User's Guide: 2-D Frame Analysis Link Program (LINK2D) Chris A. Merrill, 1987 This two-dimensional (2-D) frame analysis link program, LINK2D, provides the external link necessary for bridging the gap in data from rudimentary analysis design capabilities to data from more advanced structural analysis/design computer programs. The newly created data base could thereby be used throughout the building design process. Data generated in STRUCTURE, a module of the Computer-Aided Engineering and Architectural Design System (CAEADS), have been used to create input data for CFRAFME and/or the 2-D capability of GTSTRUML. CFRAFME is a product of the computer-aided Structural Engineering (CASE) project and GTSTRUML is a proprietary software program developed by and for the benefit of the Georgia Institute of Technology.

For the past 10 years, Inc. 500 CEO and #1 national best-selling author, Ryan Levesque--featured for his work in the Wall Street Journal, USA Today, Forbes, and Entrepreneur--has guided thousands of entrepreneurs through the journey of answering this question. One of the biggest reasons why so many new businesses fail is because in the quest to decide what business to start, most of the conventional wisdom is wrong. Instead of obsessing over what-as in what should you sell or what should you build--you should first be asking who. As in who should you serve? The what is a logical question that will come soon enough. But choosing your who is the foundation from which all other things are built. That is what this book is all about. If you've ever had the dream to start your own business, become your own boss, or do your own thing--but have been afraid to take the leap and screw up your already good life--this book is for you. You will find the meticulously tested, step-by-step process outlined in the book is easy to follow, despite being the result of a decade of research and experience. This process, designed to minimize your risk of failure and losing money up front, coupled with the inspiring stories of everyday people who have used this process to launch successful businesses, will not only give you clarity on what type of business to start, but also the confidence to finally take that leap and get started.

Beam Processing Technologies Norman G. Einspruch, S. S. Cohen, Raj N. Singh, 2014-12-01 Beam Processing Technologies is a collection of papers that deals with the miniaturization of devices that will be faster, consume less power, and cost less per operation or fabrication. One paper discusses metal oxide semiconductor (MOS) integrated circuit technology including the operation of devices whose lateral and vertical dimensions are scaled down. If the devices' silicon doping profiles are increased by the same scale factor, they can operate on lower voltages and currents, with the same performance. Another paper describes laser beam processing and wafer-scale integration as techniques to increase the number of devices on a silicon chip. Electron beam technologies can be used in many fabrication processes such as in microlithography, selective oxidation, doping, metrology. Ion beam applications depend on the presence of the ion introduced into the device (e.g. implantation doping), on pseudoelastic collisions (e.g. physical sputtering or crystal damage), and on inelastic scattering (e.g. polymer resist exposure). Silicon molecular beam epitaxy (SiMBE) can also grow high-quality layers at low temperature, particularly concerning germanium, especially as regards the growth system design and utilization of n- and p-type doping. Chemical beam epitaxy (CBE) is another epitaxial growth technique that can surpass MBE and metal organic chemical vapor deposition (MO-CVD). The collection is suitable for chemical engineers, industrial physicists, and researchers whose work involve micro-fabrication and development of integrated circuits.
