Tic Tac Toe Zarina Macha,2023-05-31 Pronoun badges. Wumbo-assigned categories. Marriage is banned and the state is family. Welcome to the future. The year is F25. The Social Justice Party rules Britannia, now a member of the International Diversity League. Seventeen-year-old Dennis is a white En living in Clarendon, the capital of Britannia. Like all white Ens, he must atone for ten thousand years of toxic En-centric privilege and white supremacy. In a few months he will become an En of Service, living out his days as a servant of the state. One day, Dennis receives a letter in his Safe Space from an organisation promising to liberate Ens from their oppression. Led by the charismatic Harvey, their goal is to storm Parliament, take the city, and make Ens great again. Newfound hope bonds Dennis with Kiana, a beautiful Laz at his school. But Harvey's revolutionary rhetoric puts Dennis at odds with his relationship. Meanwhile, desperate acts of rebellion prove powerless against the state. Because if you're not with us, you're against us... A young adult dystopian novel, set in an age of political correctness and censorship. Prepare to be triggered.

Thinking Matters: Critical Thinking As Creative Problem Solving Gary R Mar,2021-08-10 The ancient Roman orator Horace (65 B.C.-8 B.C.) wrote, 'Control your mind or it will control you.' In today's society we are faced with more information, and more complex information, than ever. Faced with making decisions, we can feel overwhelmed and helpless. One way to become less helpless — to gain control over our lives — is to gain control over our own thinking. We can feel helpless when faced with this barrage of information, opinions, data, and conflicting arguments if we lack the skills to quickly grasp and critically evaluate them. This book is designed to impart these kinds of skills. Any course in a university should do more than teach information — in nearly every field, 'facts' become obsolete quickly. The goals of Thinking Matters are to help you: The text is punctuated with exercises or 'personal experiments' to challenge and stimulate your curiosity. These exercises may take the form of an inventory to be taken, a puzzle to be solved, or some thoughts to ponder. The first module Thinking Matters: Critical Thinking as Creative Problem Solving introduces the student to all the above topics – logic, probability, argument forms and fallacies, ethical reasoning, algorithms, and computational thinking – through logic puzzles and games and mathematical magic tricks.

Diophantine Approximation Robert F. Tichy, Hans Peter Schlickewei, Klaus Schmidt, 2008-07-10 This volume contains 21 research and survey papers on recent developments in the field of diophantine approximation, which are based on lectures given at a conference at the Erwin Schrödinger-Institute (Vienna, 2003). The articles are either in the spirit of more classical diophantine analysis or of a geometric or combinatorial flavor. Several articles deal with estimates for the number of solutions of diophantine equations as well as with congruences and polynomials.

The Whole-brain Solution Tricia Armstrong, 2003 Explores the higher-order thinking tools that are essential for students to become effective learners. It includes lessons that encourage students to understand and integrate information so that they can use what they know to solve problems and make decisions.

Mathematical Bafflers Angela Dunn, 1980-05 Over 155 truly challenging conundrums for the expert puzzlist. Algebraic amusements, geometric exercises, diophantine diversions, problems in logic and deduction, probability posers, insight puzzles, and assorted number theory problems. Advanced mathematical skills are only sporadically required, the majority of problems are accessible to just about anyone. 130 woodcut illustrations by Ed Kysar.
