California Indian Languages Victor Golla,2022-02 Nowhere was the linguistic diversity of the New World more extreme than in California, where an extraordinary variety of village-dwelling peoples spoke seventy-eight mutually unintelligible languages. This comprehensive illustrated handbook, a major synthesis of more than 150 years of documentation and study, reviews what we now know about California's indigenous languages. Victor Golla outlines the basic structural features of more than two dozen language types and cites all the major sources, both published and unpublished, for the documentation of these languages—from the earliest vocabularies collected by explorers and missionaries, to the data amassed during the twentieth-century by Alfred Kroeber and his colleagues, to the extraordinary work of John P. Harrington and C. Hart Merriam. Golla also devotes chapters to the role of language in reconstructing prehistory, and to the intertwining of language and culture in pre-contact California societies, making this work, the first of its kind, an essential reference on California's remarkable Indian languages.

The Tocharian Subjunctive Michaël Peyrot,2013-06-15 The subjunctive is one of the most central categories of the Tocharian verbal system. Whn: When New York City Went Country Ed Salamon,2013-02-01 In 1973, conventional industry wisdom was that a country music station could not be sucessful in the New York market. WHN ignored that wisdom and announced that it was switching from a middle-of-the-road format to country, billing itself as Easy Lovin' Country. The actual changeover took place at 5:45 am on February 26th when Jack Spector, calling himself The Kosher Cowboy From Coney Island, introduced the George Jones classic The Race Is On. And the rest is history.
