16th Annual Computer Security Applications Conference (ACSAC '00) ,2000 Annotation Forty-four papers from the December 2000 conference address challenges in the field of information security. The main areas of discussion are intrusion detection, security policy, public key infrastructure, access control, security architecture, e-commerce, and cryptography. Topics include extending Java for package-based access control, policy mediation for multi-enterprise environments, binding identities and attributes using digitally signed certificates, using operating system wrappers to increase the resiliency to commercial firewalls, calculating costs for quality of security service, and the Chinese Remainder Theorem and its application in a high-speed RSA crypto chip. Business Ecosystems Martin Reeves,Ulrich Pidun,2022-10-24 A business ecosystem may be defined as a dynamic group of largely independent economic players that create products or services that together constitute a coherent solution for customers. Business ecosystems are high on the agenda of many business leaders. They are now highly prevalent, frequently disruptive, and all companies should add the required capabilities to their strategy toolbox. Business Ecosystems is based on more than three years of research by the BCG Henderson Institute, their work with dozens of companies on their ecosystem strategies, and hundreds of conversations with academics, managers, investors, entrepreneurs, and government employees. Part I reviews the fundamentals of business ecosystems – definition, design, success factors, governance, strategies. Part II elaborates on special topics, such as trust and data, industry applications, and their potential for sustainability. Ecosystems might not be a solution for all problems, but they are also not a transitory phenomenon. The field is evolving fast and as the success factors for creating, managing and participating in business ecosystems are increasingly accepted and understood, many established and emerging companies have the opportunity to put themselves in a position to unlock great innovation and value creation potential by engaging in ecosystem business models. This book will support business professionals and executives on this journey.

Electronic Health Records and Communication for Better Health Care François Mennerat, 2002 The annual EuroRec Working Conference has become the traditional gathering for all the partners involved on the scene of Electronic Health Records (EHRs). Smart Global Megacities T.M. Vinod Kumar, 2021-06-13 This book, the second volume, highlights 7 out of a total of about 36 megacities in the World which by definition have 10 million inhabitants. The cities/chapters presented in this book are based on recent advance such as the wide use of ICT, IOT, e-Governance, e-Democracy, smart economy and flattening and acceleration of the world that is taking place in recent times as reported by 3 times Pulitzer Prize Winner Thomas Friedman. It therefore departs from other ideologies where only a certain megacity qualifies for the title of smart global megacities while in reality every megacity can, and presents how smart global megacities can be created.
