Dune Messiah Frank Herbert,2002 Dune messiah: A holy war fought in space and on a thousand planets had made Paul Atreides the religious and political leader of the galaxy. The product of generations of controlled breeding, trained in the arcane disciplines by the Bene Gesserit sisterhood, he had more than human powers, including the ability to sense the shape of the future. Then the Bene Gesserit, unable to dominate the man they had made a god, set out to overthrow him. But Paul Atreides could foresee their plans and shape them to an unexpected and shocking goal...--Dust jacket.

Warhol-isms Andy Warhol,2022-05-10 A unique collection of brilliant quotations from the legendary Pop artist One of the most influential artists of his time and ours, Andy Warhol is nearly as renowned for what he said as for what he did. Indeed, he is so quotable that things he never said are endlessly and plausibly attributed to him, including, fittingly, the most celebrated fake Warhol saying—"In the future, everyone will be world-famous for 15 minutes." Warhol-isms separates legend from fact to present a unique and comprehensive collection of authentic quotations from the Pop artist. Gathered from interviews and other primary sources, these deadpan, droll, ironic, and sincere gems—in which a superficial embrace of superficiality often disguises provocative, unconventional ideas—provide compelling insights into the life and work of an artist who has left an indelible mark on art and popular culture. Select quotations from the book: I think an artist is anybody who does something well.I went to [a psychiatrist] once, and he never called me back.They always say that time changes things, but you actually have to change them yourself.I've never met a person I couldn't call a beauty.New things are always better than old things.I'm still a commercial artist. I was always a commercial artist.

Women Are Roses Lanette L Kincaide,2019-05-19 Many intelligent and talented women suffer in silence, they shut themselves in and close the door to never reopen them and sadly they do not allow any good or bad in their lives. This is what most women have done with their sufferings. One of the vital reasons that women suffer is because women find it difficult to cope up with the societal norms as no one believes in their story. In Women Are Roses Series One, this book shares ten unique stories of real women who have broken all the barriers and took command of their lives, came out of their miseries and tuned their downfalls into glories. Some of the women are survivors of domestic violence, sexual abuse, breast cancer, mental illness, caregivers and authors. The different views and perspective coming from different women with strong stories and background make the book an engaging and intriguing read. The flawless narration and the personal experience in each story enhance the value of this book. This book was shaped by women all over the world. About the authors: The best part of the book is how it unites different authors irrespective of their country, religion, and culture. This book signifies the essence of true womanhood. A masterpiece by ten authors combining like rose petals and forming a complete flower. A complete rose that is already to bloom and spread its fragrance to inspire everyone who reads this book. The core message of the book lies in the vision of the founder of Women With Gifts International, Mrs. Lanette Kincaide, who has a mission to change the world one woman at a time. This book, Women Are Roses is a book that created a platform for women to collaborate from form different corners of the world, telling their stories, inspiring each other and making their own space in this world. In a world where women are sometimes are seen as dirt. The authors of this book have taken the dirt that the world has given them and planted seeds, and the seeds have then turned into flowers beautiful flowers. Beautiful roses. Regardless of everything we endure in our lives, we bloom, we flourish and we inspire others around us to do the same. -Priyanka Nair from India

Immersion and Distance. Werner Wolf, Walter Bernhart, Andreas Mahler, 2013 Readers who appear to be lost in a storyworld, members of theatre or cinema audiences who are moved to tears while watching a performance, beholders of paintings who are absorbed by the representations in front of them, players of computer games entranced by the fictional worlds in which they interactively participate – all of these mental states of imaginative immersion are variants of 'aesthetic illusion', as long as the recipients, although thus immersed, are still residually aware that they are experiencing not real life but life-like representations created by artefacts. Aesthetic illusion is one of the most forceful effects of reception processes in representational media and thus constitutes a powerful allurements to expose ourselves, again and again to, e.g., printed stories, pictures and films, be they factual or fictional. In contrast to traditional discussions of this phenomenon, which tend to focus on one medium or genre from one discipline only, the present volume explores aesthetic illusion, as well as its reverse side, the breaking of illusion, from a highly innovative multidisciplinary and transmedial perspective. The essays assembled stem from disciplines that range from literary theory to art history and include contributions on drama, lyric poetry, the visual arts, photography, architecture, instrumental music and computer games, as well as reflections on the cognitive foundations of aesthetic illusion from an evolutionary perspective. The contributions to individual media and aspects of aesthetic illusion are prefaced by a detailed theoretical introduction. Owing to its transmedial and multidisciplinary scope, the volume will be relevant to students and scholars from a wide variety of fields: cultural history at large, intermediality and media studies, as well as, more particularly, literary studies, music, film, and art history.

The Future of Ritual Richard Schechner, 2003-09-02 In The Future of Ritual, Richard Schechner explores the nature of ritualised behaviour and its relationship to performance and politics. An exciting new work by the author of Performance Theory.

Fujimori's Peru Catherine M. Conaghan, Alberto Fujimori ascended to the presidency of Peru in 1990, boldly promising to remake the country. Ten years later, he hastily sent his resignation from exile in Japan, leaving behind a trail of lies, deceit, and corruption. While piecing together the shards of Fujimori's presidency, prosecutors uncovered a vast criminal conspiracy fueled by political ambition and personal greed. The Fujimori regime managed to maintain a facade of democracy while systematically eviscerating democratic institutions and the rule of law through legal subterfuge, intimidation, and outright bribery. The architect of this strategy was Fujimori's notorious intelligence advisor, Vladimiro Montesinos. With great skill, Fujimori and Montesinos created the appearance of a democratic public sphere but ensured it would work only to suit their personal motives. The press was allowed to operate, but information exchange was under strict control. The more government officials tampered with the free flow of ideas, the more they inadvertently exposed the ills they were trying to cover up. And that proved to be their downfall. Merging penetrating analysis and a journalist's flair for narrative, Catherine Conaghan reveals the thin line between democracy and dictatorship, and shows how public institutions can both empower dictators and bring them down.
