Respiratory Support: Clinical Applications and the Novel Future Jun Duan, Bing Dai, Antonio M. Esquinas, 2024-03-14 Respiratory support is a series of significant techniques used widely in clinical which saves a great number of patients with impaired pulmonary function and respiratory failure caused by pneumonia, sepsis, trauma, and acute exacerbation of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, especially in recent years of Covid-19. It could improve oxygenation, reduce respiratory rate, and maintain normal ventilation. These techniques include oxygen therapy, high-flow nasal cannula, noninvasive ventilation, mechanical ventilation, and extracorporeal membrane oxygenation et al. Respiratory support has been improved increasingly these 20 years. Summarizing experience from past cases and keeping up with the latest technology is crucial to improve patient management and prognosis.

Linear and Quasilinear Elliptic Equations

Ladyzhenskaya, 1968 Linear and Quasilinear Elliptic Equations

The Ventilator Project Srikanth Sastri, Amitabha Bandyopadhyay, 2021-03-07 A raging pandemic, a dearth of life-saving equipment, and ninety days to manufacture a world-class ventilator. On 24 March 2020, a nationwide lockdown was imposed in India in the face of a formidable adversary, the Covid-19 pandemic. With the number of cases increasing exponentially, hospitals were faced with a dangerous shortage of life-saving equipment and personnel. In response to the imminent crisis, Amitabha Bandyopadhyay and Srikant Sastri formed the IIT Kanpur ventilator Consortium as a task force to assist a young startup, Nocca Robotics, in building affordable high-quality ventilators for India's cash-strapped hospitals. Under the mentorship of reputed industry leaders, the task force and the Nocca team worked tirelessly against unprecedented odds – trammelled by a ban on imports and telecommuting through Zoom and Whatsapp in the face of stringent lockdown restrictions – to manufacture the Noccarc V310 in record time. This is the incredible story of its conception, creation and success, in the words of the task force co-leaders themselves. Inspiring and riveting, The Ventilator Project also offers an unmatched blueprint for business in the post-Covid era through first-hand lessons gleaned during the task force's phenomenal ninety-day run. It proves that India, with its deep recesses of talent and ingenuity, has the potential to be a world leader in both business and social impact.

Mechanical Ventilation from Pathophysiology to Clinical Evidence Giacomo Bellani, 2022-03-16 This book aims to give a comprehensive overview of the current challenges and solution posed to the health care professionals who need to use mechanical ventilation to treat their patients. Mechanical ventilation is a cornerstone of the treatment of critically ill patients, as also dramatically underlined by the recent COVID-19 pandemic. The topic is not simple to approach, since it requires integration of multiple data which, in turn, result from complex interplays between patient's condition and ventilatory settings. While technological development empowered advanced monitoring and decision support, these also increase the burden of data on the practitioners. Furthermore, considering that sometimes mechanical ventilation is seen under two, apparently opposite, approaches, "physiology vs. protocols", the book aims to reconcile these two aspects. And this has been done by each author following the above trajectory in their chapters. The exposure of the topic begins from the "pathophysiology" (i.e. the "physiology of the disease") so that the reader can better understand the concept and rationale of any given approach. At the same time, any rationale or hypothesis (for as much as supported by physiology) must hold at the proof of clinical research and evidence, which is summarized in each chapter. In summary, the purposes is that the readers understand not only which is the best clinical practice to adopt but also why and which mechanisms this is based upon and how to approach a novel issue they might encounter. The book – addressed to physicians, nurses and respiratory therapist – features chapters on “novel” or “hot” topics like, obviously, COVID-19, ECMO, but also MV in low resource setting.
