Signature Spaces Paolo Moschino,Philip Vergeylen,Alexandra Black,2016-11-08 Moschino and Vergeylen have forged an unconventional approach to design that breathes new life into dated period properties, and endows modern buildings with warmth and charisma. Their effervescent approach to life keeps their interiors fresh and relaxed, attracting a young and discerning clientele in Europe and the US. The designers are energized by their global travels, informed by history, and inspired by encounters with people, places, film and art and fashion. The process by which their varied sources of inspiration translate into material form is explored in detail in Signature Spaces, providing a rare insight into how interior design works. Signature Spaces: Well-travelled Interiors by Paolo Moschino & Philip Vergleyn is an insider's view of the interior design process, revealing how any room can be transformed into a space for inspired living, as opposed to simply existing. Illustrated with hundreds of stunning photographs, drawings, and mood boards, the book explores the fascinating way in which the designers are energized by the world around them to create chic rooms that are never predictable. These are rooms that always feel welcoming, and always contain an element of surprise.

Warhol-isms Andy Warhol,2022-05-10 A unique collection of brilliant quotations from the legendary Pop artist One of the most influential artists of his time and ours, Andy Warhol is nearly as renowned for what he said as for what he did. Indeed, he is so quotable that things he never said are endlessly and plausibly attributed to him, including, fittingly, the most celebrated fake Warhol saying—"In the future, everyone will be world-famous for 15 minutes." Warhol-isms separates legend from fact to present a unique and comprehensive collection of authentic quotations from the Pop artist. Gathered from interviews and other primary sources, these deadpan, droll, ironic, and sincere gems—in which a superficial embrace of superficiality often disguises provocative, unconventional ideas—provide compelling insights into the life and work of an artist who has left an indelible mark on art and popular culture. Select quotations from the book: I think an artist is anybody who does something well. I went to [a psychiatrist] once, and he never called me back. They always say that time changes things, but you actually have to change them yourself. I've never met a person I couldn't call a beauty. New things are always better than old things. I'm still a commercial artist. I was always a commercial artist.

Non Non Biyori Atto, 2015 Welcome to the most isolated school in all Japan: Asahigaoka Branch School. With only five students enrolled and cows roaming through the town, the term boonies doesn't even begin to describe it. But this doesn't mean Asahigaoka is void of adventure. Whether it's outfoxing a crafty rabbit, surviving an ever-escalating sibling battle, or impressing the cool new transfer student, the endearing kids at Asahigaoka Branch School prove you don't need the big city to have a big-hearted story. Join the precocious first-grader Miyauchi Renge, squabbling sisters Koshigaya Natsumi and Komari, and ultra-sophisticated transfer student Ichijo Hotaru as they explore the funny, strange, and adorable world of Non Non Biyori.

Darxination Viviana Ioan, 2018-05-27 Whoever governs this world? Are we supposed to take the lead, each of us on our own? The answer seems to be an invitation to play. Black humor, dark past, hectic present, all pulsating in Dark Street. Carola and Marcus are trapped between their long buried past and the present -- fiendish, delusive. But they also find themselves squeezed between current trends running in opposite directions. On the one hand the paleo trend toward everything simple, and mythical. On the other hand, the technological one, which permeates every aspect of modern life. They have epiphanies of values, and of old myths, either reversed or twinned, but mostly mixed up. Intriguingly, epiphanies seem to confuse them further. Their own gender identities get all mixed up, and their very passions as well. Everything in the contemporary world seems to be governed by the principle of uncertainty. The tendency toward total freedom brings this principle closer to mundane existence. Reversal, merge, rhyme, and twinning are present in the novel at the level of both plot and language. Carola's and Marcus's story lines gradually intertwine, for them to finally meet and indulge in a fascination with darkness. There is hope for them to find light side by side. Some kind of relief, enabled by understanding. The novel was inspired by my own quasi-creative boards online. I somehow wanted to understand my liking of them, trace back the psychology behind near-creative online activity. One such board gave the very title, DARXINATION, and all the heroine's recent paintings are actual such creations. In a world of confusion, Carola is trying to take up her passion again. Yet she is no longer sure whether it is painting, music, or the art of words, if not some new kind of art. Current themes tackled: gender identity, political correctness, self-actualization, self-teaching, childhood trauma, and the seeming supremacy of visual arts over the written word. Underlying, is the idea that music might conquer all. DARXINATION reads like an invitation to indulge in the pleasures of the present-day multi-leveled play.
