Quality Calendar Style Daily Behavioral Report Card Planner. Daily Behavioral Report Cards are often used by parents and teachers of kids with ADHD or similar issues. They are used as a tool to help hold the child accountable for their actions as well as keeping the parents more informed so appropriate treatment can be implemented in a timely manner. No need to worry about finding out about situations weeks after they happened. Calendar Starts in August 2019 and goes till May 2020. This planner contains a week on each page with an area for teachers to show how the day went by circling a smiley face, blah face or frown face. There is also room for additional notes each day if needed. This book is perfect for the child to carry in their backpack every day to give to the teacher and take home to mom and dad to read over and sign each day. No single sheets to lose in a bookbag. No photocopying. You will also end up with a whole school year record all in one place where you can easily see if progress is being made by just flipping through the book. A great reference to take with you to doctor appointments to show progress as well. This system makes it easy for everyone! This Behavioral Report would be best in a situation where the child has only one teacher throughout the day.

Probably best for grades Kindergarten through Fifth grade. Check Twigs Greenpage on Amazon for a more detailed version for older kids or where the child switches teachers for subjects.
