Management Enabling the Future Internet for Changing Business and New Computing Services Choong Seon Hong,Toshio Tonouchi,Yan Ma,Chi-Shih Chao,2009-09-19 We are delighted to present the proceedings of the 12th Asia-Pacific Network Operations and Management Symposium (APNOMS 2009), which was held in Jeju, Korea, during September 23-25, 2009. Recently, various convergences in wired and wireless networks, and convergence of telecommunications and broadcastings, are taking place for ubiquitous multimedia service provisioning. For example, broadband IP/MPLS wired networks are actively converged with IEEE 802.11e wireless LAN, IEEE 802.16 Wireless MAN, 3G/4G wireless cellular networks, and direct multimedia broadcast (DMB) networks. For efficient support of service provisioning for ubiquitous multimedia services on the broadband convergence networks, well-designed and implemented network operations and management functions with QoS-guaranteed traffic engineering are essential. The converged network will open the way for a new world with emerging new businesses and computing services. The Organizing Committee (OC) selected "Management Enabling the Future Internet for Changing Business and New Computing Services" as the timely theme of APNOMS 2009. Contributions from academia, industry and research institutions met these challenges with 173 papers submissions, from which 41 high-quality papers (23.7% of the submissions) were selected for technical sessions as full papers, and 32 papers were selected as short papers. In addition, we had nine papers in innovation sessions for on-going research. Diverse topics were covered, including Traffic Trace Engineering, Configuration and Fault Management, Management of IP-Based Networks, Autonomous and Distributed Control, Sensor Network and P2P Management, Converged Networks and Traffic Engineering, SLA and QoS Management, Active and Security Management, Wireless and Mobile Network Management, and Security Management.

Applied Business Statistics Trevor Wegner, 2010
Empowering management students with statistical decision-making skills, this text instructs on how to become active participants where statistical findings are reported. Descriptions are provided of the vast role that statistics play in fields such as marketing, finance, human resources, production, and logistics. Rather than being a passive observer, this guide educates the meaning behind the numbers that allow those in business situations to be informed members of the decision-making process.

Haptic Interaction Shoichi Hasegawa, Masashi Konyo, Ki-Uk Kyung, Takuya Nojima, Hiroyuki Kajimoto, 2017-07-06 This book comprises the proceedings of the second International Conference, AsiaHaptics 2016, held in Kashiwanoha, Japan. The book treats the state of the art of the diverse haptics (touch)-related research, including scientific research of haptics perception and illusion, development of haptics devices, and applications to a wide variety of fields such as education, medicine, telecommunication, navigation, and entertainment. This work helps not only active haptic researchers, but also general readers to understand what is going on in this interdisciplinary area of science and technology.

Lagrange-type Functions in Constrained Non-Convex Optimization Alexander M. Rubinov, Xiao-qi Yang, 2013-11-27 Lagrange and penalty function methods provide a powerful approach, both as a theoretical tool and a computational vehicle, for the study of constrained optimization problems. However, for a nonconvex constrained optimization problem, the classical Lagrange primal-dual method may fail to find a minimum as a zero duality gap is not always guaranteed. A large penalty parameter is, in general, required for classical quadratic penalty functions in order that minima of penalty problems are a good approximation to those of the original constrained optimization problems. It is well-known that penalty functions with too large parameters cause an obstacle for numerical implementation. Thus the question arises how to generalize classical Lagrange and penalty functions, in order to obtain an appropriate scheme for reducing constrained optimization problems to unconstrained ones that will be suitable for sufficiently broad classes of optimization problems from both the theoretical and computational viewpoints. Some approaches for such a scheme are studied in this book. One of them is as follows: an unconstrained problem is constructed, where the objective function is a convolution of the objective and constraint functions of the original problem. While a linear convolution leads to a classical Lagrange function, different kinds of nonlinear convolutions lead to interesting generalizations. We shall call functions that appear as a convolution of the objective function and the constraint functions, Lagrange-type functions.

Ubiquitous Information Technologies and Applications Young-Sik Jeong, Young-Ho Park, Ching-Hsien (Robert) Hsu, James J. (Jong Hyuk) Park, 2013-11-19 The theme of CUTE is focused on the various aspects of ubiquitous computing for advances in ubiquitous computing and provides an opportunity for academic and industry professionals to discuss the latest issues and progress in the area of ubiquitous computing. Therefore this book will include the various theories and practical applications in ubiquitous computing
