Frames in the Toxicity Controversy Arnold Tukker,2012-12-06 Preface When you write a book like this after ten years' working as an environmental specialist, you end up with something that reflects your career. Of course, when I started working at the Ministry of the Environment in the Netherlands, I could not foresee that I would now be at TNO, nor that I would have performed research into chlorine, PVC, waste, etc. , that would come to form the basis for this book. But step by step, with some coincidence and with the support of several people - who were probably unaware of the crucial role that, with hindsight, they played - I arrived at a position where I could start to consider this enterprise. At this point I shall try something dangerous - thanking a few of those people who gave that support. At the same time, it is obvious that I cannot mention them all. I hope that those whom I do not mention will forgive me. A first, crucial moment in this sequence of events came quite soon after I joined TNO in 1990. Just a few weeks later, all the senior staff in my section decided to leave in order to set up their own company. I decided to stay at TNO. As a consequence, I had to manage it on my own.

Locked Country, Loaded Silence Satish Saykar,2022-01-17 Do you think that we are rascals? Do you see the word 'silly' on our foreheads? We expected you to talk about Corona, the steps taken by you to control the spread of Corona. We expected you to declare packages for the farmers whose milk is unsold, vegetables are destroyed and thrown out of the fields. We expected the packages for the workers. We expected you to talk about whether you will definitely end the lockdown and declare some policies for the workers who are walking for hundreds of miles without having food to eat. But what did you say? "Taali Bajao, Thaali Bajao, Ghanti Bajao." And now, light the lamps. What kind of lamps have you had lightened in the last six years? If you had done it, you would not have asked us to light the lamps. Our decision is final. Final means final. We won't switch off the lights and light the lamps. Final.
