Give Me Excess of It Richard Gill,2012-11-01

Richard Gill is perhaps this country's most passionate advocate of music and the richness it brings to life and to society in general. His own musical credentials include: conductor with Opera Australia, Opera Queensland, the Sydney Symphony Orchestra, Canberra Symphony Orchestra, Australian Symphony Orchestra, and current director of the Victorian Opera. He is one of - if not the - most respected and admired musical figures in Australia. He is also one of the best known, having been the most memorable figure in the ABC's wonderful documentary series 'Operatunity Oz' (2006 and 2007). In this wonderful memoir he writes about his life in music, and the music in his life. Warm, funny, fascinating and always passionate and informed about the world he loves most, this is a book for anyone who enjoys music.

International Music Calendar ,1961

From Farmer to Fiddler Helen Bunday,2007 Donald Hazelwood's first public performance as a violinist at the age of 4 was abandoned in tears, but he persisted. Then, aged 8, it seemed that his prodigious talent would be lost when he returned to his father's remote sheep and wheat farm. With no available teacher, he practised alone in the machine shed. His father's premature death left him with the responsibility of harvesting 400 acres in his final year at school. He overcame all handicaps to reach the peak of his profession. As the Concertmaster of the Sydney Symphony Orchestra for 33 years, Donald Hazelwood, AO OBE, became one of Australia's most well-known and respected musicians. His story gives a vivid picture of rural life in Australia in the early decades of the last century; relates his encounters with many conductors from Goossens to de Waart, even Danny Kaye, and describes the creation of the Sydney Opera House. He gives insight into the experience of performing and relates his adventures on many overseas tours, including pioneering chamber concerts from Burma to Hanoi.

Taking Its Place on the World Stage McKinsey and Company, 1995

The Saga of Sydney Opera House Peter Murray, 2003-09-02 Peter Murray's compelling and highly readable biography of the building presents both sides of the story. Using previously unpublished files and papers, Murray has managed to unravel one of the most intriguing architectural controversies of recent times - what really happened when they built Sydney Opera House...

The House Helen Pitt, 2018-08-15 The extraordinary story of the 20th century's most recognisable building, with new insights into the people involved and the controversy that surrounded its construction. Winner of the 2018 Walkley Book Award The best-loved building in Australia nearly didn't get off the drawing board. When it did, the lives of everyone involved in its construction were utterly changed: some for the better, many for the worse. Helen Pitt tells the stories of the people behind the magnificent white sails of the Sydney Opera House. From the famous conductor and state premier who conceived the project; to the two architects whose lives were so tragically intertwined; to the workers and engineers; to the people of Sydney, who were alternately beguiled and horrified as the drama unfolded over two decades. With access to diaries, letters, and classified records, as well as her own interviews with people involved in the project, Helen Pitt reveals the intimate back story of the building that turned Sydney into an international city. It is a tale worthy of Shakespeare himself. 'A drama-filled page turner' - Ita Buttrose AO OBE 'Helen Pitt tells us so much about the building of the Sydney Opera House we've never heard before' - Bob Carr, former Premier of NSW 'Australia in the seventies: mullets, platform shoes and, miraculously, the Opera House. At least we got one of them right. A great read.' - Amanda Keller, WSFM breakfast presenter

Music and Image in Concert Meghan Stevens, 2009
In 'Music and Image in Concert' composer, graphic designer and writer Meghan Stevens explores the implications to music when images are presented in music concerts. But how do artistic directors ensure that listeners aren't more engaged by the images than the music? Stevens presents a number of concepts that aim to maintain musical salience over added image in the instrumental music concert. This is to avoid the situation that occurs in film where the music is backgrounded and often not heard or not remembered. These concepts cover a range of music-image characteristics including narrative, synchronisation, rhythm, tempo, meaning, emotion, structure, genre, integration, interpretation, voice and text. As there is little research in this new field, these original concepts draw on a number of other disciplines including film, music-video, multimedia, cognitive psychology, psychomusicology, education and music philosophy. This book provides a practical approach for adding image to the music concert.

Symphony of Australia Gavin Lockley, 2013 This 102 page full colour book brings you a fresh perspective on Australia's history as reflected in Gavin Lockley's epic Symphony of Australia. Included in the book is a 50 minute audio CD, the premier recording of the Symphony by the Sydney Symphony Orchestra. A memorable reading, learning and listening experience for popular classical music lovers of all ages. First movement - Dreamtime - the visions, beliefs and stories of Australia's first people .Second movement - The Ships - the arrival of The First Fleet and the very early days of colonial settlement. Third movement - Red Centre

- exploration of our continent and the extraordinary story of Burke and Wills .Fourth movement - Pie Jesu - a lament for all Australians whose lives have been sacrificed in wars .Fifth movement - Immigration Scherzo - a celebration of Australia's unique multicultural identity .Sixth movement - My Country Australia - a rousing anthem based on Dorothea Mackellar's verse.

Berlioz the Bear Jan Brett,2016-04-26 A Reading Rainbow Feature Title Zum, zum, buzz.... zum, zum, buzz... What's that strange buzz coming from the double bass? Berlioz has no time to investigate, because he and his bear orchestra are due at the gala ball in the village square at eight. But Berlioz is so worried about his buzzing bass that he steers the mule and his bandwagon full of magicians into a hole in the road and gets stuck. Time is running out, and if a rooster, a cat, a billy goat, a plow horse, and an ox can't rescue the bandwagon, who can? As the suspense mounts, intricate borders reveal the village animals making their way to the square one by one. When the clock chimes eight, the animals, ready to dance, have filled the square-but there's no sign of Berlioz. Jan Brett's glorious illustrations invite the eye to linger over exquisite details and humorous nuances that enhance the story. This delightful cumulative tale is one that will be looked at again and again.

Rent Jonathan Larson,1997-05-21 In these pages, Rent offers what most theater books can't: a chance to step behind the curtain and feel the electricity of a stage phenomenon as it unfolds. Rent has single-handedly reinvigorated Broadway and taken America by storm. Sweeping all major theater awards, including the 1996 Pulitzer Prize for drama, as well as four 1996 Tony Awards including Best Musical, Best Book, and Best Score for a Musical, Rent captures the heart and spirit of a generation, reflecting it onstage through the emotion of its stirring words and music, and the energy of its young cast. Now, for the first time, Rent comes to life on the page -- through vivid color photographs, the full libretto, and an utterly compelling behind-the-scenes oral history of the show's creation. Here is the exclusive and absolutely complete companion to Rent, told in the voices of the extraordinary talent behind its success: the actors, the director, the producers, and the librettist and composer himself, Jonathan Larson, whose sudden death, on the eve of the first performance, has made Rent's life-affirming message all the more poignant.

Transcendence Ashleigh Wilson,2023-09-26 A singer overwhelmed by his crowd. A dancer on ice above sea. A teenage girl, later to become a virtuoso conductor, jolted by the sound of a symphony. Two filmmakers exchange vows on their opera set. A photographer hears a Cistercian echo in the sails. And one night, after a Verdi curtain call, an audience member who looks a lot like Bob Dylan receives a private singing lesson in a theatre named after Australia's greatest opera star. For fifty years, the Sydney Opera House has elevated the spirits of all who enter its orbit. Here, fifty artists - from Simone Young to Nick Cave, Sylvie Guillem to Briggs, Baz Luhrmann to Carlotta - share their most indelible memories from a building that embodies the Australian contemporary experience.

The Australian Symphony from Federation to 1960

Rhoderick McNeill, 2016-03-23 The symphony retained its primacy as the most prestigious large-scale orchestral form throughout the first half of the twentieth century, particularly in Britain, Russia and the United States. Likewise, Australian composers produced a steady stream of symphonies throughout the period from Federation (1901) through to the end of the 1950s. Stylistically, these works ranged from essays in late nineteenth-century romanticism, twentieth-century nationalism, neo-classicism and near-atonality. Australian symphonies were most prolific during the 1950s, with 36 local entries in the 1951 Commonwealth Jubilee Symphony competition. This extensive repertoire was overshadowed by the emergence of a new generation of composers and critics during the 1960s who tended to regard older Australian music as old-fashioned and derivative. The Australian Symphony from Federation to 1960 is the first study of this neglected genre and has four aims: firstly, to show the development of symphonic composition in Australia from Federation to 1960; secondly, to highlight the achievement of the main composers who wrote symphonies; thirdly, to advocate the restoration and revival of this repertory; and, lastly, to take a step towards a recasting of the narrative of Australian concert music from Federation to the present. In particular, symphonies by Marshall-Hall, Hart, Bainton, Hughes, Le Gallienne and Morgan emerge as works of particular note.
