Super English Kelly Blade,2019-12-17 This book contains a story divided into three sections. The first section is easy and it contains the repetition of the most used sentences and words that constitute a large and daily part of the English language. The second section of the book delves into the medium level of difficulty in which it is exposed to advanced words and grammar. The third section, in which we review the advanced rules and more varied words. In this book, we try to present a story with interesting events and a sequence of grammar in a balanced manner, from easy to difficult. Then we intensify and diversify the formation of words. With each word you'll find its own base color. It takes hold of your mind that colors symbolize a constant meaning for every part of a sentence. Whenever you read a sentence, your mind will compose the sentence based on the division you have experienced in this book.

Learning EFL by Bengali speaking learners: Major linguistic problems and possible solutions M. Maniruzzaman, 2010-06-16 Research Paper (postgraduate) from the year 2010 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies - Linguistics, grade: A, Jahangirnagar University (Department of English), language: English, abstract: Abstract The second/foreign language learner usually confronts diverse linguistic problems evidently handicapping and hampering his/her learning and eventually negatively affecting his/her general proficiency in the target language. Both as a learner and a teacher-researcher of English as a foreign language (EFL), I have had first-hand experience and the opportunity to observe that the Bengali speaking learner confronts difficulty in learning English pronunciation, vocabulary items, word formation, sentence construction, and conveying meanings through and/or receiving meanings of words, phrases, clauses, sentences/utterances, discourse, and the like. And such problems obviously seriously retard his/her learning of EFL. Hence, the present writer feels justified in identifying the major linguistic problems the Bengali speaking EFL learner encounters as well as in discovering the causes of the problems. Finally, the writer has made a number of recommendations with a view to addressing and lessening the problems, on the one hand, and ensuring the smooth and optimal learning of EFL on the other.
