Exchange traded fund savings plans as old-age provision tool in Germany, 2021-03-01 Future German pensioners will face a pension gap in retirement age if they base their income exclusively on the statutory pension. Conventional private pension alternatives are not lucrative, but they are still the most widely used. Exchange-traded funds (ETFs) have features that make them particularly attractive for pension provision. The aim of this dissertation is to discover which factors influence the acceptance formation process and thus the usage of ETFs. Therefore, a model is developed that is based conceptually on the widely known technology acceptance model (TAM) and theoretically on the results of a comprehensive literature analysis, which summarises already identified obstacles within old-age provision. This model is then tested using an online survey on future German pensioners aged between 19 and 59 years (n=615). The descriptive statistics are then calculated for the recorded data, and subsequently, the relationships within the variable model are analysed for significant dependencies. The results show that the assumed external variables have an influence on the acceptance of ETFs. In particular, the variable of financial literacy as an indicator of a person's general financial knowledge turns out to be of overriding importance within the acceptance formation process. Furthermore, the results show that the use of an ETF is well recognised, but that it is still too complex to obtain information or acquire an ETF, which ultimately hampers acceptance formation, and thus the use. Finally, two concepts are developed that would have a positive influence on acceptance in different ways; they focus on different variables and behavioural patterns that still act as obstacles, thereby increasing the overall use of ETFs in Germany.

The Consumer's Guide to Health Savings Accounts JoAnn Mills Laing, 2019-03-27 "Let's get the consumer in the game. The idea behind HSAs is a 'supercharged IRA' for health care...No other program is as tax advantaged." -John W. Snow, Treasury Secretary "...HSAs can drastically lower an employer's costs of providing employee health benefits. This may allow more small businesses to offer such benefits." -Fed Brock, The New York Times "These accounts give workers the security of insurance against major illness, the opportunity to save tax-free for routine health expenses, and the freedom of knowing you can take your account with you whenever you change jobs." -President George W. Bush "Laing's new book (The Small Business Guide to HSAs) lives up to its name...an excellent explanation of how HSAs work..." -Greg Scandlen, The New York Post The Consumer's Guide to HSAs answers the question "What's in it for Me?" But responsibility doesn't stop there. You must read your medical reports, check statements, and count your pills carefully. Ask questions. Keep records for future use, and soon you will realize as much of the benefits of consumer-driven health care and HSAs as possible.

Managing Your Account; Your Plan - Your Future Thrift Savings Thrift Savings Plan,2014-09-02 All newly hired (or rehired) civilian (FERS and CSRS) employees are automatically enrolled in the TSP. If you are automatically enrolled, your agency will deduct 3% from your basic pay (before taxes) every pay period and deposit it into your TSP account, unless you make an election to change or stop these contributions. These contributions will be invested in the Government Securities Investment (G) Fund until you make a different contribution allocation. To begin making TSP contributions if you are a member of the uniformed services, or if you are not a new hire and are not currently contributing, you must submit Form TSP-1, Election Form (TSP-U-1 for members of the uniformed services) to your agency or service. This form is available from your TSP representative or the TSP website. Some agencies and services require electronic enrollment through systems such as Employee Express, LiteBlue, EBIS, myPay, or the NFC PPS. Check with your agency or service to see which one it requires. To take advantage of this important retirement benefit, you should start as early as you can and consider contributing as much as you can.
