Running Linux covers basic communications such as mail, web surfing, and instant messaging, but also delves into the subtleties of network configuration--including dial-up, ADSL, and cable modems--in case you need to set up your network manually. The book canmake you proficient on office suites and personal productivity applications--and also tells you what programming tools are available if you're interested in contributing to these applications. Other new topics in the fifth edition include encrypted email and filesystems, advanced shell techniques, and remote login applications. Classic discussions on booting, package management, kernel recompilation, and X configuration have also been updated. The authors of Running Linux have anticipated problem areas, selected stable and popular solutions, and provided clear instructions to ensure that you'll have a satisfying experience using Linux. The discussion is direct and complete enough to guide novice users, while still providing the additional information experienced users will need to progress in their mastery of Linux. This guide will take you through the editor and its features so you can create your own levels!The Level Editor is a feature of Geometry Dash. It allows the player to create their own levels which can be shared online with other people, with the ability to build levels and share them with other players through an organized online system.A level can only be verified if it is completed in normal mode, with all user coins being collected if included, and that the level does not contain a Start Position.Step 1: This is the easiest step; Go to the home screen and click on the button on the right called Level Editor and then click Create:Step 2: Once this screen pops up, give your level a name and a description (description is optional). Click the button that has the hammer and the wrench. This will bring you to the actual Level Editor where you can work on your level. Click the play button to play your level. And click the upload button to upload your level (do this once it is verified). More about the word verified later. At the bottom of the picture shows the info of your level; how long it is; what the music is; and if it is verified or not. Every level has gameplay, but not all of it is enjoyable. You're gonna need some good gameplay to get a featured level. But there is more to a good level than just gameplay. In today's Geometry Dash, the decoration is a huge part of making a great level. What makes a good design? As you probably know already, there are many, many blocks to choose from and it can be quite overwhelming at first. You also have to take into account which colors you are going to use, whether the decoration will fit the song or not, and so forth. So take a look at this book to make a wonderful level!

Bubble Jordan Morris, Sarah Morgan, 2021-07-13 Based on the smash-hit audio serial, Bubble is a hilarious high-energy graphic novel with a satirical take on the “gig economy.” Built and maintained by corporate benevolence, the city of Fairhaven is a literal bubble of safety and order (and amazing coffee) in the midst of the Brush, a harsh alien wilderness ruled by monstrous Imps and rogue bands of humans. Humans like Morgan, who’s Brush-born and Bubble-raised and fully capable of fending off an Imp attack during her morning jog. She’s got a great routine going—she has a chill day job, she recreationally kills the occasional Imp, then she takes that Imp home for her roommate and BFF, Annie, to transform into drugs as a side hustle. But cracks appear in her tidy life when one of those Imps nearly murders a delivery guy in her apartment, accidentally transforming him into a Brush-powered mutant in the process. And when Morgan’s company launches Huntr, a gig economy app for Imp extermination, she finds herself press-ganged into kicking her stabby side job up to the next level as she battles a parade of monsters and monstrously Brush-turned citizens, from a living hipster beard to a book club hive mind.
