The Distance Formula Jacqueline Young,2016
The Distance Formula is a collection of miniature poems that explore processes of withdrawal and isolation. However, rather than seek to escape these spaces, the speaker chooses to remain in them—a happy choice—as solitude becomes preferred. The poems in this thesis were most heavily influenced by the work of Lorine Niedecker, William Carlos Williams, Robert Creeley, George Oppen, Francis Ponge, Jack Spicer, Kay Ryan, Joseph Massey, and Jean Valentine.
