Advanced Cleaning Product Formulations, Vol. 3

Ernest W. Flick, 1989 This book (Volume 3) presents more than 630 up-to-date advanced cleaning product formulations for household, industrial and automotive applications. It is the result of information received from numerous industrial companies and other organizations. The data represent selections made at no cost to, nor influence from, the makers or distributors of these materials. Only the most recent formulas have been included. All formulations are completely different than those contained in Volume 1 published in 1989 and Volume 2 published in 1994. Formulation in the cleaning product industry has gradually been undergoing significant change during the past years. Raw materials costs have risen and manufacturers have been reluctant to pass along these increases. Environmental considerations have also played a part. By changing formulations to improve cost-performance characteristics, manufacturers have been able to control costs but still enhance performance. This book presents manufacturers' suggested formulations which might meet new performance criteria. The formulations in this book are divided into the following sections and chapters, with the number of formulations indicated in ( ):
