From Cover Letter, to Resume, to Interview: the 1-Hour Primer for Every Job Seeker Colin Ortstadt,2018-11-16 Finding a good job can be a lot like searching for an elusive needle in a giant haystack. Despite one's skills and qualifications, very few people have mastered the process of successfully navigating their way to a new job. That's because the process is continually changing, and the strategies that were once employed by job seekers only a few years ago, have evolved and will continue to evolve to compete with the high volume digitized process that most companies now use to save time and money. A simple resume no longer suffices in this era of fast paced digital marketing. A job seeker must learn to effectively market themselves in order to land that rare interview which may eventually lead to a new job. The purpose of this book is to help job seekers find a job by assisting its readers in building an effective cover letter and resume, and after, helping them to prepare for the most common interview questions they are likely to hear. This book is intended to be read in one sitting, in less than 2 hours, and to be referenced as needed as you continue your job search. This book's intention is to inform you of the tools successful job seekers have used to land a job. All the information you need to know is in here, from writing a successful cover letter, to ensuring your resume is filled with the appropriate keywords to elicit a positive response. I cover interview strategies, as well as the most common interview questions asked by most employers. I even discuss crafting a proper thank you note to send to the hiring manager post-interview. Never sent a thank you note before? It's an important part of the process, and those that send a handwritten thank you note post-interview are more likely to land the job. This is a primer: a succinct, information laden narrative that covers it all. It's intended for anyone who is in job search mode, who has maybe been out of the game for a while, and is seeking a refresher course on how to put their best foot forward. I have spent the past fifteen years immersed in a variety of fields from medical to tech, real estate to government. I have changed careers at least five times, and am presently employed as a Job Developer for Contra Costa County Vocational Services in the SF Bay Area. I help clients with resume development, interview skills, and job search. In essence, I help people find work. Many of my clients have overcome barriers to employment, such as debilitating disabilities or psychiatric conditions. These ailments have taken my clients out of the workforce for some time. Having overcome these barriers, they are now ready to rejoin the workforce, but lack the proper skills and guidance to succeed on their own. It feels good to help an all too often overlooked demographic of people find meaningful employment. Now, I want to help others do the same. In the following pages I will hammer into your head the methods that successful job seekers employ to land a good job. While much of the landscape has changed, some of it has stayed the same. These are the core characteristics of a successful job search. It will take some hard work on your part, the job seeker, to implement these strategies effectively. But this book will do its best to show you the way. I hope the strategies in this book prove effective in your current and future endeavors into the workforce, and I hope the information stays with you as you navigate your path to a successful career. Best wishes on all your future pursuits.

The Suck Less Job Search Adam J. Reiter, 2016-04-25 Regular job searches SUCK! They don't have to if you know what to do. Put yourself in the driver's seat of your job search and get amazing job offers from companies you're dying to work with. After years of coaching students to C-Suite executives at Fortune 500's I developed a custom-tailored job search strategy designed to keep the job seeker engaged in their search and drive the offers they really want, really quickly. About this project: I've spent my career helping senior executives, talented professionals and new graduates find their dream jobs. Their job searches were slow, stalled or even DOA before we met; after just a few weeks of working together, they landed jobs they wanted. And they loved the work we did together. I bottled up the best step-by-step advice from these one-on-one sessions into 120 action-packed pages, just for you. Take it and run. Who should read this book? If you want a new job right now, you need to read this book. If you want to be known in your industry, you need to read this book. If you want your dream employer to create a job for you, you need to read this book. What you'll learn: How to take back your search and get employers to chase YOU How to take HR/Corporate Recruiters out of the process and get offers directly from hiring managers How to create an undeniable value in the market that will generate offers for you and you alone For Job Seekers: You need a new job right now. I'll show you how to: Use proven strategies to beat out more qualified competition Reignite a dead search Move into a new field Win every interview using a simple, two-step process For Rock Stars: You like where you are, but you have one eye on the next big thing and you want to build your profile. I'll show you how to: Make companies fight over you when they hear your story Stand out to recruiters and executives running secret searches Make your current employer beg to give you promotions for fear of losing you to the competition For Students: You're graduating, your loan payments are due and you don't know where to start. I'll show you how to: Beat out your competition, including more seasoned job seekers Get the $$$'s you really deserve instead of taking a salary you can barely live off of Set yourself up for the best promotions and job offers for your entire career Why this book? Most job search advice is terrible. Job searches are miserable. And I could spend every hour of every day of my life advising job seekers and I wouldn't scratch the surface of the need in this area. I want to reach as many people as possible with this message. I want to help job seekers take back control of their search. Everyday people come to me that need my help to find great jobs but they simply can't afford my services. Even with the 10 hours a week that I set aside for pro bono work it doesn't scratch the surface of the demand for real help for job seekers that have been struggling for months and sometimes, years.

Unlock the Hidden Job Market Duncan Mathison, Martha I. Finney, 2009-09-20 More than 70% of today's job opportunities come through the "hidden job market": they're never advertised, assigned to search firms or internal recruiters, or displayed at job fairs. What's more, as employers cut recruiting costs, the proportion of "hidden" job opportunities is actually growing. And, since most jobseekers know practically nothing about it, those who do understand it have a powerful inside advantage. Now, two career experts reveal the hidden job market, and show how to use it to dramatically improve your chances of landing a job that fits your passions and skills perfectly. Duncan Mathison and best-selling author Martha Finney help you launch a custom, personal job search that avoids competing with thousands of desperate, laid-off job seekers. Learn how to: Use the hidden job market to leap-frog salary levels or even change professions Uncover hidden market opportunities, and your target employers' unspoken needs and wants Tell your story in two minutes, and make people want to know more Get the interviews that count, and run them like a pro Network without sounding phony, lame or desperate Reframe experiences, passions, and hobbies as "transferrable skills" Build a strategic support team of advisors Identify a "dead-ended" job search, and get it restarted Negotiate compensation for "hidden" jobs.

It is often said that "resumes are your ticket to job searching success." Resumes are still the not so secret weapon to landing a job. We show you how to craft and fine-tune a magnetic resume that will attract an employer's attention. Are you networking? Many job search industry professionals say that networking is the single most effective strategy for landing your next job. You may think you don't know anyone who can help you with your job search. Is the thought of a job interview keeping you awake at night? You're Hired! Job Search Strategies That Work systematically builds your skills to excel at interview questions and help you sleep at night. From our experience, one of the biggest problems job seekers often face is they feel they are coming from an inferior position and they don't have a lot of personal power. The belief being that the Employer has the superior position and has all the power. Sound familiar? Yes, they have the job and they have the power to give you the job ... or not. What you may not realize is many Hiring Managers are under similar pressures as you, the job seeker. They are accountable to their superiors should the person they hire not work out. They have the pressure of finding the right candidate for the vacancy they need to fill. You're Hired! Job Search Strategies That Work levels the playing field between you and the employer. Your task is to become the only choice. The right choice!
