La universidad de mi vida J. Enrique Ríos, 2020-05-27 Se termina de leer este libro La Universidad de mi Vida, agotado, emocionado, admirado, lleno de una serie de sensaciones extraordinarias. Porque ese empirismo que relata Jota se convierte en una tesis laureada en la universidad de la vida y en cualquier parte del mundo. La espeluznante descripción de su hijo Jorge sobre su pasión, muerte y resurrección es de una precisión de relojero, de un apóstol de la vida, de quien lleva la vena periodística absoluta y de quien ama a los suyos con amor total. Ahí está la nueva vida que El Creador le entregó a Jota para que siga siendo ese titán siempre exitoso, porque el éxito tiene que llegar, necesariamente, a quien decide vivir para servir y servir para vivir. Ya su tenacidad fue relatada en el primer volumen en su Vida conquistada. Ahora, Jota Resucitado se adentra en el reino afortunado de los rotarios, entidad que le levanta el alma y lo reafirma en sus valores de servicio y más servicio. Es precisamente con esos rotarios con los que llega, lleno de ilusiones, a su Convención Mundial de Sídney, Australia, donde se encuentra frente a frente con la muerte, pero al mismo tiempo regresa lleno de energías y sabiduría a la vida. Por eso, tras leer a Jota, tenemos que pregonar a los cuatro vientos que debemos ser mensajeros sin tregua de las numerosas enseñanzas que transmite este libro de valores: las historias contadas aquí, como lo destaca el autor, son el testimonio que, como testamento, deja a sus hijos, a sus nietos y a sus amigos que se preguntan cómo un empírico logró sobresalir, romper paradigmas y ofrecer su historia para animar a los que creen que no son capaces de triunfar.

Public-Private Partnership Monitor Asian Development Bank, 2021-07-01 The Government of Pakistan strongly supports public-private partnership (PPP) initiatives. From 1990 to 2019, Pakistan witnessed 108 financially closed PPP projects, with a total investment of approximately $28.4 billion. About 88% of these projects are in the energy sector, attracting more than $24.7 billion, followed by investments in the port sector. In early 2021, Parliament approved the amendments to the 2017 PPP Law, enacting the Public Private Partnership Authority (Amendment) Act 2021. This further strengthens the enabling legal and regulatory framework for developing and implementing PPPs, thereby promoting private sector investment in public infrastructure and related services.

Doing Business in 2005 ,2005 Doing Business in 2005: Obstacles to Growth is the second in a series of annual reports investigating the scope and manner of regulations that enhance business activity and those that constrain it. New quantitative indicators on business regulations and their enforcement can be compared across more than 130 countries, and over time. The indicators are used to analyze economic outcomes and identify what reforms have worked, where and why. Topics in Doing Business in 2005 include: Licensing and Inspections: Having registered a business, now what? In most countries, firms face a myriad of sector specific licenses as well as inspections to enforce compliance. The Doing Business database constructs two sets of indicators on the regulation of operations. One measures the steps, time and costs of complying with licensing and permit requirements for ongoing. The other assesses the enforcement of regulations through two of the most common types of inspections-labor and tax. Registering Property: Property registries were first developed to help raise tax revenue. What was good for the tax authorities has since proven to be good for strengthening property rights-the registries strengthen incentives to invest, facilitate trade, and expand access to credit. New indicators cover the steps, time and cost to register property. Measures of the legal provisions that strengthen property rights and the efficiency of property registries are also developed. Protecting Investors: Corporate governance issues are often thought to affect only publicly listed companies in developed countries. In fact, corporate governance is relevant for every large privately held company that has more than one owner. New indicators examine several possible types of shareholder expropriation, including related-party transactions, guarantees and loans to company managers and directors, mergers and acquisitions, disclosure of ownership information, and treatment of conflicts of interest. Including a new emphasis on gender, Doing Business not only provides insights into business constraints throughout the world but highlights particular barriers faced by women. Doing Business is a comprehensive resource that no investor, economic adviser, business developer, or economic policymaker should be without.

Hydrogen Technology Aline León,2008-07-18 Aline Leon´ In the last years, public attention was increasingly shifted by the media and world governments to the concepts of saving energy, reducing pollution, protecting the environment, and developing long-term energy supply solutions. In parallel, research funding relating to alternative fuels and energy carriers is increasing on both national and international levels. Why has future energy supply become such a matter of concern? The reasons are the problems created by the world's current energy supply system which is mainly based on fossil fuels. In fact, the energy stored in hydrocarbon-based solid, liquid, and gaseous fuels was, is, and will be widely consumed for internal combustion engine-based transportation, for electricity and heat generation in residential and industrial sectors, and for the production of fertilizers in agriculture, as it is convenient, abundant, and cheap. However, such a widespread use of fossil fuels by a constantly growing world population (from 2.3 billion in 1939 to 6.5 billion in 2006) gives rise to the two problems of oil supply and environmental degradation. The problem related to oil supply is caused by the fact that fossil fuels are not-renewable primary energy sources: This means that since the first barrel of petroleum has been pumped out from the ground, we have been exhausting a heritage given by nature.

The United Nations world water development report 2015: water for a sustainable world Connor, Richard, 2015-03-23 The United Nations World Water Assessment Programme (WWAP) is hosted and led by UNESCO. WWAP brings together the work of 31 UN-Water Members as well as 37 Partners to publish the United Nations World Water Development Report (WWDR) series. Under the theme Water for Sustainable Development, the WWDR 2015 has been prepared as a contribution from UN-Water to the discussions surrounding the post-2015 framework for global sustainable development. Highlighting water's unique and often complex role in achieving various sustainable development objectives, the WWDR 2015 is addressed to policy- and decision-makers inside and outside the water community, as well as to anyone with an interest in freshwater and its many life-giving benefits. The report sets an aspirational yet achievable vision for the future of water towards 2050 by describing how water supports healthy and prosperous human communities, maintains well functioning ecosystems and ecological services, and provides a cornerstone for short and long-term economic development. It provides an overview of the challenges, issues and trends in terms of water resources, their use and water-related services like water supply and sanitation. The report also offers, in a rigorous yet accessible manner, guidance about how to address these challenges and to seize the opportunities that sound water management provides in order to achieve and maintain economic, social and environmental sustainability.

The EU-Mexico Free Trade Agreement James R. Holbein, Nick W. Ranieri, 2002 The EU-Mexico Free Trade Agreement is the first volume in a series of monographs encompassing text and analysis of all multilateral and bilateral free trade agreements. All this adds up to the kind of information business and economic analysts need in order to make sound decisions both in the long and short terms. For example, The EU-Mexico Free Trade Agreement, containing the most detailed and practical comparison of NAFTA and the EU-Mexico Agreement available anywhere, offers a wealth of material and insight with which to build realistic answers to such critical questions as: -How is Mexico's preferential access to the EU markets for agricultural exports affected by US trade in produce, livestock and meat? - Has the EU-Mexico Agreement hurt the big three US auto manufacturers? - Has the mandated cooperation between Mexican and European standards-related agencies given rise to standards that conflict with NAFTA? Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint.
