Mi domicilio es el aire Fernando Bravo,2011-09-01 «Un instante antes de decir al aire La primera palabra, una certeza se impone en mi cabeza: me siento bien porque tengo el raro privilegio de hacer lo que más me gusta.» Fernando Bravo En agosto de 1920, la radiodifusión daba sus primeros pasos en la Argentina. A partir de entonces, la radio se iba a convertir en compañera inseparable de millones de personas, y muchos personajes entrañables llegarían a los hogares de todo el país dejando huellas indelebles. Sin duda, uno de ellos es Fernando Bravo, que lleva más de cuatro décadas entrando en nuestras vidas y llenando horas de trabajo o de descanso con su compañía, a veces sería, a veces divertida, siempre leal. y honesta, siempre apelando a la lógica y junto al corazón. Desde los primeros pasos hasta hoy, Fernando Bravo evoca en este libro programas, amigos, compañeros y maestros, anécdotas reveladoras, aciertos y errores, risas y llantos, junta con reflexiones que comparte con generosidad y que constituyen verdaderas lecciones, de radio y de vida.

Command Of The Air General Giulio Douhet,2014-08-15 In the pantheon of air power spokesmen, Giulio Douhet holds center stage. His writings, more often cited than perhaps actually read, appear as excerpts and aphorisms in the writings of numerous other air power spokesmen, advocates-and critics. Though a highly controversial figure, the very controversy that surrounds him offers to us a testimonial of the value and depth of his work, and the need for airmen today to become familiar with his thought. The progressive development of air power to the point where, today, it is more correct to refer to aerospace power has not outdated the notions of Douhet in the slightest In fact, in many ways, the kinds of technological capabilities that we enjoy as a global air power provider attest to the breadth of his vision. Douhet, together with Hugh “Boom” Trenchard of Great Britain and William “Billy” Mitchell of the United States, is justly recognized as one of the three great spokesmen of the early air power era. This reprint is offered in the spirit of continuing the dialogue that Douhet himself so perceptively began with the first edition of this book, published in 1921. Readers may well find much that they disagree with in this book, but also much that is of enduring value. The vital necessity of Douhet’s central vision-that command of the air is all important in modern warfare-has been proven throughout the history of wars in this century, from the fighting over the Somme to the air war over Kuwait and Iraq.

Detective Fiction in Cuban Society and Culture Stephen Wilkinson,2006 This book examines Cuban society through a study of its detective fiction and more particularly contemporary Cuban society through the novels of the author and critic, Leonardo Padura Fuentes. The author traces the development of Cuban detective writing in the light of the work of twentieth century Western European literary critics and philosophers including Raymond Williams, Antonio Gramsci, Terry Eagleton, Roland Barthes, Jean Paul Sartre, Michel Foucault, Jean François Lyotard and Jean Baudrillard in order to gain a better understanding of the social and historical context in which this genre emerged. The analysis includes discussion of the broader philosophical, political and historical issues raised by the Cuban revolution. The book concludes that the study of this popular genre in Cuba is of crucial importance to the scholar who wishes to reach as full an understanding of the social dynamics within that society as possible.
