Elefantenspuren Patrice Kragten, 2017-01-11 In dieser Ausgabe des TRAVELKID Reiseberichts Elefantenspuren - mit meiner Tochter auf Abenteuerreise durch Namibia - berichtet Patrice Kragten über ihre Erfahrungen welche sie während zwei Namibia Reisen, gemeinsam mit ihrer Tochter Romy, gesammelt hat. Ob der Bericht jetzt von roten Sanddünen der Sossus Vlei, den Himba-Frauen aus Opuwo oder den Wildtieren Etoshas handelt - die Holländerin hat überall nützliche Informationen für das Unternehmen einer Fernreise mit Kindern eingebunden. Kragten: Mit einem 4x4 Fahrzeug, ausgestattet mit einem Dachzelt in dem wir meistens übernachtet haben, legten wir jedes Mal zirka 3.500 Kilometer zurück. Wir haben die roten Sanddünen bestiegen, wo unsere Fußabdrücke so groß wie Elefantenspuren geworden sind. Wir besuchten das Himba Volk und haben mit den Buschmännern Pfeil und Bogen gebastelt. Und natürlich folgten wir im Etosha Nationalpark den Spuren der Elefanten. Der Reisebericht, verständlich und einfach geschrieben, soll einerseits Informationen bieten für diejenigen, die demnächst mit Kindern eine Namibia Reise unternehmen möchten, andererseits sollten die Erfahrungen dazu dienen, dass Familien mit Kindern sich trauen, eine Reise, in diesem Fall nach Namibia, zu unternehmen. Unter www.travelkid.at findest du weitere Informationen. Romy schenkt einem Himba-Kind einen Hai aus Plastik. Die Mutter des Kindes weiß was ein Elefant ist, hat aber keine Ahnung, was der Hai für ein Tier ist und wo er lebt.

Instant Christopher Bonanos,2012-09-26 Tells the remarkable tale of Edwin Land's one-of-a-kind invention-from Polaroid's first instant camera to hit the market in 1948, to its meteoric rise in popularity and adoption by artists such as Ansel Adams, Andy Warhol, and Chuck Close, to the company's dramatic decline into bankruptcy in the late '90s and its unlikely resurrection in the digital age.

The Central Intelligence Agency and Overhead Reconnaissance Gregory Pedlow,Donald Welzenbach,2016-03-15 The CIA's 2013 release of its book The Central Intelligence Agency and Overhead Reconnaissance 1954–1974 is a fascinating and important historical document. It contains a significant amount of newly declassified material with respect to the U-2 and Oxcart programs, including names of pilots; codenames and cryptonyms; locations, funding, and cover arrangements; electronic countermeasures equipment; cooperation with foreign governments; and overflights of the Soviet Union, Cuba, China, and other countries. Originally published with a Secret/No Foreign Dissemination classification, this detailed study describes not only the program's technological and bureaucratic aspects, but also its political and international context, including the difficult choices faced by President Eisenhower in authorizing overflights of the Soviet Union and the controversy surrounding the shoot down there of U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers in 1960. The authors discuss the origins of the U-2, its top-secret testing, its specially designed high-altitude cameras and complex life-support systems, and even the possible use of poison capsules by its pilots, if captured. They call attention to the crucial importance of the U-2 in the gathering of strategic and tactical intelligence, as well as the controversies that the program unleashed. Finally, they discuss the CIA's development of a successor to the U-2, the Oxcart, which became the world's most technologically advanced aircraft. For the first time, the more complete 2013 release of this historical text is available in a professionally typeset format, supplemented with higher quality photographs that will bring alive these incredible aircraft and the story of their development and use by the CIA. This edition also includes a new preface by author Gregory W. Pedlow and a foreword by Chris Pocock. Skyhorse Publishing, as well as our Arcade imprint, are proud to publish a broad range of books for readers interested in history--books about World War II, the Third Reich, Hitler and his henchmen, the JFK assassination, conspiracies, the American Civil War, the American Revolution, gladiators, Vikings, ancient Rome, medieval times, the old West, and much more. While not every title we publish becomes a New York Times bestseller or a national bestseller, we are committed to books on subjects that are sometimes overlooked and to authors whose work might not otherwise find a home.
