Hacking Connected Cars Alissa Knight,2020-03-17 A field manual on contextualizing cyber threats, vulnerabilities, and risks to connected cars through penetration testing and risk assessment Hacking Connected Cars deconstructs the tactics, techniques, and procedures (TTPs) used to hack into connected cars and autonomous vehicles to help you identify and mitigate vulnerabilities affecting cyber-physical vehicles. Written by a veteran of risk management and penetration testing of IoT devices and connected cars, this book provides a detailed account of how to perform penetration testing, threat modeling, and risk assessments of telematics control units and infotainment systems. This book demonstrates how vulnerabilities in wireless networking, Bluetooth, and GSM can be exploited to affect confidentiality, integrity, and availability of connected cars. Passenger vehicles have experienced a massive increase in connectivity over the past five years, and the trend will only continue to grow with the expansion of The Internet of Things and increasing consumer demand for always-on connectivity. Manufacturers and OEMs need the ability to push updates without requiring service visits, but this leaves the vehicle's systems open to attack. This book examines the issues in depth, providing cutting-edge preventative tactics that security practitioners, researchers, and vendors can use to keep connected cars safe without sacrificing connectivity. Perform penetration testing of infotainment systems and telematics control units through a step-by-step methodical guide Analyze risk levels surrounding vulnerabilities and threats that impact confidentiality, integrity, and availability Conduct penetration testing using the same tactics, techniques, and procedures used by hackers From relatively small features such as automatic parallel parking, to completely autonomous self-driving cars—all connected systems are vulnerable to attack. As connectivity becomes a way of life, the need for security expertise for in-vehicle systems is becoming increasingly urgent. Bluetooth Communication with Arduino Sheikh Muhammad Ibraheem, 2022-02-06 Bluetooth is one of the most commonly used wireless communication network and one of the best suitable for digital communication due to its accessibility and low cost. The key idea in this project is to encode and decode a message signal in Bluetooth technology. For this purpose, a simple RC or Bluetooth car model is designed to understand and implement this technology. A simple Bluetooth transmitter (phone or mobile device) is used to transmit the message signal. This message signal will be received by the Bluetooth receiver (HC-05 Bluetooth receiver). The output pin of the HC-05 will send an encoded signal to the microcontroller (Arduino), here this signal will be decoded and processed through programming. After being processed, microcontroller will generate a signal that will be feed to the motor driver (L298N). This motor driver will drive the four motors according to the signal generated by the microcontroller. In this whole process the mobile device is used as transmitter and HC05 is a receiver, Arduino is the controller of the entire processing and L298 will drive the motors according to the transmitted signal.
