

Heaven Poetry

The Ocean Poet

Heaven Rowan Ricardo Phillips, 2015-06-16 Swerving ... from humor to heartbreak, from Colorado to Florida, from Dante's Paradise to Homer's Illiad, from knowledge to ignorance to awe, Phillips turns his gaze upward and outward, probing and upending notions of the beyond-- Against Heaven Kemi Alabi, 2022-04-05 Winner of the Academy of American Poets First Book Award, selected by Claudia Rankine. Kemi Alabi's transcendent debut reimagines the poetic and cultural traditions from which it is born, troubling the waters of some of our country's central and ordained fictions—those mythic politics of respectability, resilience, and redemption. Instead of turning to a salvation that has been forced upon them, Alabi turns to the body and the earth as sites of paradise defined by the pleasure and possibility of Black, queer fugitivity. Through tender love poems, righteous prayers, and vital provocations, we see the colonizers we carry within ourselves being laid to rest. Against Heaven is a praise song made for the flames of a burning empire—a freedom dream that shapeshifts into boundless multiplicities for the wounds made in the name of White supremacy and its gods. Alabi has written an astonishing collection of magnificent range, commanding the full spectrum of the Black, queer spirit's capacity for magic, love, and ferocity in service of healing—the highest power there is.

Heaven's Poetry Derek Jacobs, 2017-08-03 Inside the gifted pages of written words: From Pain to Promise, you will be blessed on a journey, as author

Derek Jacobs reveals his thoughts from the Word of God. Heaven's Poetry is releasing the infallible word of God, it never changes, loses its power or fades away. You will enjoy as you step into the word of God and it will bring to the forefront scripture which helped to keep you grounded during a season of pruning. The word of God is united with poetic words to bring about a powerful compelling connection in the spirit.

The Blues of Heaven Barbara Ras, 2021-03-09 In The Blues of Heaven, Barbara Ras delivers her characteristic subjects with new daring that both rattles and beguiles. Here are poems of grief over her brother's death; doors to an idiosyncratic working-class childhood among Polish immigrants; laments for nature and politics out of kilter. Ras portrays the climate crisis, guns out of control, the reckless injustice and ignorance of the United States government. At the same time, her poems nimbly focus on particulars—these facts, these consequences—bringing the wreckage of unfathomable harm home with immediacy and integrity. Though her subjects may be dire, Ras also weaves her wise humor throughout, moving deftly from sardonic to whimsical to create an expansive, ardent, and memorable book.

The Language of Heaven Chris Jacobs, 2005-05 The Language of Heaven: Poetry of the Divine Volume 1 is the first of hopefully many volumes to come. I offer the reader divine inspiration and words, nothing more.

Poetry From Heaven The Ocean Poet, 2010-01-15 This book is about our thoughts of life and our thankfulness for our time on the earth. As we mature we realize what a huge part God plays in our life and is in ultimate control although the choices are ours. The end results of our choices remind us of our book of God's instructions, we are in need of, and all the wisdom therein.

Refusing Heaven Jack Gilbert, 2009-04-02 More than a decade after Jack Gilbert's The Great Fires, this highly anticipated new collection shows the continued development of a poet who has remained fierce in his avoidance of the beaten path. In Refusing Heaven, Gilbert writes compellingly about the commingled passion, loneliness, and sometimes surprising happiness of a life spent in luminous understanding of his own blessings and shortcomings: "The days and nights wasted . . . Long hot afternoons / watching ants while the cicadas railed / in the Chinese elm about the brevity of life." Time slows down in these poems, as Gilbert creates an aura of curiosity and wonder at the fact of existence itself. Despite powerful intermittent griefs—over the women he has parted from or the one lost to cancer (an experience he captures with intimate precision)—Gilbert's choice in this volume is to "refuse heaven." He prefers this life, with its struggle and alienation and delight, to any paradise. His work is both a rebellious assertion of the call to clarity and a profound affirmation of the world in all its aspects. It braces the reader in its humanity and heart.

Refusing Heaven Jack Gilbert, 2005 A new collection of poetry by the critically acclaimed author of Views of Jeopardy, Monolithos, and The Great Fires celebrates the joys and sorrows, wonders and struggles of everyday existence over the potential perfection of any paradise.

Messages from Heaven Rebecca Segovia, 2009-02-24 The writer never having an interest in reading or writing poetry suddenly after the loss of a nine month old grandchild Sarita to a tragic accident began hearing a beautiful subtle voice that would not stop until the voice was written. The writings were poems that delivered a message of love and compassion to humanity. The first messages heard were those of people who had died and the words were in first person as narrated by the heard voice. I began to wonder if my own death was imminent and I was to leave these messages to my children, when the fear subsided, Babies From Heaven started to be heard, these are babies coming from heaven and telling their parents of their arrival, then All of us in Between for mothers, fathers' sons' daughters, and all of humanity. Each poem was voiced in it's entirety with the urgency for the writer to put on paper. Every word is exactly as it was heard, the message is of love and compassion touching the hearts of all who read them. The name Messages From Heaven is what they truly are voiced by angels to ease the pain and grief of the writer. The poems since 1994 have been used to give to our hospice client's family, which they treasure. Recently a person asked me if I believed in God and when I answered yes, he asked me if I did not think that God had given me these poems to share with humanity, immediately I decided to have them published.

Heaven & Other Poems Jack Kerouac,1977 A selection of Jack Kerouac's poems, plus his statements on poetics and letters to an editor.

The Poetry of Heaven Noted Writer and Nobel Laureate Rabindranath Tagore,William Blake,Gerald Manley Hopkins,2015-12-01 It is often said that two things are unavoidable; Death and Taxes. Certainly the latter is a common thorn in adult life but as to the former it seems that for many people it is merely a hiccup in Life's eternal journey. A journey they wish, if being of good deed and character, to share at the eternity of Heaven's largesse, a reward for Faith and the obligations of Religion. Of course for those not so fortunate an altogether different experience was prepared for them; Hell. Its nightmare visions so terrifying conjured up by Dante and Milton. Here we have gathered together verse by such luminaries as William Blake, Gerald Manley Hopkins, John Milton, Ben Jonson, Rupert Brooke and of course many others to share their thoughts and vision.

The Language of Heaven: Poetry of the Divine Christopher Jacobs, Christopher Jacobs, Ph.D., E.E., 2008-02-01 Don't be afraid of the dark night for it shall pass into the abyss, and God will set it free. Love abound, darkness gone forever. Naught but in the mind of evil, but in the hearts of mankind's bliss.

Poetry from the Heavens Dr. Stephannie S. Huey, 2015-09-25 Stephannie Huey has awakened the poet within her to share a compilation of lyrical verse that explores a variety of relatable issues that offer a glimpse into her faithful walk through life as she faced challenges, embraced joy, loved with all her heart, and suffered through heartache, with help from God. Within her diverse poems, Huey reflects on the precious gifts of life: the spirit and soul, memories of days gone by, the bonds of sisterhood, the emotions that accompany loving another, and the undying faith that comes with accepting Jesus into the heart. Throughout her collection, Huey shares a variety of lyrical styles that showcase her talent for digging deep into her own experiences to touch the souls of others and encourage self-reflection. Poetry from the Heavens shares one woman's poetic journey through life as she learned to love completely, grow in her faith, and embrace every moment.

The Powers of Heaven and Earth John Frederick Nims, 2002-08-01 Among the papers of the late John Frederick Nims was a group of poems selected by the poet from his more than sixty-year career. The Powers of Heaven and Earth presents that choice verse—generous portions from the eight superbly varied and beautifully crafted collections Nims published between 1947 and 1990. In addition, this incomparably rich volume includes thirty new poems published during Nims's last decade. Rhythmically precise yet delightfully playful, Nims's work bestows on readers those qualities of mind and heart well known to colleagues, students, and friends—his wit, lightly carried erudition, and generosity of spirit. From first to last, there is no falling off. Nims's irrepressible joy in his work constantly illuminates the verse collected here, joining together a lifetime of keen observation with speculation on the nature of eternity.

Heaven My Blanket, Earth My Pillow Wanli Yang, 2004 Classic poems by a 12th century Sung Dynasty master.

Stairway to Heaven Alison Hawthorne Deming, 2016-09-27 A new collection from a poet who "writes with scrupulous and merciful passion about every kind of relatedness—family, place, politics, and wildlife" (W. S. Piero) In her fifth book of poems, Stairway to Heaven, Alison Hawthorne Deming explores dimensions of grief and renewal after losing her brother and mother. Grounded in her communion with nature and place, she finds even in Death Valley, that most stark of landscapes, a spirit of inventiveness that animates the ground we walk on. From the cave art of Chauvet to the futuristic habitat of Biosphere 2, that inventiveness becomes consolation for losses in family and nature, a means to build again a sense of self and world in the face of devastating loss.
