Edsel Ford and E.T. Gregorie Henry Dominguez,1999-06-29 The relationship that developed between Edsel Ford and E.T. Bob Gregorie (Ford Motor Company's first design chief) was unique in automotive history. Gregorie leaned heavily on Edsel for his support and protection, and Edsel depended on Gregorie for his creative abilities. Edsel Ford and E.T. Gregorie is the first book to provide in-depth analysis of how the early Fords, Mercurys and Lincolns were designed. Based on first hand discussions with Gregorie, author Henry Dominguez covers every major design of Gregorie's career. Automotive historians have listed the 1936 Zephyr, 1938 Zephyr, and 1939 Continental as Gregorie's greatest achievements. This book details the hows and whys of every Ford product designed under his tutelage.

The Guide to Truly Effective Cycling Pav Bryan, 2019-12-11 “[Pav] captures the essence of training from the rudimentary to advanced. I recommend this book for cyclists seeking more insight into this great sport.” — Kevin Livingston, Former Tour de France Cyclist and Coach Bike cycling has become a truly revolutionary exercise. Not only does it increase cardiovascular fitness, muscle strength, and flexibility, but it prevents and manages disease, decreases stress levels and body fat as well as improves posture and coordination. However, individuals who are new to structured training may become discouraged or frustrated. More often than not, it’s due to a lack of trained perseverance, which can only be gained with time and patience. The Guide to Truly Effective Cycling places a strong emphasis on the mentality behind cycle training and racing. Written for amateurs as well as seasoned professionals, this book delivers invaluable information about training, nutrition, and cycling tactics. Pav Bryan, Director at Spokes and BikeEtc Magazine’s Cycling Guru, attempts to show how an amateur athlete can make the best improvements in a unique way, without it becoming an unbearable challenge—or a chore—to read. This book is a great first step for anyone wanting to achieve their full potential on the bike. – Alain Lambert, CEO of Haute Route
