ECEG2013- 13th European Conference on eGovernment

Walter Castelnovo, Elena Ferrari, 2013-06-13 These proceedings represent the work of authors at the 13th European Conference on e-Government (ECEG 2013). The Conference this year is hosted by the University of Insubria in Como, Italy. The Conference Chair is Professor Walter Castelnovo and the Programme Chair is Professor Elena Ferrari, both are from the Department of Theoretical and Applied Sciences at the University of Insubria. The opening keynote address is given by Dr Gianluca Misuraca from the European Commission, Joint Research Centre, Institute for Prospective Technological Studies, Seville, Spain and Gianluca is addressing the topic eGovernment: Past, Present & Future: A policy-research perspective for renewing governance in the digital age. The second day of the conference is opened by Dr Antonio Cordella from the London School of Economics, London, UK, who will talk about Public value creation: the new challenge for e-government policies. ECEG brings together, researchers, Government officials and practitioners in the area of e-Government from around the world. Participants are able to share their research findings and explore the latest developments and trends in the field which can then be disseminated to the wider community. With an initial submission of 153 abstracts, after the double blind, peer review process there are papers published in these Conference Proceedings from 40 countries including Australia, Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, Costa Rica, Croatia, Denmark, Egypt, Germany, Greece, India, Iran, Iraq, Ireland, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malaysia, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Pakistan, Poland, Romania, Russia, Saudi Arabia, Serbia, Slovenia, South Africa, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Taiwan, Thailand, Turkey, UK and USA. This will ensure a very interesting two days.

Glacier National Park After Dark John Ashley, 2015-06-15

What is there to see in Glacier National Park after the sun goes down? As writer and photographer John Ashley reveals in his newest book, some of Glacier's most awe-inspiring sights are found high above the mountaintops. Readers will marvel at Ashley's spectacular color photographs of favorite Glacier landmarks such as Chief Mountain and St. Mary Lake lit by the Milky Way, northern lights, and a universe of wonders. These images complement Ashley's text, which includes clear explanations of astronomical phenomena, traditional Blackfoot stories, Glacier National Park geology and history, and entertaining tales of his own run-ins with curious critters and park rangers. Ashley rallies readers to combat light pollution, a problem that has begun to erode the ancient beauty of one of the last truly dark places in the country.

Group Work With Populations at Risk Geoffrey L.

Greif, Paul H. Ephross, 2011 Group Work With Populations at Risk, Third Edition is a fundamental resource for practitioners in health and mental health settings and a comprehensive guidebook of group work skills. Geared toward students and professionals gaining a beginning understanding of groups, this volume describes how to work with vulnerable populations that include returning war veterans, Latino and Latina immigrants, women and men who were abused as children, children of divorce, and people struggling with substance abuse, AIDS, cancer, or chronic mental illness. Each chapter describes the population and reviews the relevant literature, identifies themes and practice principles, presents a case illustration, provides evaluation guidance, and refers readers to key references and web resources. Each one is designed to stand alone for easy reference, and overviews of skill building and evidence-based practice make this a timely, comprehensive resource for group leaders regardless of specialty.

The Politics of CANDU Exports Duane Bratt,2006-01-01 This book provides the most comprehensive history of the export of CANDU reactors to date. A pressurized heavy water natural-uranium power reactor designed and marketed by Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, the CANDU reactor has played a significant part in Canada's international trade. In this history, Duane Bratt examines every CANDU sale, as well as some important unsuccessful sales attempts, from 1956 to the present. He also outlines the impact that changes in the international political climate, such as the creation and strengthening of the international nuclear non-proliferation regime and the increasing importance of human rights and environmental protection, have had on CANDU exports over the last fifty years.

Climate Change Policies and Challenges in Indonesia Shinji

Kaneko,Masato Kawanishi,2016-03-30 This book demonstrates the challenges and opportunities of climate change actions in developing countries and primarily focuses on case studies in Indonesia, the world's fourth most populous country. The most important feature of the book is its examination of multiple facets of climate change issues in Indonesia, which allows readers to understand the complexity of climate change in developing countries: the synergies and trade-offs between different climate change actions as well as between climate and development priorities. Another unique feature is that it was jointly written by Indonesian and international authors, as well as by academics and development practitioners. This book addresses questions concerning mitigation measures in major sectors with original analyses of aspects including energy subsidies, sectoral energy efficiencies in manufacturing sectors, forest concessions, energy-saving labeling schemes, policy mixes for the urban transportation sector, and the introduction of waste-to-energy technologies. The book provides first-hand knowledge and data on energy and the institutional realities in Indonesia, which are not widely and readily available to an international audience. It offers a valuable reference guide for professionals working for governments and NGOs and donor agencies in the fields of climate change and development in developing countries. This work is also a valuable resource for undergraduate and graduate students of economics and environmental and development studies, in particular those who are interested in the synergies and conflicts between climate change and development.

Space in Our Hands David W.

Brown,2024-02-21T00:00:00+01:00 We live in the Golden Age of space exploration. Humanity's achievements include the continued operation of the International Space Station, rapid advancements in reusable rockets, and soon, a return to the Moon. Within our lifetime, we might have human outposts on the lunar surface and flags flying on the plains of Mars. These strides are not just about reaching new frontiers. They have profound implications for life on Earth. The data from climate satellites overhead, innovative materials and recycling systems designed for space habitats, and emerging spacebased energy solutions are essential to addressing Earth's conservation challenges. Space enables the understanding of Earth as much as Earth enables the exploration of space. This bright tomorrow is not assured, however. Space junk, international conflicts and fiscal calamities loom as threats to all that might be accomplished. For the human adventure to continue beyond the Earth's atmosphere, the time is now to reconsider the nature of sustainability. Space in Our Hands is a comprehensive exploration of critical and sometimes challenging aspects of our space endeavours, including: the evolution of energy technologies, the feasibility of permanent lunar settlements, the potential for extraterrestrial mining, and the challenges posed by space debris, all within the context of current legal frameworks and international agreements. Leading experts in each field offer insights on the deep connection between Earth and space, underscoring that sustainability — whether on our planet or in the cosmos — is integral to success and vital to our future.

THE BACKYARD HOMESTEADER BIBLE Toby Halts,2023-10-23 In the heart of suburban landscapes, a quiet revolution is taking root. The Backyard Homesteader Bible stands as a guiding light for those who seek to transform their small parcels of land into thriving, self-sustaining havens of abundance. The cover, adorned with a captivating montage of vibrant produce, contented livestock, and industrious hands, exudes an air of rustic vitality and promise. It beckons readers to embark on a transformative journey, one that promises to unlock the secrets behind harnessing the full potential of every square foot of land. As the pages unfold, they unveil a rich tapestry of knowledge, meticulously organized to guide both the aspiring homesteader and seasoned agriculturalist. Each chapter serves as a cornerstone, addressing crucial elements such as organic gardening, animal husbandry, and sustainable living practices. The prose is a harmonious blend of practicality and passion, offering insights with a warm yet authoritative tone. It recognizes that homesteading is a labor of love, marked by dedication, patience, and the profound connection between humans and the land. The author's voice resonates like that of a trusted mentor, sharing age-old wisdom while acknowledging the unique challenges and aspirations of each homesteader. Lush illustrations and photographs punctuate the text, capturing the beauty of blooming gardens, bustling chicken coops, and thriving orchards. These visual aids provide readers with tangible inspiration and practical demonstrations of homesteading practices. From companion planting techniques to natural pest control methods, no facet of homesteading is left unaddressed. The book empowers readers to cultivate a self-reliant lifestyle that resonates with the rhythm of nature and supports the well-being of both the land and its stewards. Beyond the practical, the book delves into the ethos and spirit of homesteading. It speaks of the gratification that arises from producing one's own food, of the profound sense of purpose that comes from living in harmony with the land. It recognizes that, in embracing the homesteader's journey, individuals not only cultivate sustenance, but also nurture a deeper connection to the earth and its cycles. Sprinkled throughout are stories of homesteading triumphs and lessons learned, as well as insightful anecdotes from individuals who have embarked on their own path to self-sufficiency. These narratives serve as beacons of inspiration, reminding readers that the homesteading journey is one of continuous learning, resilience, and a deep respect for the natural world. The Backyard Homesteader Bible transcends its title, becoming a cherished companion in the shared odyssey of self-sufficiency and sustainability. It is a book that, once opened, becomes a well-worn, beloved guide, illuminating the path towards a future marked by abundance, connection, and a profound sense of purpose.

Climate Change 2013 - The Physical Science Basis

Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, 2014-03-24 This latest Fifth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) will again form the standard scientific reference for all those concerned with climate change and its consequences, including students and researchers in environmental science, meteorology, climatology, biology, ecology and atmospheric chemistry. It provides invaluable material for decision makers and stakeholders: international, national, local; and in all branches: government, businesses, and NGOs. This volume provides:

- An authoritative and unbiased overview of the physical science basis of climate change
- A more extensive assessment of changes observed throughout the climate system than ever before
- New dedicated chapters on sea-level change, biogeochemical cycles, clouds and aerosols, and regional climate phenomena
- A more extensive coverage of model projections, both near-term and long-term climate projections
- A detailed assessment of climate change observations, modelling, and attribution for every continent
- A new comprehensive atlas of global and regional climate projections for 35 regions of the world
