Rosacea 101 Brady Barrows,2007-10-11 Rosacea can be a frustrating and debilitating skin condition that is confusing and mysterious. What works for one rosacean as a regimen to control it may not work for another rosacean. Hence a rosacea sufferer presents the need for a basic understanding of rosacea in this book. Rosacea 101 will help you get control of this horrible rosacea beast. As a rosacea sufferer for many years I discovered in 1999 how to help control rosacea with diet. Over the years I have discovered what treatments rosacea sufferers have discussed works for them and noticed how frustrated rosacea can be. I founded the Rosacea Research & Development Institute in 2004 that is a 501 (c) (3) non-profit organization for rosaceans for finding the cure.

Emerging Technologies for Sustainable and Smart Energy Anirbid Sircar,Gautami Tripathi,Namrata Bist,Kashish Ara Shakil,Mithileysh Sathiyarayanan,2022-08-03 Considering the alarming issue of global climate change and its drastic consequences, there is an urgent need to further develop smart and innovative solutions for the energy sector. The goal of sustainable and smart energy for present and future generations can be achieved by integrating emerging technologies into the existing energy infrastructure. This book focuses on the role and significance of emerging technologies in the energy sector and covers the various technological interventions for both conventional and unconventional energy resources and provides meaningful insights into smart and sustainable energy solutions. The book also discusses future directions for smart and sustainable developments in the energy sector.

THE REPERCUSSIONS OF THE USAGE OF PROHIBITED SKIN LIGHTENERS IN SOUTH AFRICA Anele Lulu Ludidi,2019-09-18 CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION Every man and woman, regardless of age or ethnicity wants healthy, clear, even, and glowing skin. However, the challenge in achieving such good skin begins with blemishes, such as, uneven skin pigmentation or hyperpigmentation. Hyperpigmentation is a common and harmless condition in which patches of skin, on the face, the hands and other body parts that are frequently exposed to the sun become darker in colour than normal surrounding skin. This darkening occurs when melanin, which is the brown pigment that gives the skin its colour, absorbs the harmful ultraviolet rays that can do serious skin damage. The excessive absorption of the harmful ultraviolet rays leads to the formation of patches on the skin which are darker than normal surrounding skin as mentioned earlier. In essence, sunburn or hyperpigmentation develops when the amount of ultraviolet rays exceeds the protection that the skin's melanin could provide. Fortunately, there are preventive and treatment measures of hyperpigmentation which are very effective and do not compromise one's health. However, due to lack of knowledge, affordability and inferiority complexes, many people use prohibited skin lighteners which contain harmful ingredients, such as mercury, hydroquinone and topical corticosteroids to lighten hyperpigmentation and to even out their skins. All these prohibited skin lighteners have a desirable effect at first, such as evening out the skin tone and reducing the appearance of acne scars. However, the misuse of these skin lighteners is associated with various side effects, ranging from dermatitis, impaired wound healing, adrenal suppression, neurological effects, psychological effects, renal effects and negative impacts on birth and placenta weights in pregnant women, etc. The purpose of this research project is to determine the historical background of skin lightening in South Africa, name factors that motivate skin lightening, the benefits and repercussions of skin lightening, safer alternatives, and recommendations. The misuse of prohibited skin lighteners is a subject of interest which should be regarded as a national priority that requires the government to move beyond a mode of crisis management because of the far reaching and devastating effects it has on the entire citizenry of South Africa.

Innovate, Fund, Thrive Jean-François Denault,Philippe Tramoy,2024-02-02 Entrepreneurs in life sciences face a unique set of challenges when raising funds. These encompass fundamental issues like navigating R&D risks and crafting a robust commercialization strategy, extending to more challenging hurdles like adeptly handling intellectual property issues, overseeing the regulatory development and approval processes, as well as coordinating extended and expensive phases of research and development. The authors present this book in two parts. In the first part, the focus is on getting ready to meet potential partners and investors and includes topics such as identifying the information organizations and start-ups need, collecting and collating that information, and building a compelling story. The second part provides a deep dive into the investor's perspective, offering insights into how proposals are evaluated, along with an exclusive glimpse into the due diligence journey. Additionally, the book reveals Eight Classic Mistakes Life Science Entrepreneurs Make, offering valuable insights and lessons gained from the authors’ experiences. Although the book is divided into two parts, it maintains an interconnected approach. Both authors contribute insights based on their professional and personal experiences, offering feedback and perspectives throughout the book. Philippe provides his investor’s perspective on the preparation steps, while Jean-François shares his insights as an experienced entrepreneur, coach, and mentor. This collaborative approach enhances the depth and practicality of the guidance provided. Discover the art of preparing a compelling pitch, igniting excitement, and embarking on your path to fundraising success!
