The Calculation of Blood Alcohol Concentration D. South,1992

Setting Limits, Saving Lives ,1997 Impaired driving is the most frequently committed violent crime in America. Every 30 minutes, someone in this country dies in an alcohol-related crash. There are four key laws that have been proven effective in the fight against impaired driving: illegal per se, administrative license revocation, zero tolerance, and .08 BAC. This booklet describes the .08 BAC law, and makes the case for adopting it in every state. At .08 BAC, all drivers, even experienced ones, show impairment in driving ability.

Effects of Moderate Blood Alcohol Levels on Automobile Passing Behavior William O. Light,Charles G. Keiper,1971 Sixteen clinically normal individuals .drove in an optical driving simulator in both a non-alcohol and an alcohol condition. In both the 0 mg% (.00%) and the 90 mg% (.09%) blood alcohol level conditions, each subject was given 60 trials in which he was required to make and execute a decision to pass or to continue following a lead car. Times available to safely complete a pass and vehicle speeds were presented in a random manner. During the alcohol condition, subjects not only attempted and completed significantly more passes but also experienced more accidents. Results of this experiment suggest that the effects of moderate levels of blood alcohol must be examined not only as they affect perceptual motor skills, but also as they may more subtly affect risk-taking behavior and decision processes involved in operating a motor vehicle.

Validation of the Standardized Field Sobriety Test Battery at BACs Below 0.10 Percent Jack Stuster,1998 This study evaluated the accuracy of the standardized field sobriety test (SFST) battery to assist officers in making arrest decisions of SWI at blood alcohol concentrations (BACs) below 0.10 percent. NHTSA's SFST battery was validated at 0.10 percent BAC in 1981. The trend to reduce statutory DWI limits to 0.08 percent BAC prompted this research project.--Technical report documentaion page

Effects of Moderate Blood Alcohol Levels on Driver Alertness Charles G. Keyser,1972 In this study of the effects of moderate blood alcohol levels (65 mg.%= .065%) on driver alertness, clinically normal individuals drove in an optical driving simulator for uninterrupted periods of 2 hours. During the alcohol session, subjects exhibited significantly slower reaction times, and indicated additional deleterious effects of the alcohol upon performance capacity. Results of this study suggest that the effects of moderate levels of blood alcohol must be examined not only as they affect simple perceptual-motor skills, but also as they may more subtly affect time-sharing capabilities and the various complex decision-reaction processes involved in operating a motor vehicle.

Blood Alcohol, Breath Alcohol, Impairment and the Law Alfred W. O'Daire,2009-03-19 This is a text that explains the science behind DUI detection, and the Scientific basis behind field sobriety testing, how it should be used, and the good, the bad, and the ugly about Evidential Breath testing and its application in determining blood alcohol levels. It is not appropriate to simply accept the Evidential Breath test as cut and dry evidence of impairment in any criminal legal case. Any conviction should be based on a totality of evidence and not based on any one part of the entire process. This concise text includes the necessary information to understand all aspects of determination of impairment. Alcohol affects more people than any other drug in society today. The information provided in this text puts everything needed to make informed, appropriate decisions about drinking in one place. There is no longer the need to search out individual topics related to alcohol use--all the information you may need is at your fingertips with this one single volume.
