Today' Series. It highlights three Revelations from God. Key concepts covered in this book's series of articles are: God/Allah is Jesus & Mahomad; the Truth was revealed by God through 21 Revelations received by the author in 2016 and November, 2018; the various Revelations not explained in the first four books are explained now; the prophecy of the author and Tears from God help prove the Incarnations of God as Jesus and Mahomad. Web 2.0 Miltiadis D. Lytras, Ernesto Damiani, Patricia Ordóñez de Pablos, 2008-10-20 While the web itself is about twenty years old, businesses are still implementing the technology into the fabric of the business model. The background section will focus on defining the building blocks for the framework including defining the basic components of Web 1.0 which focused on the presence and business transaction. The Web 2.0 section will focus on defining the basic building blocks of customer interactions, while the final section will focus on a review of the wine industry. 2.1 Web 1.0: Presence and Electronic Commerce The term Web 1.0 emerged from the research around the development of Web 2.0. Prior to this, researchers commonly referred to Web 1.0 as Electronic Commerce or E-Business. Whereas, web 1.0 focused on a read-only web interface, Web 2.0 focuses on a read-write interface where value emerges from the contribution of a large volume of users. The Internet initially focused on the command and control of the information itself. Information was controlled by a relatively small number of resources but distributed to a large number which spawned the massive growth of the web itself. Like television before it, the web allowed for the broadcasting of information to a large number of users. Initial web sites were built simply to communicate presence or provide information on the business itself. This component includes information like marketing materials, investor relations, employment opportunities, and product information.

Digital Mental Health Research: Understanding Participant Engagement and Need for User-centered Assessment and Interventional Digital Tools Abhishek Pratap, Patricia A. Arean, Benjamin Nelson, Brenna Renn, Abigail Ortiz, 2023-08-15 Mental health researchers are increasingly looking towards digital health tools to gather day-to-day lived experiences of people living with mental health conditions, by using apps and wearable devices complementing episodic clinical assessments. One of the key goals of collecting longitudinal real-world multimodal data (RWD) is to help build personalized computational models that may help explain the heterogeneity in clinical outcomes, mechanisms of action, and pathophysiology of mental health disorders across individuals.

Metaphor in Language and Culture across World Englishes Marcus Callies, Marta Degani, 2021-06-17 This book advances and broadens the scope of research on conceptual metaphor at the nexus of language and culture by exploring metaphor and figurative language as a characteristic of the many Englishes that have developed in a wide range of geographic, socio-historical and cultural settings around the world. In line with the interdisciplinary breadth of this endeavour, the contributions are grounded in Cognitive (Socio)Linguistics, Conceptual Metaphor Theory, and Cultural Linguistics. Drawing on different research methodologies, including corpus linguistics, elicitation techniques, and interviews, chapters analyse a variety of naturalistic data and text types, such as online language, narratives, political speeches and literary works. Examining both the cultural conceptualisations underlying the use of figurative language and the linguistic-cultural specificity of metaphor and its variation, the studies are presented in contexts of both language contact and second language usage. Adding to the debate on the interplay of universal and culture-specific grounding of conceptual metaphor, Metaphor in Language and Culture across World Englishes advances research in a previously neglected sphere of study in the field of World Englishes.

Multimodal Epistemologies Arianna Maiorani,Christine Christie,2014-04-24 This volume develops a new multimodal semiotic approach to the study of communication, examining how multimodal discourse is construed transmedially and interculturallly and how new technologies and cultural stances inform communicative contexts across the world. It contributes to current theoretical debates in the disciplines of semiotics, linguistics, multimodality, and pragmatics, as well as those aspects of pedagogy and film studies that engage with the notions of text and narrative by addressing questions such as: How do we study multimedia communication? How do we incorporate the impact of new media technologies into the study of Linguistics and Semiotics? How do we construe culture in modern communication? How useful are the current multidisciplinary approaches to multimodal communication? Through the analysis of specific case studies that are developed within diverse academic disciplines and which draw on a range of theoretical frameworks, the goal of this book is to provide a basis for an overarching framework that can be applied by scholars and students with different academic and cultural backgrounds.
