Kartläggning av matsvinnet i primärproduktionen Ulrika Franke,2013-11-06 Mat slängs i alla delar av livsmedelskedjan. Det finns statistik på hur mycket som kastas i flera led av kedjan men för primärproduktionen, alltså jordbrukarnas verksamhet, saknas tillförlitliga siffror på hur stort svinnet är. I ett projekt med representanter från Danmark, Finland, Norge och Sverige har vi försökt kartlägga svinnet i fem vanliga produktgrupper: Mjolk, griskött, morötter, lök och potatis. Resultaten visar att en stor mängd mat går förlorad redan i primärproduktionen. Svinnet av mjolk och griskött har störst konsekvenser för producenternas ekonomi, mängden tillgänglig odlingsmark och klimatet även om svinnet i produktionen procentuellt sett är högre för morötter, lök och potatis. Konsumenternas krav kan ge upphov till svinn även i primärproduktionen särskilt för frukt och grönsaker.

North American Integration Gaspare M. Genna, David A. Mayer-Foulkes, 2013-07-18 The course of events since the implementation of NAFTA has had unexpected elements with significant impacts on North American integration. First has been the rise of China as a larger source of imports and production partner than Mexico. Second has been the rise of security concerns since September 11, 2001. The result has been much stronger integration between Canada and the US than with Mexico. Migration issues are now linked with security, which has risen to a top priority in the international agenda. While liberalization has furnished strong economic incentives for integration, it has not provided a sufficient guide for the political process, which requires leadership and appropriate institutions to coordinate and regulate the special interest groups. A coherent and effective North American integration would be a valuable asset in the context of global integration and competition, yet the issues involved are quite complex and varied. North American Integration: An Institutional Void in Migration, Security and Development examines the current state of North American integration. Editors Gaspare M. Genna and David A. Mayer-Foulkes gather an international group of experts to give a broad, coherent picture of the current, multifaceted process of integration, and find that institutional development is an essential component. Divided into three sections, the book: - Discuss the determinants of integration and shows that the institutional characteristics of the three countries, including democracy and basic rights, are the most important. - Provides examples of institutional building in contexts for which institutions are lacking, specifically labor, migration and health issues. - Examines issues such as overall security arrangements, trade, drug related violence, energy, and the continuing wage gap among the countries, which have an important bearing on integration.

Examining the Phenomenon of "Teaching Out-of-field" Linda Hobbs, Günter Törner, 2019-01-01 This book identifies and surveys the major themes around 'out-of-field teaching', that is, teaching subjects or year levels without a specialization. This has been an issue in many countries for some time, yet until recently there has been little formal research and poor policy responses to related problems. This book arises out of collaborations between members of an international group of researchers and practitioners from Australia, Germany, Ireland, England, South Africa, Indonesia and the United States.

Cross-national comparisons of ideas through case studies, descriptions of practice and research data interrogates the experiences, practices, and contexts relating to out-of-field teaching. In particular, the book considers the phenomenon of out-of-field teaching in relation to national policy contexts, local school leadership practices, professional development. The book represents an essential contribution on a highly topical issue that has implications for quality and equitable education around the globe.

Evidence-Based School Psychiatry, An Issue of Child and Adolescent Psychiatric Clinics of North America Jeffrey Bostic, Alexa Bagnell, 2012-03-26 Schools can play an important role in addressing the unmet mental health needs of youth by potentially increasing access to care in a cost-effective manner. This venue provides unparalleled access to youth and exemplifies a single setting through which the majority of children can be reached. This very timely issue provides a much-needed analysis of the types of situations in which schools can and must address the mental health needs of their students, and the methodology for doing so. With an eye towards current technologies (articles cover telepsychiatry and web-based interventions), authors review school-based interventions for students suffering from post-traumatic stress-syndrome, generalized anxiety, social anxiety, depression, ADHD, psychoses, substance abuse, and other disorders. Of special interest are the articles covering bullying (including internet bullying) and mobilizing a crisis team after student death.
