Haunted Colleges & Universities of Massachusetts Renee Mallett,2013-08-20 Get an education in ghostly history—and meet the spirits that haunt schools in Boston and beyond. Includes photos! Among the throngs of students attending colleges and universities across the state of Massachusetts linger the apparitions of those who met their untimely ends on campus grounds. In 1953, Eugene O'Neill, an Irish American playwright, died in room 401 of the Sheraton Hotel—today a Boston University dormitory. Named Writer's Corridor in O'Neill's honor, the fourth floor draws students in search of creative inspiration and a sighting of the ghostly writer. A grief-stricken widow roams the halls of Winthrop Hall at Endicott College in her pink wedding gown. She threw herself from her widow's walk after receiving news of her husband's death at sea, and is known to students today as the "pink lady." Author Renee Mallett reveals the stories behind these "school spirits"—and offers eerie stories from over two dozen colleges and universities throughout the Bay State.

Smoke Screen Sandra Brown, 2008 When newswoman Britt Shelley wakes up to find herself in bed with Jay Burgess, a rising star detective in the Charleston police force, she remembers nothing of how she got there-- or of how Jay wound up dead. A disgraced firefighter realizes that the newswoman, Jay's last sexual conquest, might be his only chance to get personal vindication-- and justice for the seven victims of a police station fire that merits further investigation.

Philippine Speculative Fiction Volume 1 Dean Francis Alfar, 2012-04-10 A courtesan who secretly controls flame; A baby that eats soil; A professor tasked with proving the masculinity of a national hero; A quest to create a kite that reaches the stars. Philippine Speculative Fiction Volume 1 is the first of several anthologies that showcases the rich variety of Philippine literature. Between these covers, you will find magic realism next to science fiction, traditional fantasy beside slipstream, and imaginary worlds rubbing shoulders with alternate Philippine history--demonstrating that the literature of the fantastic is alive and well in the Philippines.

Into the Smoke with New York's Bravest Thomas Barry, Michael Dick, 2021 Into the Smoke is a work of photojournalism and traces Tom Barry's career as a firefighter--spanning parts of four decades in FDNY--along with the forty-year effort of noted freelance photographer Michael Dick. The era covered in this book is best known in the fire service on the east coast of the United States as the War Years, the urban decay and social unrest that started in the 1960s and persisted, continually fed by arson for profit, into the 1990s. Firefighting is a truckie blindly crawling down a smoke-filled hallway, searching for victims, hoping to find them before the fire does. It is an engine operator, calling on the last ounce of strength and pushing deeper into the apartment to extinguish the fire in the rear bedroom and beat the Red Devil one more time. Fellowship of the firefighter Fantasies from childhood intertwine with the terror of impending death, the pain of disfigurement, the joys of success, and the comradeship and respect of their peers. Many of the fires depicted in this book predate OSHA personal protective equipment (PPE) requirements. This period was a fertile stage for innovation and development of firefighting techniques and equipment.

The Fire That Changed Everything Russell Ashe, 2017-12-05 On December 17, 2005, the city of Barre lost four kids and their mom in the worst fire the city has ever had. Just before Christmas in an apartment protected by three working smoke detectors, this family never got out. In fact, this family never even knew there was a fire until it was too late. The only person able to get out was only able to by chance. Of all the things this individual said after the fire, most disturbing was the lack of any smoke alarms sounding. An apartment full of toxic smoke with working smoke alarms and yet they all remained silent. That morning was filled with devastation, triumph, acts of incredible heroism and bravery, an injured firefighter and four others almost making the ultimate sacrifice. Everyone who was there had their own lives torn apart and will never be the same again. This fire rocked our community to its core and yet it's a scenario that is played out all over the world. In the months that followed this fire, we learned why the smoke alarms didn't sound. We also learned why smoke alarms all over the world will not sound today, leaving all the occupants in extreme danger should their home burn. This is not only a story about some of the greatest men and women on the face of this earth, but a tribute to the victims from that morning. Inside, you will learn what they didn't know so that you can protect your family from the risk of fire. At the end of the day, these people will have died so that you may live.

The New and Collected Poems of Jane Gentry Jane Gentry, 2017-08-18 Jane Gentry (1941--2014) possessed an uncanny ability to spin quietly expansive and wise verses from small details, objects, and remembered moments. The hallmarks of her work are insight into nature, faith, the quotidian, and -- perhaps most prominently -- the grounding of her home and family in the state of Kentucky. This innovative poet and critic was for many years one of the animating spirits of literary life in the region. Gentry and her daughters collaborated with editor Julia Johnson to organize this definitive collection. The result is an important literary anthology that assembles Gentry's most celebrated poems alongside new, previously unpublished works. Johnson uses Gentry's own methodology to arrange the poems in sequences comparable to those found in her previous collections. This organization showcases the range of the poet's work and the flexibility of her style, which is sometimes ironic and humorous; sometimes poignant; but always clear, intelligent, and revelatory. This volume includes two full-length collections of poetry in their entirety -- A Garden in Kentucky and Portrait of the Artist as a White Pig. The final section features Gentry's unpublished work, bringing together her early poems, verses written for loved ones, and a large group of more recent work that may have been intended for future collections. Alternately startling and heart-wrenching, The New and Collected Poems of Jane Gentry offers a valuable retrospective of the celebrated poet's work.

Smoke R. G. Begora, 2006-01-01 September 11, 2001 changed the lives of everyone in the country. The horror of that day changed the life of Capt. Charles Sinclair of the FDNY. His wife Josie fears for his safety and believes there is more danger in fighting fires in New York. She didn't want him to give up his career, but she didn't want him doing it in New York either. Unknown to Sinclair, she uses his name and applies for the position of fire chief in the small town of Nettles, Mississippi. To her surprise, he is one of the final candidates for the position. Sinclair reluctantly agrees to talk to the selection committee, and against his expectations, he is offered the job. After the telephone interview, he agrees to the move because he has a sincere desire to help the small department overcome their poor reputation and train them to become a cohesive, highly trained, working team. Unknown to the city of Nettles, Charles Sinclair is black. He is about to enter a world of political intrigue, racism and arson.

Hide & Seek Suman Sharma, 2019-02-25 All of us involuntarily play hide and seek in our emotional lives. We tend to hide love, jealousy, anger, or sadness for some valid reasons and seek, inside and outside, something beyond our reach and lost in this vast world. Hide and Seek is a collection of poems that reflect on relationships, mundane affairs, dreams, aspirations and sweet and sour chance meetings in the life. A few poems are a fusion of engineering and literature. As always, two prominent emotions of love and hatred, are often portrayed. Can love be programmed? Can envy be flow charted? Can anger be modelled? Can a lie hide the truth? "Ready or not, here I come with my poems!" Play a humble game and enter the realm of poetry to put reins to your wandering mind. Ride the roller coaster of life and have chance encounters of different kind. Bridge the gap between dream and reality. No bar on day dreaming. No complicated tough words and rules. Hear no evil. Beware of myths, dark web and the delusion of charlatans. You will also like to splash in puddles of humour, sometimes but not always. Finally, your conscience will be free from robotic control. So, enjoy my maiden and modest effort!

Reflections in Smoke Charles W. Wright, 2003-07 All Angie Benedetto ever wanted was to fly airplanes, travel to exotic places and maybe find a guy who didn't think that high-roll collars and a duck's ass hairstyle were the height of fashion. But she made a mistake along the way. Now Angie's being chased through a cannibal-infested swamp by Vatican mercenaries who want to kill her and the only guy who can help her out has been dead for half-a-dozen years. The Missionary Position tells the story of a smart-mouthed, Italian girl from Brooklyn who threatens the Vatican's control of the world's largest gold mine. Angie defies her neighborhood's traditions to live out her dream of flying airplanes in an exotic country. But she never dreamt of meeting someone like Charles Aldridge. Charles Abbott Aldridge, a rich WASP anthropologist studying cannibals, covertly works for his father to regain control of his gold mine in Irian Jaya. Luchino Cardinal Volente, the corrupt Vatican Secretary of State, also plans to control the mine, but the Cardinal's brother Anthony has a scheme of his own.
