Home cooks will want the whole series, so they can create mouthwatering Italian favorites right in their own kitchens. Here are recipes for every course and occasion, to mix and match for delectable dining: sample the fresh basil and tomato pestos in Main Courses; try your hand at panzanella or sweet oranges tossed with fennel in recipes from Salads. Pasta features dishes with every shape and size of al dente deliciousness, and Breads is a whole North End Italian bakery case in a single volume. Discover mouthwatering Italian vegetarian dishes in Fresh Italian, or, at the other end of the spectrum, dig into Desserts for cookies, tortes, and to-die-for rich Italian sweets. Each recipe is developed and tested in the test kitchens of the Academia Barilla's own cooking Institute, and each easy-to-prepare dish is bursting with the rich, satisfying flavors of Italy.

I Love Pasta Academia Barilla,2013 Smooth or ribbed, long or short, pasta is a machine designed to capture the sauce, to hold it, to transport it in the proper quantity to the mouth, to define the flavor of the recipe. The ribbings increase the surface area, to extend the staying power of the sour or sweet notes of the various seasonings; the loops catch small fragments of flavor; the spirals withhold and amplify the density of sauces. Pasta was created as a carrier of sauces, and there are no limits to it in this marvelous vocation. And Italian gastronomic tradition, so widely varied in its regional and territorial products, offers an extraordinary wealth of combinations, worthy of being proposed a new for an international audience, to respond to the hasty and quotidian repetitiveness resulting in unchanging cuisine. Thus was born the idea for a new book on pasta, the fruit of Academia Barilla's gastronomic experience and of Barilla's centuries-old technological competencies, to promote 360° knowledge about pasta, giving value to the extraordinary variety of the formats produced today in Italy -- at least 300 -- combining them in simple and varied preparations, each one tested and experimented with by the chefs at Academia Barilla, along with text and suggestions for excellence in the final result. The volume, large in format and with a carefully-designed editorial program, is structured using the individual formats as the basis. It presents their technical and physical characteristics; reports origins of their names and brief historical annotations, rich with significance; suggests ideal combinations with sauces and seasonings; and proposes traditional recipes from Italian gastronomy, splendidly illustrated using images produced during the preparation. A different and original point of view for discovering how much originality -- and taste -- is hidden behind a plate of pasta

I Love Pasta Academia Barilla,2013 Pasta is the food that succeeds in reconciling different customs and cultures and in overcoming cultural and geographical borders, and this is owing to its versatility. A different and original point of view for discovering how much originality - and taste - is hidden behind a plate of pasta.

Pasta Academia Barilla,2011-09 Italian cuisine, highly esteemed, sought out and imitated around the world, derives its rich tradition from the variety and diversity of its products and styles of preparation. In a land divided into 20 regions, each with its own distinctive terrain, climate and history, it is perhaps not surprising that very different culinary traditions have developed between the north and the south of Italy. It is extremely diverse, yet with a common denominator: grain, flour and pasta. Academia Barilla, in its promotion of Italian Gastronomical Culture, cannot but dedicate this work to its principal national dish: pasta. The collection revisits familiar Italian territory with 222 pasta recipes: fresh, with egg, dried, stuffed, long, and short...from the Val d'Aosta to Sicily in the search for the best flavours and age old traditions. Conceived in this way, it is, though, always new. SELLING POINTS: * The most comprehensive and authentic past cookbook ever published * Can be marketed to food programs on tv radio, food magazines, culinary institutes, Italy-related societies and tourist outfits and authentic Italian restaurants * Compiled by the prestigious Academia Barilla, proprietors of the world-famous cooking school in Parma, which preserves and promotes the Italian gastronomic traditions (www.academiabarilla.it) AUTHOR: Academia Barilla launched in 2004 in Parma by the world's largest paster producer, is devoted to the preservation and promotion of the Italian gastronomic tradition through courses taught by renowned chefs, gastronomic tours, the hosting of meetings and culinary laboratories with noted specialists and the publication of books like these. 125 Million Gourmet Menus Academia Barilla, Academia Barilla Staff, 2013-10-15 This volume is not an ordinary recipe book, but rather a veritable gold mine of ideas for inventing menus that are always new, playing on an incredible number of combinations. The practical spiral binding, in fact, conceals a valuable secret: the capability of multiplying, almost countlessly, the possible combinations among various types of dishes. The recipes contained in the collection total 220--50 for each of the four main courses, making up the central section of the volume, and 20 for the side dishes, which are collected into a chapter at the end of the book, where all the secrets are revealed for preparing mouth-watering accompaniment dishes and for combining them correctly with various preparations based on compatibility of ingredients. Thanks to a simple mechanism that makes it particularly easy to consult, the 220 recipes, in combination with one another, can produce a staggering total of more than 125 million potential menus, every one different. On each page, there are horizontal cuts separating each of the four sections--dedicated to appetizers, first course dishes, main course dishes, desserts--from one another. The different parts of each page can be turned independently, allowing you to leaf through, select, and reposition a recipe from among any of those in the volume for each one of the four courses, allowing you to compose a complete menu for today's meal, enriched with a side dish if you like, based on a different combination each time. Effective eye-catching graphics allow you to easily assess the preparation time, difficulty of implementation, and caloric intake for each recipe, while providing a convenient shopping list, displayed with great immediacy whenever you are composing a new menu. The 220 basic recipes are accompanied by a broad introduction that contains valuable information about the best combinations between various foodstuffs and ingredients, as well as some suggestions for the best use of this amusing, easy, and never repetitive reference tool. In the pages reserved for notes, you'll find space for personal notations and observations about the various menus you've already tried in the past, to keep track of those that were most successful, of the occasion when they were served, and of the guests who took part in the event. The goodness and wholesomeness of the preparations are guaranteed by Academia Barilla, an important institution playing an extraordinary role in terms of protection, preservation, and dissemination of the great legacy of Italian cuisine. AUTHOR: Academia Barilla, in the heart of Parma, one of the most distinguished capitals of Italian cuisine, is the Barilla Center. Set in the grounds of the former Barilla pasta factory, this modern architectural complex is the home of Academia Barilla. This was founded in 2004 to promote the art of Italian cuisine, protecting the regional gastronomic heritage and safeguarding it from imitations and counterfeits, while encouraging the great traditions of the Italian restaurant industry. Academia Barilla is also a centre of great professionalism and talent that is exceptional in the world of cooking. It organizes cooking classes for culinary enthusiasts, it provides services for those involved in the restaurant industry, and it offers products of the highest quality. In 2007, Academia Barilla was awarded the Premio Impresa-Cultura for its campaigns promoting the culture and creativity of Italian gastronomy throughout the world. The centre was designed to meet the training requirements of the world of food and it is equipped with all the multimedia facilities necessary for organizing major events. The remarkable gastronomic auditorium is surrounded by a restaurant, a laboratory for sensory analysis, and various teaching rooms equipped with the most modern technology. The Gastronomic Library contains over 10,000 books and a remarkable collection of historic menus as well as prints related to culinary subjects. The vast cultural heritage of the library can be consulted on the internet which provides access to hundreds of digitized historic texts. This avant-garde approach and the presence of a team of internationally famous experts enables Academia Barilla to offer a wide range of courses, meeting the needs of both restaurant chefs and amateur food lovers. In addition, Academia Barilla arranges cultural events and activities aiming to develop the art of cooking, supervised by experts, chefs, and food critics that are open to the public. It also organises the Academia Barilla Film Award, for short films devoted to Italy's culinary traditions. 210 colour photographs
