Use of Internet as a Brand Building Tool Richards Macdonald, 2013-04-22 Seminar paper from the year 2011 in the subject Communications - Multimedia, Internet, New Technologies, grade: A, The University of Chicago, language: English, abstract: The emergence of the Internet has provided a powerful marketing medium for all businesses, whether big or small, new or old. It has enabled all types of businesses to promote their brands easily. The Internet explosion in the past few years has changed the entire business processes and outlined the future business operations. The changes are visible in almost all business operations, and they have initiated rethinking of supply chain networks, reconfiguration of products and services or revamping of business models. The most significant change has been noticed in the promotional activities and in the use of the Internet as a brand building tool. The Internet has offered new opportunities, making traditional business practices outdated. It provided the opportunity to reach a wide range of audience and create never-before possible propositions. It also provided a new tool for promoting business, interacting with people and building relationships. It has also empowered customers with information and many options, and has changed the fundamental concepts of interaction between companies and customers. These tremendous changes in customer relationships, customer service and branding require new strategies and tools for brand building. The Internet has enabled new entrepreneurs to create new and strong brands, thus leaving established brands behind. Internet companies like Amazon.com, Yahoo!, eBay, and America Online (AOL) have established strong brands in a short span of time, whereas the traditional companies have taken decades for the same. Figure 1 below exhibits the time taken in years by the Internet companies in reaching $100 million mark.

Why online marketing is such a powerful tool to promote your business. Marcelo Gameiro, A school of thought advocates that the quality of the products and services offered is the most singular factor necessary for a business to advance its prospects. The proponents of this approach believe that once the quality of goods and services is top-notch, the client will be happy. They advocate that a satisfied customer will return to order for more of such services or goods. While that may be true, a novel emerging approach notes that although the quality of products and services is crucial, it is not enough to keep a business floating. A business grows, develops, and becomes profitable as its revenue base expands. A satisfied customer will come back, but with marketing strategies in place, one happy customer can reach and persuade 50 others. Thus, excellent quality must go hand-in-hand with an efficient marketing system to boost a business by creating a wide range of customer outreach. In this book you can find the best guide to take advantage of one of the most efficient and cheaper ways of doing marketing today. ► Why marketing is the heart of your business, and where is the best vehicle to do marketing today. ► Why online marketing is the most efficient way of doing marketing today. ► Why online marketing efforts last longer than others methods. ► How can you put your business online for free (and other methods too)

With advances in technology, namely, the advent of the Internet, the marketing paradigm has seen a shift to where now, one the most effective ways to generate awareness is leveraging social media. Unlike traditional marketing channels, the startup costs to leveraging the social media platform are extremely low and in many instances, free. However, the reach of social media is astronomical. Social Media is a powerful marketing tool and the potential results may be life altering. Yet in still, most people do not experience the fullness of what social media has to offer. In order to optimize results for this platform - having a strategy is a must. A strategy is a plan of action, one that consists of goals and objectives, outlining exactly what outcome one is seeking in leveraging a social media channel. There must be a brand voice, and that voice needs to connect and engage with a target audience that is strategically selected to help move marketing goals into successes. Having an intimate knowledge of the widely used social media platforms and selecting ones that will have the most impact in connecting with the target audience is required. Time spent developing engaging content lies as one of the cornerstones of an effective social media strategy. Finally, continuously reviewing and refreshing this plan to ensure it continues to align with goals; these all play a factor in developing an effective strategy that would enable an individual to get the very most out of social media. Creating a powerful strategy is not impossible to do. It takes research, time, dedication and perseverance to see results. Social media holds more than enough potential to allow an individual to shake up any market and take the world by storm - a person needs to be able to unlock the marketing power of social media by familiarizing oneself with the steps necessary to develop an effective social media strategy.
