What's Growing in Grandma's Garden Susan Soares,2019-07-29 A grandmother and her grandson share a love for gardening. They explore different plants including fruits, vegetables, and medicinal herbs. They also examine the bugs that come with gardening life including both good and bad bugs. One of grandma's favorite plants is cannabis. She uses the plant both for healing and for relaxation. She teaches the grandson about the reasons why some things are just for grownups. Children are smarter than we give them credit for (I know my grandchildren are!) and this book is a way for them to just say know when it comes to cannabis.Now that cannabis is legal in a majority of US States and opening up worldwide, it's time to start talking to our children about cannabis. Children are smarter than we give them credit for. That is the largest failure of D.A.R.E. when they used the motto Just Say NO! when they should have said, Just Say KNOW!. Don't hide your consumption from your children. It's time to have a conversation with your children about cannabis and this book is a perfect way to talk about it!

It’s springtime, and a young girl points to what’s outside the kitchen window, wondering about Grandma’s special spot. It’s a garden filled with vegetables, flowers, fruits, and more! Grandma takes the little girl outside and shows her how she can help make all the plants grow. From pulling weeds to planting seeds and watering plants to keeping the bugs away, Grandma and granddaughter work together till harvest time. Grandma's Garden Ivet Graham-Morgan,2009 Grandma's Garden encourages children to appreciate nature in a very meaningful and enjoyable fashion. The main character, a boy called Shane, goes to visit his grandmother's home. Shane's grandmother has a beautiful garden that fascinates him. Shane decides to walk around the garden as he often does when visiting his grandmother. As Shane walks around the garden on this day he notes the absence of the birds, the butterflies, and the bees. Shane is still hopeful that he might find other garden visitors because his grandmother had said that there are always visitors in her garden. Shane continues his walk through the garden and it's not long before he finds a frog nestled among the mulch in the garden. Shane is excited; he admires the frog but leaves it undisturbed. Once Shane finds the frog he starts thinking of other secrets that grandma's garden might be concealing and he starts anticipating his next visit to grandma's garden.
