The Stray Shopping Carts of Eastern North America Julian

Montague, 2023-10-30 A taxonomy we didn't know we needed for identifying and cataloging stray shopping carts by artist and photographer Julian Montague. Abandoned shopping carts are everywhere, and yet we know so little about them. Where do they come from? Why are they there? Their complexity and history baffle even the most careful urban explorer. Thankfully, artist Julian Montague has created a comprehensive and well-documented taxonomy with The Stray Shopping Carts of Eastern North America. Spanning thirty-three categories from damaged, fragment, and plow crush to plaza drift and bus stop discard, it is a tonic for times defined increasingly by rhetoric and media and less by the plain objects and facts of the real world. Montague's incomparable documentation of this common feature of the urban landscape helps us see the natural and man-made worlds—and perhaps even ourselves—new. First published in 2006 to great perplexity and acclaim alike, Montague's book now appears in refreshed and expanded form. Told in an exceedingly dry voice, with full-color illustrations and photographs throughout, it is both rigorous and absurd, offering a strangely compelling vision of how we approach, classify, and understand the environments around us. A new afterword sheds light on the origins of the project.

Carty the Shopping Cart Joseph DeMichele, Adela DeMichele, 2020-01-09 Carty, the Shopping Cart, is a happy shopping cart that loves to help customers shop and carry their items. Carty especially likes to help Mrs. Sarris, one of his favorite customers. After helping Mrs. Sarris, Carty realizes that she left her sparkling silver pen in his cart. He tries to catch up to her, as she left the parking lot, but he could not. He ends up lost. Being lost is scary, but you have to stop and think of how you can find your way back to where you belong. Could it be a familiar place? Could it be a familiar sound? Could it be a familiar telephone number or street? Carty is on a mission to find his way back to the Supermarket. Will Carty find his way back to the supermarket? Shopping carts are very important to the stores where they belong. This book delivers a message for children and adults alike. Let's get abandoned shopping carts back to their store owners.

How the Shopping Cart Explains Global Consumerism Andrew Warnes, 2019-01-29
Picture a familiar scene: long lines of shoppers waiting to check out at the grocery store, carts filled to the brim with the week's food. While many might wonder what is in each cart, Andrew Warnes implores us to consider the symbolism of the cart itself. In his inventive new book, Warnes examines how the everyday shopping cart is connected to a complex web of food production and consumption that has spread from the United States throughout the world. Today, shopping carts represent choice and autonomy for consumers, a recognizable American way of life that has become a global phenomenon. This succinct and accessible book provides an excellent overview of consumerism and the globalization of American culture.

Design thinking fosters innovation, creativity, and even empathy--essential learning for students. I Ain't Doin' It Heather Land, 2020-02-04 Social media comedian and southern sweetheart Heather Land delivers her hilarious and unfiltered wisdom on the frustrating everyday moments that drive us crazy. Heather Land has something to say about almost everything in life—the unbelievable, inconceivable, and downright frustrating—and why she “ain’t doin’ it.” Now, Heather shines a light on the (occasional) ridiculousness of life through a series of hilarious essays, dishing on everything from Walmart and ex-husbands to Southern beauty pageants and unfortunate trips to the gynecologist. I Ain’t Doin’ It reminds us that when it comes to life’s messy moments, it’s all about perspective—and that we too can say, I ain’t doin’ it! Perfect for fans of Jim Gaffigan, Anjelah Johnson, and Brian Regan, I Ain’t Doin’ It is a fun, breezy read for anyone who appreciates someone who tells it like it is and wants to embrace the lighter side of life.
