The Secret History of Freemasonry Jeremy Harwood,2013-11 Freemasonry is part of a long tradition of Western mysticism, steeped in a long-standing and eclectic mixture of historical fact and legend. Much of the ritual and symbolism prevalent in Freemasonry has developed over many centuries and relies heavily on notions inherited from the customs and practices of medieval stonemasons. Members are still taught its precepts using ritual dramas that follow ancient forms and use stonemasons' tools as allegorical guides. This absorbing and informative book provides an account of the history and legends of the Freemasons, from its links with the Knights Templar, its explorations into alchemy and the hermetic tradition, through the age of Enlightenment and the founding fathers of the USA, to the Victorians and up to the present day.

Masonic Records W. R. Blair,2017-12-25 Excerpt from Masonic Records: Chiefly of the Etruscan Lodge In the Potteries the oldest Lodge is St. Martin's, No. 98, dating from 1805, and all honor is due and given to the old Burslem Masons for bringing it to the flourishing state it is now in; but, considering the smallness and comparative unimportance of Lane End (now Longton), the population at that time being about when the first Lodge was founded in 1805, Longton has every reason to be proud of her old Masons. There were then two Grand Lodges in England. The Grand Lodge of England, constituted in 1717, the members of which were known after 1751 as Modern Masons, and The Grand Lodge of England, according to the old institutions, constituted 1751, the members being designated Ancient or Atholl Masons. These two Grand Lodges were combined in 1813, and formed the United Grand Lodge of England The Lane End brethren obtained a Warrant from the Ancients, dated the 24th April, 1805, and called the Lodge The United Pottery Lodge, No. 134 (see Lane's Records), the number being altered in 1814 to 160. It was held on the Tuesday nearest the full moon, and was a lodge of four degrees, that is, it included the Holy Royal Arch. There are no minutes extant, but a few signatures remain. It was held originally at the White Lion Inn, subsequently at The Swan, the Crown and Anchor and the Union Hotel, and then back to the White Lion. In 1822 the name was altered to the United Potters' Lodge, and it was ultimately erased in 1829. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Old Charges of Freemasonry Walter William Melnyk, 2011-10-21 This is a compilation of some of the more important of the Old Charges of Freemasonry. These documents witness to the growth and evolution of the Craft from its earliest historical memories. Yet they are not histories; rather, the stuff of Masonic myth and legend, often recalling memories more ancient still. As such, they tell us more about the nature of the Craft than about its objective history. The older the Old Charge, the more this is true. They are presented here in the original English, often quite archaic sounding to modern ears. But this is in keeping with their legendary nature, which would be distorted by presenting the seeming objectivity of modern language. Those who are not well versed in Chaucerian English need not despair, for even occasionally recognized words or phrases will give dramatic insight into old Masonic thought. The Halliwell Manuscript, however, is provided also in updated language. The range of Masonic literature includes documents of greater or lesser importance, of more or less reliability. This volume contains eight of the more important Old Charges out of scores of known documents. This collection of several of the more important Old Charges of Freemasonry, compiled as the Worshipful Master's gift for 2012 at Springfield-Hanby Lodge No. 767 in Springfield, Pennsylvania, and is now offered for general sale.

The Standard Masonic Monitor George E. Simons, 2014-03 This Is A New Release Of The Original 1878 Edition.

Michigan Masonic Monitor (Classic Reprint) Lou B. Winsor, 2018-01-08 Excerpt from Michigan Masonic Monitor Upon the recommendation of this committee, as the result of their labor and research, it was determined to make some additions to the paragraph upon the lamb skin or white leather apron, and to make few other changes except verbal ones to correct ungrammatical words or phrases, leaving the general text of the work as we have had it for the last half a century. The Grand Lodge having formally adopted this work in January, 1897, as recommended by its committee, it now becomes, in truth, The Michigan Masonic Monitor, and by that name it will hereafter be designated.
