Sears, Roebuck and Company

The 1902 Edition of the Sears, Roebuck Catalogue Sears, Roebuck and Company, 2000 A facsimile edition of the 1902 catalog for the retail chain displays the manners, customs, necessities, luxuries, and cost of living of an America at the turn of the century through the products Americans bought.

Sears Tower Jay Pridmore, 2002 The Nation's Largest Retailer wanted the largest headquarters in the nation, and they got it -- in spades. Designed by Skidmore, Owings & Merrill (SOM), the 110-story, anodized aluminum-clad Sears Tower occupies three acres in the West Loop. The bundled-tube construction allowed for more windows and more corner offices per square foot. The total area within the Tower is 4.4 million square feet; the Sky Deck on the 103rd floor offers tremendous views and welcomes more than 1 million visitors yearly. When SOM realized that their design was only ten stories short of what was supposed to be the record-breaking height of the World Trade Center then under construction (1,368 feet), they broke the record, coming in at 1,454 feet. The move of Sears and Roebuck employees into the Tower was the biggest corporate move in American history. In the late 1980s Sears and Roebuck left the building, but it continues to thrive, a timeless monument to American ingenuity.

The Baby Book William Sears, Martha Sears, 1993-01 The baby bible of the post-Dr. Spock generation, already embraced by hundreds of thousands of American parents, has now been revised, expanded, and brought thoroughly up-to-date -- with the latest information on everything from diapering to day care, from midwifery to hospital birthing rooms, from postpartum nutrition to infant development. Dr. Bill and Martha Sears draw from their vast experience both as medical professionals and as the parents of eight children to provide comprehensive information on virtually every aspect of infant care. Working for the first time with their sons Dr. Bob and Dr. Jim, both pediatric specialists in their own right, the Searses have produced a completely updated guide that is unrivaled in its scope and authority. The Baby Book focuses on the essential needs of babies -- eating, sleeping, development, health, and comfort -- as it addresses the questions of greatest concern to today's parents. The Baby Book presents a practical, contemporary approach to parenting that reflects the way we live today. The Searses acknowledge that there is no one way to parent a baby, and they offer the basic guidance and inspiration you need to develop the parenting style that best suits you and your child. The Baby Book is a rich and invaluable resource that will help you get the most out of parenting -- for your child, for yourself, and for your entire family. Book jacket.

Sears in Chicago Val Perry Rendel, 2019-06-24 From watch catalog to international retail empire, revisit Sears's Windy City history with author Val Rendel and remember how good the Good Life once was. In 1887, Richard W. Sears started a Chicago mail-order house that quickly outpaced its competitors, including Montgomery Ward. For millions of rural Americans over the next hundred years, Chicago was the place where dreams came from. Here, the World's Largest Store opened its first retail buildings, debuted its WLS radio station and transformed the global marketplace from the Great Works headquarters complex. Today, Sears has faded from the city of its birth, but many marks of the once-great business remain, from repurposed iconic department store buildings to the Sears kit homes still scattered across the suburbs. The 110-story skyscraper that dominates the skyline will forever be known to locals as the Sears Tower. Sears greatest legacy, however, was the role it played in shaping the lives of generations of Chicagoans.

Robert and William Sears present a science-based approach that has helped alleviate allergies in many of their patients, providing a plan not only for treatment, but also for prevention. Sears Roebuck 1922 Electrical Goods and Radio Apparatus Catalog, This book is a complete reprint of the 1922 Sears, Roebuck and Co. catalog of radio apparatus and electrical goods. Each page of an original printed catalog has been scanned and reproduced as a page image. Each image has been carefully cleaned and restored by hand and computer; we have removed ink bleed-through, showthrough from printing on the opposite sides, and dirt and spots from the printing process. The resulting images have a huge amount of fine detail, and will look best on reading devices which can show large images well. In addition to images of all of the original content pages, we have included a short introduction to Sears, Roebuck and Co. as a supplier of goods and an engine of transformation of the American economy. By 1922, electrical goods and appliances were in millions of homes in America, but radio was just beginning to change from a technical enterprise for experimenters to an entertainment and communication medium for the masses. This is what the radio enthusiasts saw when they got their new Sears catalogs.

Frank Sears Frank Sears, 1850 This collection contains The Fountain newspaper, edited by Frank and George Sears around 1850. On the cover of the paper, they wrote Motto. Large streams from little fountains flow. Devoted to. Literature, science, and the arts. Terms. Attention. No discount to clubs. In the editorial, they stated that the purpose of the paper was not to please the masses but rather to come to you who love the youth, and love to see them treading in the ways of wisdom, and in the path of happiness and honor. To you who desire to see the cause of education prosper, and who are ready to cheer the scholar on with a look, at last, of appreciation. They mostly include moralistic reflections and critiques, especially on the use of foul language, smoking and chewing tobacco, beggars and the poor, education, the history of the country, and printing. Other contributors are listed, among them Ellen J. and Alice Crum, Emma J. Nash, Mary Harrington, Emma Sears, Antoinette Stevens, and Margaret Costlow.

Chancellorsville Stephen W. Sears,1996 Recounts the Civil War battle at Chancellorsville where Robert E. Lee scored his greatest victory.

The Autism Book Robert W. Sears,2010-04-02 With clarity and compassion, Dr. Robert Sears guides the reader through the maze of autism, explaining what precautions parents can take to decrease their baby's risk, how to detect autism at the earliest possible age, and how to proceed once a diagnosis has been made. This book provides parents with a simple and clear understanding of the biomedical treatment approach that Dr. Sears has used successfully with many of his young patients. It lays out a plan for developmental, behavioral, and learning therapies; shows parents how to begin treatments without a doctor's help; presents information on vaccines and their safe use; and includes an extensive resources section. The Autism Book provides all the information and reassurance parents need.

Historic Sears, Roebuck and Co. Catalog Plant John Oharenko,Homan Arthington Foundation,2006-03-29 Located on the site of the original Sears Tower, the historic Sears, Roebuck and Company catalog plant is one of the nation's most unique landmarks. Representing American ingenuity at its best, Richard Sears and Julius Rosenwald combined technology, commerce, and social science with bricks and mortar to build "the World's Largest Store" on Chicago's West Side. Completed in 1906, the plant housed nearly every conceivable product of the time: clothing, jewelry, furniture, appliances, tools, and more. The complex employed 20,000 people, and merchandise orders were processed and delivered by rail-within the same day. During the first two decades of the 20th century, almost half of America's families shopped the over 300 million catalogs published in that era. WLS (World's Largest Store) Radio broadcasted the Gene Autrey show from the top of the tower, and the first Sears retail store opened here on Homan Avenue and Arthington Street. In 1974, Sears moved to the current Sears Tower. Thanks to many individuals who fought to save these architecturally and historically important treasures, the administration building, the original Sears Tower, the catalog press-laboratory building, and the powerhouse remain today. There are currently plans for redeveloping these buildings into housing, office, and retail space. A new Homan Square Community Center stands on the site of the merchandise building.

Sears Crosstown in Memphis: From Catalogues to a Concourse Bill Haltom,2021-07 When it opened in 1927, Sears Crosstown, now Crosstown Concourse, was the southeastern regional warehouse and distribution center for the Sears Catalogue mail-order empire. Each day, more than forty-five thousand orders were processed by more than 1,500 workers. As a result, Sears Crosstown became known locally as the Wish Building. For more than half a century, the iconic building and its surrounding neighborhood flourished until the decline of Sears in the 1980s. For decades, the once dynamic destination for commerce was vacant and shuttered. Then a unique group of Memphians emerged to resurrect Sears Crosstown with a plan most thought was impossible. Bill Haltom, a native Memphian and writer, tells the story of the Wish Building--its past, present and future.
