She's happy when she hangs out with her best friends, the Robins. She's jealous that her genius little sister skipped two grades. And she's passionate about the crushes on her Boyfriend Wish list. And when Erica's mom is diagnosed with breast cancer, she feels worried and doesn't know what she can do to help. When her family visits a cuarto de milagros, a miracle room in a famous church, Erica decides to make a promesa to God in exchange for her mom's health. As her mom gets sicker, Erica quickly learns that juggling family, friends, school, and fulfilling a promesa is stressful, but with a little bit of hope and a lot of love, she just might be able to figure it out. Mood Ring Vicki Forde,2019-07-02 Love is the basis for all we feel. Every emotion we have is an offspring of love. We hurt because we love, we laugh because we love, we cry because we love and have a need to be loved in return. For most of us it is an emotion so confusing and complex yet when we understand it truly, we will find it to be the simplest form of our expression. I believe there is a freedom in tapping into this miraculous emotion. This book shows an understanding of self with a knack for putting into words the emotional feel of happiness, sadness, heartache, joy and fear. I believe you will recognize some of what is written here and realize you are not alone.

answers. Even though her house is crammed full of books (her dad's a bibliophile), she's having trouble figuring out some very big questions, like why her dad seems to care about books more than her, why her best friend's divorced mom is obsessed with making cascarones (hollowed eggshells filled with colorful confetti), and, most of all, why her mom died last year. Like colors in cascarones, Lina's life is a rainbow of people, interests, and unexpected changes. In her first novel for young readers, Diana López creates a clever and honest story about a young Latina girl navigating growing pains in her South Texan city.
