We've Got Blog Editors Of Perseus Publishing,2009-04-29 Instantaneous and raw, unedited and uncensored, Weblogs are self-publishing at its best and its worst--occasionally brilliant but often pretentious, sometimes shocking but always fascinating. We've Got Blog is the first book to explore this phenomenon, which has been quickly rising from obscure Webpages to national attention in the Wall Street Journal and USA Today. Weblogs are free, searchable journals of opinions and links updated daily by an individual or a group and they have become some of the hottest Websites. We've Got Blog has pulled together some of the best writing explaining their history, the mavericks who created them, and how they are changing the way we use the Internet.

Other motivations explored include a desire to become a 'citizen journalist', a need for validation, the commercial possibilities of blogging and the possibility of turning your blog into a published 'book'. Expands the discussion of the blogging phenomenon outside the US Focuses on the British blogosphere, comparing British bloggers to the more researched US Includes a discussion of the motivations of women bloggers

The Blog That Became a Book Edward Trice,2013-10-31 This book began as a series of posts on my blog/website edwardsjournal.com in April 2008. Spirited by the need to vent my frustrations with daily life, the posts expanded in choice of subjects. The elections and events of that year, economic collapse, disturbing lies with a horrific war all provided ample fuel to blog. The posting dates provided a running factual history of occurrences as I saw them then. The events from the beginning to the present has been a treasure chest to look back on and a reference for what is truly problematic to all of us. Reaching every concern of my life, especially democratic issues, sports, my journal became more personally therapeutic with each and every post. These blogs reflect my humble understanding of our world and it's events. With as much gratitude and appreciation to my readers that can be imagined for finding the time to read and consider it's content , I offer my book from my blog

Ultimate Blogs Sarah Boxer,2008-02-12 "What are you working on?" "An anthology of blogs." "I didn't know you had a blog." "I don't. It's an anthology of other people's blogs." "How do you find good blogs?" "I read. I surf. I look at blog contests. I follow links. I ask people about the blogs they like." "Is a good blog hard to find?" "Yes. Very." A Book of Blogs? WTF!! Sarah Boxer, a former New York Times reporter and critic, travels through the blogosphere (more than 80 million blogs — and counting) and finds some masterpieces along the way. Among the bloggers in the anthology are: two fashion critics mocking the inexplicable "fugliness" of celebrities a Marine Corps lieutenant stationed in Fallujah in 2006 a 19-year old student in Singapore cheerfully pining for her ex an illustrator's tiny saga of a rodent and his ball of crap Odysseus's sidekick telling his side of the Iliad and Odyssey Revealing and deceptive, grand and niggling, worldly and parochial, these blogs comprise a snapshot of life on the wild, wild Web.

along the way, such as the elements of good Weblog design and how to find free hosting.

365 Blog Topic Ideas Dana Fox,2014-11-26 It can be tough coming up with new blog topics every now and then. Do you ever just feel stuck? This book was designed to help dig you out of a blogging rut and inspire new ideas. Whether you're just getting started with your blog, or you're a seasoned blogger, 365 Blog Topic Ideas For The Lifestyle Blogger Who Has Nothing to Write About is the one book you should keep close by. Containing an entire year's worth of actual blog topics that can be adapted by a wide variety of lifestyle blogs, this easily formatted book will help you fall in love with writing all over again. FROM THE AUTHOR: 365 Blog Topic Ideas is a book I wrote to help you feel a little more inspired when you're feeling stuck for content. You literally get an entire year's worth of ideas that you can mix in with your own regular content whenever you feel the desire! My goal: to help you become unstuck and spark a little creativity. Being a lifestyle blogger could mean something different for many of us. Some of us blog about our home lives, some about cooking or beauty or fashion. I tried my best to make these topics appeal to a large group of different niches, and I think it's fairly easy to adapt them to your own blog demographic if you need to. I also included different types of topics to help your readers get to know you, and also increase the share quality of your posts, because I think that both are super important in building a following as well as traffic. From my research and experience, certain types of posts get more shares than others, so I've made sure to include handfuls of those in this book! You can jump into the book at any page, in no particular order, whether you're just getting started with your blog or not. You can use the topics as-is, or even get a little creative and add your own spin on them! Enjoy your blogging journey! Dana Fox

Blogothon Danny Schechter,2012-05-01 In just a decade, blogging changed from a fad to a phenomenon with an estimated 51 million participants, mostly creative citizens with something to say or express. Citizens who want to participate in media rather than be subjected to it. Blogothon is a selection of blogs and essays posted by raconteur par excellence, gadfly of the media, and News Dissector Danny Schechter in an award-winning daily blog that he began writing in 2000. In Blogothon Schechter demonstrates the importance of blogging as an alternative media in an age when mainstream media has come under increasing scrutiny for a lack of credibility, real news and social value. This compilation of Schechter's blog posts describes the financial crisis developed during the first decade of the 21st century, the influence of activists such as Martin Luther King and Jesse Jackson on Occupy Wall Street, the ascent of Al Jazeera, the expulsion of Helen Thomas and Keith Olbermann from mainstream media, and increased partisanship and polarization in U.S. politics. Blogothon is a fascinating read for followers of Schechter's blog, anyone interested in an authentic account of historic events still unfolding, and aspiring bloggers. A graduate of Cornell University and the London School of Economics, DANNY SCHECHTER is a writer, television producer, and independent filmmaker who also speaks about media and financial issues. He is the editor of Mediachannel1.org, the global media issues site, and blogs daily as the News Dissector at NewsDissector.net. Schechter is the author of fourteen books and has produced and directed more than thirty documentaries and television specials. His blog was named the 2009 Blog of the Year by the Hunter College Media Department of the City University of New York.

Understand Blog Content Writing Aysegul Balkose,2021-05-17 Story... It is about a story, the plot, and its characters. You, blog writers, are storytellers. Here is the twist, you are also one of the main characters. The blog has an angle for the plot and its perception of the world around it. Blog, as an entity, has an identity, the way of thinking and acting. It has ideas of its own. It is a great help to define these for the blog and yourself as the writer before you start chucking in your best ideas and publishing them. Blogs want to be found on Google. For this, their content should be countered on the Reader. Not everyone will use the same words to search. To search relevant content, they will use Semantic words. Your job is to write content which covers these Semantic search. The reason I am writing this book is because it would make me feel so happy if I can help people understand the core concepts of blog writing. This was a struggle for me when I started writing blogs. I believe that knowing a basic working structure gives people the opportunity to leap forward faster. By helping others to decode basic concepts, I know I am also helping myself as I embark on another journey of taking responsibility. My mission is to make people learn some life-changing concepts quicker regardless of where they find themselves in life.

Blogger's Route To A Saner World Gary Ross,2013-10-01 This book reveals how the author dealt with a life that, as far he was concerned, had been challenged spiritually and ethically. He left a successful and prestigious job in Oxford and subsequently walked for thirty two days across Spain in 2004. Blogs written from 2007 follow a life teaching abroad for eight years after 2005. But dates do not figure so much in the memories of stories which are primarily autobiographical and happened at any time in the past. For example, The Incredible Story of Nobby and The Frenchman took place in Spain in 2004, while on The Camino walk in Spain - some 850 miles - was written three years later in 2007. Biographies, also feature such as, Black Lamb and Grey Falcon a classic book written by Rebecca West. Yet even here there remains some autobiographical component since it is not just a book review but an account of travels in the region by the author. There are many stories which explore thoughts on events either from the past or present. For example, The Moon landing looks back at an old story and how it is sometimes viewed today. Alternatively, a Cultural tsunami was written at the time of the Arab Spring and explores the impact this had on being a teacher in Oman at that time. Likewise, Schools out in Oman. Other stories, however, are told direct from the classroom such as, Boys played loudly. Opinions also feature in blogs written recently and usually have a political context such as Economical with the truth. The reader is, of course, free to agree or disagree, as they may with ideas formulated in The origin of ideas - and other blogs related to this theme - which explore Darwin's ideas and Darwinism and the impact of this thinking on society and culture today. The author hopes the reader will experience an informative, engaging and original blog autobiography that is often perceptive and entertaining.

The Lost Blogs Paul Davidson, 2009-11-29 Over 13,000,000 people are currently blogging with thousands being created each day. But what about the blogs you haven't seen, written by the iconic men and women you're dying to know the most intimate details about but who died before the internet was invented? This original take on the biggest literary development since the paperback offers 200 blogs inspired by the most famous minds in history, detailing their hysterical personal revelations, such as: John Lennon's thoughts after meeting Yoko Ono (and her obsession with the Beatles' publishing rights): Marilyn Monroe's annoyance at her new beau 'J', who breaks off their dates with excuses like having to avert a war in Costa Rica: Read Shakespeare on a treatment for a new play about two princes who misplace their horse and carriage and spend the entire play trying to find it or how a stray hot dog nearly derailed Ghandi's hunger strike: There's also the transcript of Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin's intensely competitive game of Rocks, Paper, Scissors, to decide who would be the first man to set foot on the moon and much, much more. In this book Paul Davidson proves that matters, proving there's no such thing as too much information.
