Global Web3 Eco Innovation Defidao,David Kuo Chuen Lee,Chong Guan,Ding Ding,2023-11-15 Along with the maturing of blockchain technology, the scope of Web3 has been expanding from hash rate to crypto market, then from crypto market to metaverse. Apps Gerard Goggin, 2021-05-20 Since the rise of the smartphone, apps have become entrenched in billions of users' daily lives. Accessible across phones and tablets, watches and wearables, connected cars, sensors, and cities, they are an inescapable feature of our current culture. In this book, Gerard Goggin provides a comprehensive and authoritative guide to the development of apps as a digital media technology. Covering the technological, social, cultural, and policy dynamics of apps, Goggin ultimately considers what a post-app world might look like. He argues that apps represent a pivotal moment in the development of digital media, acting as a hinge between the visions and realities of the “mobile,” “cyber,” and “online” societies envisaged since the late 1980s and the imaginaries and materialities of the digital societies that emerged from 2010. Apps offer frames, construct tools, and constitute “small worlds” for users to reorient themselves in digital media settings. This fascinating book will reframe the conversation about the software that underwrites our digital worlds. It is essential reading for students and scholars of media and communication, as well as for anyone interested in this ubiquitous technology.

Miniaturized Silicon Photodetectors Maurizio Casalino, 2021-01-15 Silicon (Si) technologies provide an excellent platform for the design of microsystems where photonic and microelectronic functionalities are monolithically integrated on the same substrate. In recent years, a variety of passive and active Si photonic devices have been developed, and among them, photodetectors have attracted particular interest from the scientific community. Si photodiodes are typically designed to operate at visible wavelengths, but, unfortunately, their employment in the infrared (IR) range is limited due to the neglectable Si absorption over 1100 nm, even though the use of germanium (Ge) grown on Si has historically allowed operations to be extended up to 1550 nm. In recent years, significant progress has been achieved both by improving the performance of Si-based photodetectors in the visible range and by extending their operation to infrared wavelengths. Near-infrared (NIR) SiGe photodetectors have been demonstrated to have a “zero change” CMOS process flow, while the investigation of new effects and structures has shown that an all-Si approach could be a viable option to construct devices comparable with Ge technology. In addition, the capability to integrate new emerging 2D and 3D materials with Si, together with the capability of manufacturing devices at the nanometric scale, has led to the development of new device families with unexpected performance. Accordingly, this Special Issue of Micromachines seeks to showcase research papers, short communications, and review articles that show the most recent advances in the field of silicon photodetectors and their respective applications.

How to reap the rewards while technology works for you Vicente Ribeiro G. Jr. - Osmar André V., 2016-01-14 Enjoy the rewards while technology works for you! The title of this E-book may appear misleading to some people but it is possible to make clever use of technology to mint money for you while you enjoy the fruits of life. Who doesn't want to go on a vacation that never ends? But working 9-5 in an office for your boss or running your own small business will never leave you enough time and money to live life king size. If you want to live life on your own terms, invest your time and money in something that starts to generate a steady stream of income for the rest of your life. No, I am not asking you to waste your time and money on MLM (Multi Level Marketing) business schemes or internet marketing business. There is one business that requires little investment in terms of time and money but it is so lucrative that it can keep on pouring money in your bank account for a long time to come. Have you ever thought of mobile apps as a business? Billions of kids, men, and women across the world are today downloading and using different types of apps in their smartphones and using them for information and entertainment. From apps that give information about weather and time to apps helping people to earn money by connecting to stock market software, mobile apps have engulfed and invaded our lives. If you see around you, you will find people busy with one app or another on their smartphones. They may be listening to music or chatting with their friends but the fact is that these apps have become an integral part of the lives of most people in modern times. If television occupied an important place in the lives of people a decade ago, that place has been usurped by these mobile apps these days. There are no less than 21 billion mobile apps that have been downloaded by people around the world on just two platforms namely Apple and Android. This number means roughly 3 apps per person.

Physics Of Experiment Instrumentation Using Matlab Apps, The: With Companion

Media Pack Daniel Green,2021-04-07 Some twenty years ago the author published a book entitled The Physics of Particle Detectors. Much has evolved since that time, not in the basic physics, but in the complexity, number and versatility of the detectors commonly used in experiments, beam-lines and accelerators. Those changes have been heavily influenced by the concurrent dramatic changes in the microelectronics industry. In parallel, the use of computer-aided teaching has also greatly improved. The present volume explores the physics needed to understand the full suite of front-end devices in use today. In particular the physics explanation is made concurrently with the specific device being discussed, thus making the coupling more immediate. That study is made more interactive by using newer educational tools now available such as dynamic Matlab Apps.
