Hearts, Minds, and Coffee Kent Hinckley, 2014-05-01 The Army assigned four anti-war soldiers to infested Viet Cong territory and expected them to be killed as had happened to the previous team. Instead they survived by befriending the locals in the village of Phan Lac. When a North Vietnamese division makes a surprise attack against a nearby U.S. regiment, these four dissidents despite enormous odds devise a ruse to save fellow Americans and the Vietnamese villagers. The plan was working until the Regiment's commander's helicopter, ignoring radio messages to leave, gets shot down nullifying the effective plan. The four soldiers become more exposed. Faced with certain death, they resort to radical tactics in hopes of saving Americans in the regiment, the villagers, the men in the chopper, and their lives.

A Piece of My Heart Keith Walker, 2009-01-21 "Records the memories of a war in the words of those women courageous enough to walk into hell."—San Francisco Chronicle A decade after America pulled out of Vietnam, the seeds of the often heart-wrenching oral history, A Piece of My Heart, were sown when writer and filmmaker Keith Walker met a woman who had been an emergency room nurse in Cu Chi and Da Nang. She and 25 others recount the time they spent in country as part of 15,000 American women who volunteered or served as nurses and in the military. NOTE: This edition does not include photographs. "The emotional current never falters."—The New York Times Book Review

Quad Plus and Indo-Pacific Jagannath P. Panda, Ernest Gunasekara-Rockwell, 2021-12-28 This book explores how the Quad Plus mechanism is set to reshape the global multilateral economic and security co-operations between Quad partner countries and the rest of the world. With the Quad partners — Australia, India, Japan and the United States — seeing deteriorating ties with China, the book provides a holistic understanding of the reasons why Quad Plus matters and what it means for the post-COVID Indo-Pacific and Asian order. It goes beyond the existing literature of the global Post-COVID reality and examines how Quad Plus can grow and find synergy with national and multilateral Indo-Pacific initiatives. The chapters analyze the mechanism's uncharacteristic yet active approach of including countries like South Korea, Israel, Brazil, New Zealand and ASEAN/Vietnam for their successful handling of the pandemic crisis, thereby reshaping the new world's geopolitical vision. A unique study focused solely on the intricacies and the broader dialogue of the 'Quad Plus' narrative, the book caters to strategic audiences as well as academics researching International Relations, Politics, and Indo-Pacific and Asian Studies.

Brown Water Red Blood Bruce Gaughran, 2017-10-18 Novella - Four stories, one poem, and Background on CTF-117 taken from the author's personal experiences during his tour of duty as a River Rat with the Mobile Riverine Force in the Mekong Delta, Republic of Vietnam. Plus, four other stories that reflect the trials and tribulations of those of us who served during this contentious time in history. It has been 37 years and he still cannot forget. You would think after all this time he could put these thoughts and emotions aside and get on with his life. Brown Water - Red Blood is a story of survivor's guilt. It is the author's way of atoning for coming home in one piece. Many times during his tour of duty, he said, That could have just as well been me. 1. The Look - First impressions of Vietnam 2. Will I Finally Find Some Peace? - Reflects upon the many memories of the author's tour of duty. 3. Brothers in Blood - During a firefight with the Viet Cong, the situation becomes worse when a Tango boat takes a B40 rocket hit. 4. No Two Minute Warning - The sinking of a support ship by a Viet Cong 'sapper' brings the reality of war even closer. Two minutes can change a life forever, 5. Will I Ever Find Some Peace 6. Background information on the Mobile Riverine Force. Other Stories: - Let's Not Talk About It is about finding peace after returning from the war. Unfortunately, not everyone was able to put their experiences behind them. PTSD has always been an issue for returning combatants, but Vietnam raised the awareness of this condition substantially. Some wanted to do nothing but talk about their tour of duty, while others closed off the outside world as they struggled to find a way to cope with what happened over there. Some found solace in a bottle or in drugs. Others refused to talk about it and continued to replay their experiences within their minds.- Tip of the Iceberg is about how a newly married couple's relationship changes when the husband receives his draft notice.- Cruel World is about what happened on my first trip to Vietnam. I was aboard an ammunition ship that rearmed (replenished) the 7th Fleet carrier groups on Yankee Station and cruisers and destroyers in the Corps' areas off the coast of South Vietnam during the Vietnamese Counteroffensive.- A Patriot Found His Home is my testament to the men and women who served in our armed forces. What readers have said about Brown Water Red Blood: Well written and insightful Fight for Survival Excellent portrayal of the Vietnam War Five Stars! Thankful for men like you.

Catholic Vietnam Charles Keith, 2012-10-18 Keith explores the complex position of the Catholic Church in modern Vietnamese history. Much like the revolutionary ideologies and struggles in the name of the Vietnamese nation the revolution in Vietnamese Catholic life polarized the place of the new Church in post-colonial Vietnamese politics and society.

Vietnam Mitch Epstein, 1997 A photographer's unnerving and poetic odyssey through modern-day Vietnam. Mitch Epstein's evocative pictures reveal a complicated Vietnam that few Americans have ever seen. This is not a document about the war, nor is it the pastoral idyll other photographers have portrayed. Vietnam, through Epstein's eyes, is a disturbing and sublime palimpsest. Vietnam: A Book of Changes interprets a culture and landscape largely cut off from the West for the last thirty years, and now open to a market economy and a new relationship to America. The photographs are suffused with the rawness of Vietnamese life lived on the economic and political edge. Under the layer of friendship lies the tension of politics; under beauty lies violence; under the stark faces of remote villagers is the entrepreneurial momentum drawing them to the city; and under the remnants of war is an artistic bohemia grappling with new freedoms and continued censorship. Epstein's groundbreaking art photography addresses our senses and intellect equally. These pictures bring us into the heart of Vietnam.

Public Diplomacy in Vietnam Vu Lam, 2022-08-12 This book explores how Vietnam's leadership conceptualises and conducts public diplomacy (PD) and offers a comparative analysis with regional powers. Drawing on social constructivism as its theoretical framework it investigates the rationale behind an authoritarian regime's implementation of public diplomacy to contribute to a better understanding of the broader framework of foreign-domestic policy. This theoretical and practical exploration of Vietnam's PD in cases of cultural diplomacy, South China Sea diplomacy and online activism situates it in the general academic and theoretical discussion on soft power. Key variables to the conceptualisation and conduct of Vietnam's PD, namely national interest, national identity and changing information technologies, especially the Internet and social media, are also thoroughly investigated. With crosscutting themes ranging from politics and international relations to communication studies, it will appeal to students and scholars of identity politics, populism and nationalism.

An Advisor in Vietnam 1968 Plus My Career History James L. Jones, 2016-11-04 The following story is about my tour in Vietnam in 1968. It begins with a summary of my career in the United States Air Force attending Officer Candidate School, receiving a Commission which lead up to my tour in Vietnam. I then show the official military information I received when I attended the Military Assistance Advisors Training Institute in Washington, DC for a month just prior to going to Vietnam. The Institute gave us future Advisors a background of the situation in the country of Vietnam during that period of wartime. The reason I'm including it is that it was the Pentagon's Official analysis we received prior to entering that War Zone at that particular time. Because I had been selected to be an Advisor I especially had to have the information provided by this four week course. What follows is the same information that we received at this course. I then I tell my story of my tour of duty in Vietnam. I decided to also include some copies of letters I sent home to my folks in the United States during my wartime tour. These letters give an insight into my view of the situation. I then tell of my first retirement from the Air Force and my stint at the FCC and later at OSHA, also my time at VOA, NTIA, JPL, and finally at NASA Headquarters where

I finally retired from the government. I also include my career in the Federal Government working for the Occupational Safety & Health Administration (OSHA), the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), the Department of Energy (DOE), the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA). Note: the names of those involved are not their real names. This action was taken in an effort to protect their privacy after this many years since the war ended.

Living and Breathing Keith M. Nightingale, 2015-10-10 The basis of this book is my initial introduction into combat in Vietnam as a 1st Lieutenant with the Vietnamese Ranger infantry. I was the Deputy Senior Advisor to the Vietnamese 52d Ranger Battalion located at Xuan Loc, Long Khanh Province, III Corps, South Vietnam. The book is 95 percent fact and 5 percent speculation regarding a major action the battalion fought in June of 1967 near the Dong Ngai River, War Zone D. The action begins with a Viet Cong (VC) soldier surrendering to U.S. elements in Long Khanh. He related that a VC company was building a base camp near the Dong Ngai along a stream named Suoi Long. The intelligence led the commanding general of the 18th ARVN Division to assign the task of finding and destroying the camp to the 52d Rangers. The Rangers deployed in less than 24 hours from initial notification to a Landing Zone approximately 2½ kilometers from the reported base camp. The Rangers were immediately engaged and ambushed by a full strength Main Force VC battalion backed by an entire VC regiment, which quickly engaged the trapped Rangers that night and early morning. No U.S. support was available other than long range artillery. In desperation, the Ranger battalion commander, the following morning at dawn, ordered a covering assault into the attacking VC by one company to be followed by a withdrawal under pressure of the remainder of the battalion aided by more than 72 tactical airstrikes within a 45 minute period. As I regrouped into our new perimeter at around 10 a.m., I counted a total of 32 Rangers left from an original assault force of 450. During the Christmas period in December 1967, a number of Ranger prisoners held by the VC during this action were released back to our control as a good will gesture. During the debrief of the ex-POWs, they independently related that they were told by their captors that the entire action was planned at the highest level in order to trap and destroy a major South Vietnamese unit. We had no reason to doubt the authenticity of the report and this book is based on the supposition that it is true. The character of Hu, the informant, and his actions are real. The death of Gen Do, COSVN commander, and the effect of the B-52 Arc Light strike with subsequent movement into Laos, is as the former POWs related to us. The portrayal of Do and his planning briefings are conjecture. The remainder of the description is as I saw the action, the players, and the effects. For this action, the 52d Ranger Battalion was awarded a second U.S. Presidential Unit Citation, one of the very few Vietnamese units to garner two of the highest awards the U.S. can proffer upon a military unit, U.S. or foreign.

Soft Power and Diplomatic Strategies in Asia and the Middle East Zreik, Mohamad, 2024-04-01 In a world witnessing the transformative rise of China, the intricate dynamics of its soft power diplomacy have become a focal point of global attention. As geopolitical landscapes shift, the need to understand how China crafts its foreign policy, especially through the strategic use of soft power, becomes imperative. Soft Power and Diplomatic Strategies in Asia and the Middle East is a crucial resource to unraveling these complexities. The book addresses the post-COVID-19 changes in China's soft power application, providing an in-depth, comparative analysis of its diplomatic endeavors in the Middle East and East Asia. By exploring cultural exchanges, economic collaborations, and religious engagements, the book offers nuanced insights into China's strategies, making it an indispensable tool for academics, policymakers, diplomats, and those intrigued by contemporary geopolitics. This book aims to dissect the multifaceted approaches China employs to achieve its diplomatic objectives. From cultural initiatives to economic partnerships and religious engagements, the book unravels the adaptability and complexity of China's foreign policy mechanisms. Its primary objective is to provide a comparative framework for studying China's soft power diplomacy, filling a notable gap in existing scholarship. The interdisciplinary approach ensures rich, diverse analyses, fostering dialogues across international relations, Asian studies, and political science. By offering new theories, methodologies, and empirical data, the book not only challenges existing notions but also sparks further academic inquiry into the strategic use of soft power in foreign policy.

Tides of Insecurity: Vietnam and the Growing Challenge from Non-traditional Maritime Threats Phan Xuan Dung, To Minh Son, 2023-03-03 While the South China Sea dispute remains Vietnam's top security concern, the country also confronts a variety of growing non-traditional threats, such as illegal fishing, maritime violence, smuggling, ecological degradation and climate change. These issues adversely affect Vietnam's external relations, socio-economic development, marine ecosystems and political stability, while engendering and exacerbating regional tensions. In response, at the national level, Vietnam has focused on building a blue economy and strengthening its law enforcement capacity. At the international level, Vietnam has participated in a variety of bilateral and multilateral cooperative mechanisms. However, these efforts have been impeded by internal and external factors, such as corruption, inadequate capacity and lack of budget, as well as ASEAN's institutional limitations and sovereignty sensitivities. To better confront these multifaceted maritime issues, Vietnam will need to (1) formulate a comprehensive national strategy for maritime security; (2) streamline the overlapping responsibilities of maritime security agencies; (3) enhance its maritime domain awareness; (4) ensure proper policy and investment to improve climate resilience and coastal development; and (5) optimize its approach to multilateralism.
