Francine Rivers

Rockstar Games and American History Esther Wright, 2022-08-22 For two decades, Rockstar Games have been making games that interrogate and represent the idea of America, past and present. Commercially successful, fan-beloved, and a frequent source of media attention, Rockstar's franchises are positioned as not only game-changing, ground-breaking interventions in the games industry, but also as critical, cultural histories on America and its excesses. But what does Rockstar's version of American history look like, and how is it communicated through critically acclaimed titles like Red Dead Redemption (2010) and L.A. Noire (2011)? By combining analysis of Rockstar's games and a range of official communications and promotional materials, this book offers critical discussion of Rockstar as a company, their video games, and ultimately, their attempts at creating new narratives about U.S. history and culture. It explores the ways in which Rockstar's brand identity and their titles coalesce to create a new kind of video game history, how promotional materials work to claim the authenticity of these products, and assert the authority of game developers to perform the role of historian. By working at the intersection of historical game studies, U.S. history, and film and media studies, this book explores what happens when contemporary demands for historical authenticity are brought to bear on the way we envisage the past -- and whose past it is deemed to be. Ultimately, this book implores those who research historical video games to consider the oft-forgotten sources at the margins of these games as importance spaces where historical meaning is made and negotiated.

Sergio's Redemption S. M. Donaldson, 2018-07-12 Life has a funny way of pushing us beyond what is mentally possible. Paige I was born to parents who never cared if I had food or clothes. I was nothing. A waste of space and time to them. At sixteen, they relocated...and didn't bother to tell me. I lived in my busted up and broken-down car behind a gym for months when two men found me. One of them I believed was my savior, the love of my life. Turns out things aren't always what they seem. He was the devil in disguise. A few thousand bad decisions later, I find myself in the very same parking lot where I found the devil and the man who supported me through it all. I'm Paige Turner. I'm a mess of a woman with nothing but hard times in my past and a future that's completely uncertain. Sergio I had a life once. I had a wife and a baby on the way. My life was everything I never knew I wanted. I was halfway around the world, defending my country, serving the United States proudly, when I lost absolutely everything that mattered. I couldn't save them. I couldn't even fight for them. I went through the stages of grief and I've come out on the other side a different man. Now, I fight. Literally. There is something therapeutic about beating someone or even yourself. I can control the pain, unlike my life. I'm Sergio Nichols. When my family was taken, I've somehow learned to function in a new dysfunctional family of their own making. Two broken people with one chance at redemption.

The Redemption Howard Rubens, 2009-09 If there are rules in warfare, the one-eyed Sleuth Tau broke every one of them, bringing death to his family. Defeated and lost, Sleuth seeks redemption.

Redeeming Love (Movie Tie-In) Francine Rivers, 2021-11-23 NATIONAL BESTSELLER • NOW A MAJOR MOTION PICTURE starring Abigail Cowen, Tom Lewis, Nina Dobrev, with Logan Marshall Green and Eric Dane, special appearance by Famke Janssen. Distributed by Universal Pictures with a screenplay by Francine Rivers and D.J. Caruso. California's gold country, 1850. A time when men sold their souls for a bag of gold and women sold their bodies for a place to sleep. Angel expects nothing from men but betrayal. Sold into prostitution as a child, she survives by keeping her hatred alive. And what she hates most are the men who use her, leaving her empty and dead inside. Then she meets Michael Hosea, a man who seeks his Father's heart in everything. Michael obeys God's call to marry Angel and to love her unconditionally. Slowly, day by day, he defies Angel's every bitter expectation, until despite her resistance, her frozen heart begins to thaw. But with her unexpected softening comes overwhelming feelings of unworthiness and fear. And so Angel runs. Back to the darkness, away from her husband's pursuing love, terrified of the truth she no longer can deny: her final healing must come from the One who loves her even more than Michael does . . . the One who will never let her go. A powerful retelling of the story of Gomer and Hosea, Redeeming Love is a life-changing story of God's unconditional, redemptive, all-consuming love. Includes a six-part reading group guide!

Down to the River Sandra Louise Dyas,2010-09-13 In 1987 photographer Sandra Dyas moved to Iowa City and began documenting the area's vibrant live music scene, with its distinctive combination of folk, blues, roots/Americana, and rock sounds. The sixty photos in Down to the River capture her twenty years of photographing live music venues and shooting portraits of musicians in and around the city, resulting in a collection of images as compassionate and honest as the music itself. Dyas's photographs present both the sweaty intensity of live performances and the more contemplative moments of individual portraits. They are complemented by Chris Offutt's empathetic essay, which also encapsulates the experience of connecting with a new home through its music. A companion CD with eighteen tracks by Iowa's finest singer/songwriters, including Dave Moore, Greg Brown, Bo Ramsey, David Zollo, and Pieta Brown, add up to an unmatched perspective on Iowa music and musicians.
