MANAGEMENT OF RISKS UNDER THE COMPANIES ACT, 2013 Ram K Narayan,2020-10-10 The Hon. Minister of Finance and Corporate Affairs introduced on 6th March 2020 in the Lok Sabha, the Companies (Amendment) Act, 2020 {Bill No.88 of 2020}. In the statement of Objects and Reasons for introducing the Bill, she stated, inter alia that as part of the constant endeavor of the Government to facilitate greater ease of living to law abiding corporates certain provisions of the Act are proposed to be decriminalized to provide further ease of living for corporates in the country. Several provisions of the Act related to defaults which lacked any element of fraud or do not involve larger public interest were decriminalized. Yet the continuing “less serious punishments” are serious enough for the Directors to be complacent. There are still 26 sections providing for punishment under section 447 as Cognizable Offence; 20 sections attracting Imprisonment and Fine; 8 sections imposing Imprisonment or Fine or Both; and 1 section providing for Imprisonment or Fine. This book can guide those Directors who have less knowledge on the compliance requirements under the Act, its rules and secretarial procedures. It is believed that this handbook shall enthruse them to adopt personal risk mitigation measures such as good reading of the agenda papers, seek additional information from companies to prepare and effectively participate at the meetings and where considered appropriate obtain expert independent advice. The book will also be of value to the whole-time directors and officers of the company, candidates preparing for on-line proficiency test for registration of Data Bank of Independent Directors, company secretaries whether in service or in practice, CFOs, practicing chartered accountants while conducting audit of companies, lawyers, offices of the Ministry of Corporate Affairs such as Registrar of Companies, Regional Directors, students and teachers of company law in Institutions etc. The book highlights punishments under the following categories: (1) For Fraud under Section 447: {Cognizable Offences}. (2) Imprisonment and Fine (3) Imprisonment or Fine or Both (4) Imprisonment or Fine (5) Fine on the Company, Directors, Officers who are in Default (6) Punishment under Section 450 {No specific punishment provided under any Chapter} (7) Imprisonment and Fine -Other than Directors and Officers who are in Default (8) Punishment by Fine-Other than Directors and Officers who are in Default. (9) Vacation of Office by Directors and Disqualification from holding Office in any Company. (10) Personal Liabilities for Damages – Directors, Promoters. Members, Expert, Officers in Default. (11) Risk of Punishments to Non-executive Directors (12) Other Punishments

Employers and the Law: 2013–14 Anthology of Best Articles George J. Siedel,John V. Siedel,2014-05-18 The law touches almost every aspect of the relationship between employers and their employees. Hundreds of articles are written every year about legal developments that impact this relationship. This book is a compilation of the best of these articles that were written between March 1, 2013, and February 28, 2014. This time frame was selected because it includes end-of-year articles that review key changes in the law during 2013 and beginning-of-year articles that cover trends and action items for 2014. The articles in this collection were written by leading US employment law experts. In selecting these articles, the goal was to include articles that are concise, clearly-written, practical, and relevant to the responsibilities of business owners, managers, and human resource professionals—and to their legal advisors. The result is a mixture of two types of articles. Some articles focus on fundamental, recurring legal concerns. These include, for example, articles on employer responsibilities relating to holiday activities, off-duty conduct, record keeping, reductions in force, retaliation, seasonal workers, severance agreements, trade secrets, and workplace violence. Other articles address issues that have recently received national attention as a result of changes in the business and legal environment. These include articles on employer responsibilities relating to criminal background checks, Bring Your Own Device policies, workplace bullying, electronic communications, “leaning in,” obesity, social media, telecommuting, and workplace wellness programs. The articles are organized into four groupings. The first group (“Opening Test”) will test whether you have a sound understanding of employers’ legal responsibilities. The second group (“Broad Coverage”) includes review articles that summarize legal developments in 2013 and agendas for 2014. Articles in the third group (“Global Concerns”) address US employers’ increasing concerns with the legal environment outside the United States. The fourth group of articles (“Specific Topics”) comprises most of the book and covers specific topics relating to ongoing and emerging legal responsibilities of employers. We hope that the resources in this book will help you achieve business success in a responsible manner.
