Amazing Area Mazes Naoki Inaba,Ryoichi

Murakami,2019-10-01 Race the clock to solve 70 fun puzzles with grade-school math—and genius logic! Welcome, brave math wizard, to the world of area mazes. These clever grids of squares and rectangles are more than meets the eye. Can you find the missing value—using only your powers to add, subtract, multiply, and divide? Just remember: $\text{Area} = \text{Length} \times \text{Width}$ Too easy? Race the clock! Puzzle master Naoki Inaba has included three target times for every maze. But don't worry if you get stuck sometimes . . . just keep at it, and you'll get better and better. Soon, you'll be amazing!

Amazed! Mark Roland Langdale,2021-10-08 On a very usual day, on a very usual school trip to Hampton Court Maze, there is a very unusually named girl called Victoriana Elizabeth Alice Royal. At least she can concentrate on history today and learn new facts as she wanders the maze. But little does Victoriana know that history will come alive for her in a way it never has before...

Race the Clock Mazes Patrick Merrell,1999-12 Beat the clock as you race through these mazes.

Monster Mazes Dave Phillips,1989-06-01 Thirty-two mazes with fantasy-adventure themes, such as finding marvelous treasures and slaying giant beasts.

The Walls Around Opportunity Gary

Orfield,2022-05-03 The case for race-conscious education policy In our unequal society, families of color fully share the dream of college but their children often attend schools that do not prepare them, and the higher education system gives the best opportunities to the most privileged. Students of color hope for college but often face a dead end. For many young people, racial inequality puts them at a disadvantage from early childhood. The Walls around Opportunity argues that colorblind policies have made college inaccessible to a large share of students of color, and reveals how policies that acknowledge racial inequalities and set racial equality goals can succeed where colorblindness has failed. Gary Orfield paints a troubling portrait of American higher education, explaining how profound racial gaps imbedded in virtually every stage of our children's lives pose a major threat to communities of color and the nation. He describes how the 1960s and early 1970s was the only period in history to witness sustained efforts at racial equity in higher education, and how the Reagan era ushered in today's colorblind policies, which ignore the realities of color inequality. Orfield shows how this misguided policy has resegregated public schools, exacerbated inequalities in college preparation, denied needed financial aid to families, and led to huge price increases over decades that have seen little real gain in income for most Americans. Drawing on a wealth of new data and featuring commentaries by Stella Flores and James Anderson, this timely and urgent book shows how colorblind policies serve only to raise the walls of segregation higher, and proposes real solutions that can make higher education available to all.
