The Meeting Planning Process Mary Jo Wiseman, 2016-10-10 The Meeting Planning Process -- A Guide to Planning Successful Meetings by Certified Meeting Professional Mary Jo Wiseman offers a common sense approach to managing the meeting planning process based on the knowledge and experience she garnered over a 20+ year career as a corporate meeting and event coordinator. The author's systematic approach to project management helped her to get and stay focused on the task at hand while handling multiple details, projects and deadlines throughout her career and she wants to share her secrets for success with others. The author firmly believes it is NOT just one person who makes a meeting or event happen, but rather a well led TEAM of dedicated, enthusiastic, talented individuals who come together to do what they do best to help organizations EXCEED PROGRAM OBJECTIVES and make them SHINE. It is the PROCESS or system used to get started that can either keep you on track or send you off the rails. This Guide offers a practical overview of the entire planning process for people just starting out in the business or meeting planning veterans alike, and offers keen insights and valuable tips to help CREATE the perfect EXPERIENCE for their audience by staying true to the basic elements of the planning process. It is intended to lead people through the proper steps and the sequence of tasks involved in planning a meeting such as: Establishing a Planning or Design Team; Developing an Overall Plan; Budgeting; Site Selection; Communications; Contract Review and more. The Guide also includes handy templates developed by the author -- a Meeting Time Line; Overall Plan; and Request for Proposal as well as descriptions and diagrams of possible room set-ups.

Hotel Convention Sales, Services, and Operations Pat Golden-Romero, 2007 Hotel Convention Sales, Services, and Operations examines the precipitating factors and emerging trends in the hospitality industry and how they have contributed to the growth of the meetings and conventions market, including a look at the financial impact of this global industry in both private and public sectors of the economy. This how-to guide takes students through all aspects of selling and servicing a convention at a hotel or other group meeting facility. The author introduces the types of groups holding meetings and conventions, the planners in charge of site selection, and the facilities they commonly use. The basics of marketing are introduced, and the role of Convention and Visitors' Bureaus is considered. Readers will gain understanding of the sales and negotiation process between buyers and sellers of these services.--Jacket.

The Meeting Architecture Process Maarten Vanneste, Maarten Vanneste CMM, 2013-07-22 This Workbook is for facilitation in the Meeting Architecture Process. It helps meeting and event professional to facilitate a series of brainstorm and work meetings to prepare a meeting or event. It is about identifying objectives and designing the event based on those objectives for a measurably better impact. Meeting Architecture was coined as a term and a future discipline in 2008 by Maarten Vanneste in his book 'Meeting Architecture, a Manifesto'. The book signaled the start for a lot of activity, development and education. A Meeting Architect, like a building architect, uses a process to develop a more effective meeting. With the meeting owner, communication, design and production people, the Meeting Architect facilitates a set of steps towards SMART Objectives and a Design that drives those objectives in a measurable way. Organizing a meeting, conference or event with 50, 500 or 5000 participants can cost serious money. and rather than saving another 5% on cost, MAP helps you shift 10% of the spend and increase impact dramatically. No rocket science, but straight forward steps, with templates, questions, illustrations etc that make you the goto professional for designing effective meetings.

Return on Investment in Meetings and Events M. Theresa Breining, Jack J. Phillips, 2008-01-14 The Phillips ROI Methodology™ utilizes five levels of evaluation, which are essential in determining the return on investment. At Level 1 - Reaction and Planned Action, attendee and stakeholder satisfaction from the meeting can be measured. Almost all organizations evaluate at Level 1, usually with a generic, end-of-meeting questionnaire. While this level of evaluation is important as a "stakeholder" satisfaction measure, a favorable reaction does not ensure that attendees have acquired new skills, knowledge, opinions or attitudes from the meeting. At Level 2 - Learning, measurements focus on what participants learned during the meeting using tests, skill practices, role-plays, simulations, group evaluations, and other assessment tools. A learning check is helpful to ensure that attendees have absorbed the meeting material or messages and know how to use or apply it properly. It is also important at this level to determine the quantity and quality of new professional contacts acquired and whether existing professional contacts were strengthened due to the meeting. However, a positive measure at this level is no guarantee that what was learned or whether the professional contacts acquired will be used on the job. At Level 3 - Job Applications, a variety of follow-up methods can be used to determine if attendees applied on the job what they learned or acquired at the meeting. The frequency and use of skills are important measures at Level 3. While Level 3 evaluations are important to gauge the success of the meeting, it still does not guarantee that there will be a positive business impact in the organization or for the attendee. At Level 4 - Business Results, the measurement focuses on the actual business results achieved by meeting participants as they successfully apply the meeting material or messages. Typical Level 4 measures include output, sales, quality, costs, time and customer satisfaction. Although the meeting may produce a measurable business impact, there is still a concern that the meeting may cost too much. At Level 5 - Return on Investment, this ultimate level of measurement compares the monetary benefits from the meeting with the fully-loaded meeting costs as expressed in the ROI formula. All levels of evaluation must be conducted in order to determine the ROI of a meeting or event. The data collected should show a chain of impact occurring through the levels as the skills and knowledge learned (Level 2) are applied on the job (Level 3) to produce business results (Level 4).

you'll find the combined wisdom of over 600 years (more or less) of meeting planning expertise, all aimed at helping you book more business as a speaker. The four of us sat down and had a very candid conversation on fifteen different official topics (and many unofficial ones...) to help speakers of all experience levels navigate their prospecting and relationship-building with planners. Our goal is to give a rare peek inside the planner's brain (it can get scary in there, but we've got your back!). We want you to be more findable, likeable, memorable, and bookable! What speakers are saying: WOW! OMG! This is the most powerful, realistic book I've ever read (and I've read hundreds!) that is laser-targeted to those of us in professional speaking. These four wonderful ladies are coming from the real world, nitty-gritty reality of what works and what doesn't. They make it clear what is NOT working and what IS in today's meetings industry. If you're thinking of or are already practicing professional speaking, get updated as to what works now, get the money-losing habits out of your system, and find out what is needed in today's white-hot competitive speaking world. Get this book. Learn from it. Profit from it! - Terry Brock, MBA, CSP, CPAE, Cavett Award Winner Frankly Speaking is like stealing the playbook on getting booked. If you want better relationships with meeting planners and more business than you can handle, then pick up a copy. - Kate Delaney, Global Speaker, Emmy-winning Journalist, and NBC Sports Radio Talk Show Host Frankly Speaking is packed full of helpful nuggets of information professional speakers can use to navigate their work with meeting planners. It's irreverent, funny, and 100% useful. You will benefit hugely by devouring this book and heeding these secrets from 4 people who want to help you succeed! - Phil Gerbyshak, Sales and Marketing Speaker and Trainer
