Formal to Practical Security Véronique Cortier, Claude Kirchner, Mitsuhiro Okada, Hideki Sakurada, 2009-05-14 The security issues set by the global digitization of our society have had, and will continue to have, a crucial impact at all levels of our social organization, including, just to mention a few, privacy, economics, environmental policies, national sovereignty, medical environments. The importance of the collaborations in the various fields of computer science to solve these problems linked with other sciences and techniques is clearly recognized. Moreover, the collaborative work to bridge the formal theory and practical applications becomes increasingly important and useful. In this context, and since France and Japan have strong academic and industrial backgrounds in the theory and practice of the scientific challenges set by this digitized world, in 2005 we started a formal French–Japanese collaboration and workshop series on computer security. The three first editions of these French–Japanese Computer Security workshops in Tokyo, September 5–7, 2005 and December 4–5, 2006 and in Nancy, March 13–14, 2008 were very fruitful and were accompanied by several important research exchanges between France and Japan. Because of this success, we launched a call for papers dedicated to computer security from its foundation to practice, with the goal of gathering together final versions of the rich set of papers and ideas presented at the workshops, yet opening the call to everyone interested in contributing in this context. This volume presents the selection of papers arising from this call and this international collaboration.

Projective Varieties with Unexpected Properties Ciro Ciliberto, Anthony V. Geramita, Brian Harbourne, Rosa Maria Miró-Roig, Kristian Ranestad, 2008-08-22 This volume contains refereed papers related to the lectures and talks given at a conference held in Siena (Italy) in June 2004. Also included are research papers that grew out of discussions among the participants and their collaborators. All the papers are research papers, but some of them also contain expository sections which aim to update the state of the art on the classical subject of special projective varieties and their applications and new trends like phylogenetic algebraic geometry. The topic of secant varieties and the classification of defective varieties is central and ubiquitous in this volume. Besides the intrinsic interest of the subject, it turns out that it is also relevant in other fields of mathematics like expressions of polynomials as sums of powers, polynomial interpolation, rank tensor computations, Bayesian networks, algebraic statistics and number theory.
