Let Me Sell You a Ferrari Robert E. Guarino,2021-05-14 The moment in 1958 when a sports car-crazed youth in Massachusetts saw his first Ferrari changed his life. The black 250 GT coupe's seductive lines, purposeful air and already hallowed name seized Robert E. Guarino's imagination; just a few years later, he would be selling such cars. And in 1967, with two partners and an investment of just $6,000 apiece, he would open a Ferrari-Porsche-Datsun dealership. This memoir follows his lifelong journey with Ferraris and other remarkable automobiles, as an enthusiast and dealer. Highlights include a nonstop drive from Chicago to Boston in a 308 GTB; rides with important figures like Piero Ferrari at Fiorano and Dario Benuzzi at Mugello; visits to the Ferrari, Maserati and Lamborghini factories; the horror of watching a delivery truck crash onto a row of new cars; and time at the wheel of such icons as the 365 GTB/4 Daytona, 250 GT0, 288 GT0 and F40.

Porsche - The Racing 914s Roy Smith,2016-10-01 Detailed study of a remarkable little car that, when it appeared in 1969, was considered a mish-mash of ideas, and not a 'proper' Porsche. It's also the story of the 'little' guys ... the privateers and dealer teams who did most of the development that turned the 914 into great little racer.

Training in the Motor Vehicle Repair and Sales Sector in Denmark Jan Knoblauch,1995 Training in Denmark's motor vehicle repair and sales sector was examined in a study that included the following approaches: review of the sector's structure/characteristics, institutional/social context, changing conditions and their implications for skill requirements and training, and available initial and continuing vocational education and training; in-depth case studies of four auto repair shops and dealerships; and identification of economic, employment, and training trends. It was discovered that increasing competition within the sector has led to increasing emphasis on customers and, consequently, increased awareness that well-trained, competent workers are essential to maintaining customer loyalty. Decreasing vehicle sales and decreased need for vehicle repairs have led to falling wages and a decrease in the number of available positions in the sector. Availability of continuing vocational training varies considerably throughout the sector. Only authorized dealers and repair shops have access to importers' courses, and importers lack the capacity to meet dealer interest in their courses. Despite recent collective bargaining agreements stipulating employees' right to at least 1 week of continuing vocational training annually and despite the need for workers to upgrade their skills in response to technological advances, public continuing vocational training activities have decreased in recent years. Excel Data Analysis Hector Guerrero, 2010-03-10 Why does the World Need-Excel Data Analysis, Modeling, and Simulation? When spreadsheets first became widely available in the early 1980s, it spawned a revolution in teaching. What previously could only be done with arcane software and large scale computing was now available to the common-man, on a desktop. Also, before spreadsheets, most substantial analytical work was done outside the classroom where the tools were; spreadsheets and personal computers moved the work into the classroom. Not only did it change how the analysis curriculum was taught, but it also empowered students to venture out on their own to explore new ways to use the tools. I can't tell you how many phone calls, office visits, and/or emails I have received in my teaching career from ecstatic students crowing about what they have just done with a spreadsheet model. I have been teaching courses related to spreadsheet based analysis and modeling for about 25 years and I have watched and participated in the spreadsheet revolution.

Training in the Motor Vehicle Repair and Sales Sector in Ireland European Centre for the Development of Vocational Training, 1995 A study viewed the existing motor vehicle sector, structure, and trading conditions and identified and analyzed the best and most significant continuing vocational training practices in Ireland. In 1991, the motor vehicle sector accounted for 6.2 percent of the Gross National Product. Employment in the sector has decreased from an estimated 24,000 in 1988 to 17,000 in 1992. The impact of legislation on the Irish motor industry was significant, requiring those engaged in the industry to cope with a wide variety of laws and statutory instruments. The industry has been well served by the statutory scheme for apprentices. Companies involved in four case studies were a component manufacturer, Nissan, Ford, and Volkswagen/Audi. Each case study described the case, the firm, providers of continuing vocational education, training policy of the firm, evaluation of the training concepts, and conclusions in relation to best practice and normal practice. The case studies demonstrated the organization of work at distributor level was very professional. At no time in the history of the motor industry in Ireland did polarization of skills (within trades) occur; all-round skills were found necessary for the survival of the dealership. The relationship between franchise dealers and the distributors was very good. The only regulated training was apprenticeship. Indicated trends were static or slightly increased employment in the motor vehicle sector and training needs that correspond to the overall development of vehicle technology and design. (YLB)
