Don Kirshner Rich Podolsky,2012-02-01 (Book). In 1958, long before he created and hosted Don Kirshner's Rock Concert , the most dynamic rock-and-roll series in television history, before he developed the Monkees and created the Archies, Don Kirshner was a 23-year-old kid with just a dream in his pocket. Five years later he was the prince of pop music. He did it by building Aldon Music, a song publishing firm, from scratch. This is about how he did it with teenage discoveries Bobby Darin, Carole King, Neil Sedaka, and more. By 1960, at the ripe old age of 25, Kirshner had built the most powerful publishing house in the business, leading Time magazine to call him the Man with the Golden Ear. In five short years he coaxed and guided his teenage prodigies to write more than 200 hits. And they weren't just hits, as it turned out, but standards including On Broadway, Will You Love Me Tomorrow, Up on the Roof, Breaking Up Is Hard to Do, I Love How You Love Me, Who Put the Bomp, and The Locomotion songs that have become the soundtrack of a generation. We weren't trying to write standards, said one songwriter. We were just trying to please Donnie.

The Golden Ear -What Am I?- Miki Kikkawa,2013-05-01 A graceful fantasy describing What is life? and What am I? On the surface of a beautiful mirror-like marsh, a bud was born in a mystical form. One day, she started to wonder what she was. The snowflake, the sun, the rice plant, the mountain, the star... The bud asked each of her surroundings what they thought she was. You are a traveler. You are something amazing, great, and precious. You are the existence embracing a vast universe inside you... While getting answers from each of them and talking to them, the bud grew little by little... Then, she came fully into bloom as The Flower which no one had ever seen before. This is an excellent story to help you to realize what you are and who you are as well as for you to explore and reconsider the world of lives connecting and resonating with each other.

The Golden Ear 2 Miki Kikkawa,2014-03-15 On a beautiful marsh, still as a mirror, there bloomed an ear-shaped flower. The Flower becomes deeply troubled to hear frogs laughing about her curious appearance. Then the Flower learns of other creatures' hardships, and begins to wonder why they all experience such sadness and suffering. The Flower inquires others that surround her, Why? Why do sadness and suffering exist for all beings? The hints the Flower receives--from The Snowflake, the Full Moon, the Seahorse, the Flower Queen, the Oak Tree--all give significance to her revelation. What would it be? This is a story that sheds light, through the wisdom of all beings on sadness and suffering, onto life and benevolence of all beings. (Though this book is a sequel, it can be fully enjoyed by itself.)

The Golden Ear Austin Olsen, 2018-08-06 This novel has elements of a modern Western, historical fiction, and a family saga, and many moments of action, romance, heroism, and machismo. It is fiction, but its starting point is based on the reported kidnapping of an American Consul in Puebla, Mexico, in 1920 during the turbulent times of the Mexican Revolution. A ransom was paid. Shortly thereafter the consul resigned his post, bought a sugar mill, and later he started the nation's largest bank and controlled the movie industry. His name was William Jenkins. The character of Willard Riley is loosely based on the kidnapping incident. The novel features the young fighter pilot, Tell Cooper, who flew with the Lafayette Escadrille in France in World War I; his newfound friend, Willard Riley, the amoral consul; his first love, the exotic Toña; the loathsome Jorge Rubio whom he calls Toad; the charismatic Johnny Ávalos, who might have been president of Mexico had it not been for one perceived flaw in his character; and Helen Anderson, the newspaperwoman who would marry Cooper and write a history of the Riley empire. Her manuscript was titled Riley's Golden Ear. The Golden Ear takes place mostly in Mexico, but there are parts that concern Cooper's son flying Spitfires in the Battle of Britain during World War II, as well as the exploits of Toña's son, a U.S. naval carrier-based fighter pilot in the same war. The fighter pilot fabric in the novel is authentic: At the tender age of 20, the author shot down five Japanese aircraft just before the end of the war. Austin Olsen (1924-2007) had two other novels published: Corcho Bliss, Simon and Schuster, 1972, and Apache Ambush, Kensington, 2000.

The Storyteller Raymond Christian, 2013-02 The train appears a little dark in color and mysterious. Its boxcars have titles like spray-painted graffiti on its walls, with their doors half open with a dark, mysterious interior. As you are now stuck in traffic and look into one of the slightly open doors of one of the boxcar's dark portions, a familiar face emerges from the shadows. Unfamiliar sights and sounds begin to occur around you. The train continues to very slowly move forward. From another boxcar, you hear a prophetic voice calling your name from the darkness. You look, but no one is there. Like a slow-moving train, author Raymond Christian presents a number of stories to his readers. Each story passes on the tracks and allows the reader a peek inside the car. In each car lies wisdom and truth. Readers can use this book a resource for Bible studies, small groups, and even simply as entertainment. Read Raymond Christian's The Storyteller for a deeper look into your faith and the power of the story.

Empty Action Marina Gerber, 2018-11-30 Collective Actions is one of the most significant artistic practices to emerge from Moscow Conceptualism. The group's enigmatic idea of 'Empty action' is the focal point for Marina Gerber's exploration of this practice in relation to labour in the late Soviet Union. Based on interviews with members of the group (Monastyrski, Panitkov, Alexeev, Makarevich, Elagina, Romashko, Hänsen and Kiesewalter) she exposes the relation between their jobs, their individual art practices and their contribution to the collective in the context of post-Stalinist debates on labour and free time. Departing from the mundane fact that Collective Actions' practice took place in free time from work for the Soviet State, Gerber identifies Empty action as a form of 'art after work'.

I'm Not Devil King's Wet Nurse! Pa QiangDeXingHong,2020-05-22 Can't I be wrong? In the beginning, I was the one who made you stupid. Although the way I transmigrated was wrong, I was responsible. But why are you still holding on to me? You've already recovered from your stupidity and turned from a fool to a world-shaking Demon Emperor! I'm not a wet nurse! Xuan. With a domineering expression, Feng Wuqing dragged the person onto the bed. Ling Xuan's hand was tightly clutching the floor, leaving behind ten parallel lines. Damn! Let go of your father! I'm not your wet nurse! And I am straight! A new pit had been opened. It was a clear sign of elation. My own mother has a strong character, definitely HE!
