A Dictionary of Mah Meri as Spoken at Bukit Bangkong Nicole

Kruspe, 2010-07-06 Mah Meri is an Aslian (Austroasiatic: Mon-Khmer) language spoken in scattered settlements along a section of the southwest coast of Selangor in Peninsular Malaysia. The Mah Meri are the only Aslian speakers who live in a coastal environment. Their language, which may have about 2,000 speakers, has no written language and is highly endangered. This is the first comprehensive dictionary of Mah Meri and is based on the author's extensive field research and consultation with members of the community over the last ten years. The dialect presented here is spoken by about 600 people at Bukit Bangkong, the most southerly Mah Meri settlement. The dictionary contains around 4,000 entries, each with a phonetic transcription and translations in both English and Malay. Many entries are further complemented by illustrative examples, notes on usage, derivations, ethnographic information, and illustrations—all provide insight into the world of Mah Meri speakers. Two finder lists (English–Mah Meri and Malay–Mah Meri) are included, giving access to the intended audience of international and local scholars and community members. The volume also includes a general introduction to the Mah Meri, notes to assist the reader in using the dictionary, and a short grammatical description.

White Shadows in the South Seas Frederick O'Brien, 1919 Lloyd, a drunken, demoralized white doctor who defends a tribe of Marquesan natives against the greed of Sebastian, an unscrupulous trader, is unjustly accused of a crime and tied to the wheel of a plagued ship that is set adrift. The vessel is wrecked in a typhoon, and Lloyd is washed ashore on an island where the natives, who have never seen a white man before, revere him as a god. Sebastian's trading schooner anchors offshore, and Lloyd pleads with the natives to keep Sebastian and his men off the island; the natives do not heed his advice, however, and Lloyd is shot to death by one of Sebastian's crew. With Lloyd out of the way, Sebastian is free to set up a trading post, cheating the natives and ruining their lives with bad whiskey.

Kenya Kaleidoscope Agnes R Shaw Obe, 2020-11-06 When Agnes Cree arrived by ship in Mombasa in 1927, Kenya Colony had only been formally in existence for seven years. Agnes married Brian Shaw in Nanyuki and the couple moved to Sotik where they bought and developed a farm. This story relates their struggles to make the farm productive, births in the bush, medical emergencies, muddy roads and much more. During World War II Agnes was left to run the farm on her own, but she made it pay with the introduction of dairy cattle. In the early 1950s, Agnes took up the challenge of politics, winning a seat in Kenya's Legislative Council (LegCo) to represent Nyanza Constituency. She kept her seat until Kenya's independence in 1963. Agnes attended the Lancaster House conferences in England that charted the pathway to the handover of power from the British government. This book gives us a rare insider perspective into this formative period in Kenya's history. After independence, Brian and Agnes chose to stay in Kenya, moving from Sotik to the Langata area of Nairobi. It was during this period that Agnes wrote this memoir, which has not been published until now.

The Volcano's Wife Amalia Cowley, Pamela Virtue, 2015-01-06 Amalia marries Cecil in 1933 after a lightning five-day shipboard courtship. She is catapulted from sleepy Lismore in Australia to the wild heart of Papua New Guinea, walking the trail with convicted murderers to her first home, Kokoda, where she erected its first Australian flag. Amalia and Cecil raised their two children in a land of serenity and great beauty, and came to love the people they lived amongst. This is Amalia's story. A remote station, Higaturu, is Paradise to Cecil, District Commissioner. But Paradise becomes an Inferno when the family is torn apart by implacable forces. In 1951 Mount Lamington explodes, blasting thousands to extinction. The violent eruption causes unprecedented destruction and brings about a fundamental change, both to the scorched landscape and to the traumatised survivors. It is also a gut-wrenching account of a child's memories. In the face of onrushing annihilation all she could do was scream. Scream she did. What did it mean, this calamity that destroyed her family? Would growing up provide an answer? This is also her story.

The Advanced Montessori Method Maria Montessori, 1991 Presents the Montessori educational philosophy and methods as they relate to children from the ages of seven to eleven years. Surveys the child's psychical health, freedom and spirit, and considers such phenomena as intelligence, attention, imagination and will.

Guerrillas of Tsavo James G. Willson, 2012

The Sixth Station Linda Stasi, 2013-12-01 Some say Demiel ben Yusef is the world's most dangerous terrorist, personally responsible for bombings and riots that have claimed the lives of thousands. Others insist he is a man of peace, a miracle worker, and possibly even the Son of God. His trial in New York City for crimes against humanity attracts scores of protestors, as well as media and religious leaders from around the world. Cynical reporter Alessandra Russo heads to the UN hoping for a piece of the action, but soon becomes entangled in controversy and suspicion when ben Yusef singles her out for attention among all other reporters. As Alessandra begins digging into ben Yusef's past, she is already in more danger than she knows—and when she is falsely accused of murder during her investigation, she is forced to flee New York. On the run from unknown enemies, Alessandra finds herself on the trail of a global conspiracy and a story that could shake the world to its foundations. Is Demiel ben Yusef the Second Coming or the Antichrist? The truth may lie in the secret history of the Holy Family, a group of Templars who defied the church, and a mysterious relic stained with the sacred blood of Christ Himself.
