Alpha Contact P. K. Hawkins, 2017-08 One week ago, the human race learned they were not alone in the universe when a mysterious ship appeared in orbit around Earth. All attempts to contact it have failed. That's where Captain James Bernhard comes in. As the lead military officer in charge of what is called the Alpha Contact Contingency, he will lead a team of scientists and special forces operatives in a recommissioned space shuttle to explore the gargantuan alien spaceship. But there is something else on board the alien craft, something perhaps more deadly than the massive invasion force waiting in stasis. A lifeform is on the ship that can take over and control others. Paranoia will run deep, and not everybody is what they seem...

The Alpha Protocols David T. Francis, 2006-12-01 In December 1980, an alien craft was encountered by US airmen in Rendlesham Forest, Suffolk. In October 2005, a fleet of UFOs were sighted as they flew over the M25 around London. In March 2006, the Space Shuttle Atlantis encountered an unidentified craft whilst on a routine mission to the International Space Station. They watched as something was released into the atmosphere, before the craft raced back into space. All these stories, plus many more, have been covered up by our governments, both here and in the United States. What was delivered to Earth that night could lead to the end of life as we know it. We now face a threat that is spreading across the world and has taken hold at the highest levels of the UK's government. The Alpha Protocols is the story as to how the United Kingdom responds to an invasion by an alien species. Based in Suffolk, the Alpha Team provide the front line response leading the defence of our country. Working with the Department of Planetary Defence in the United States, the Alpha Team, lead by Dave Hunt and Lucy Tyler, work towards saving the human race. This is a fight that must remain hidden from the public. A fight that cannot be lost. A fight for our own survival.

High Alpha Aerodynamics: Summary data ARO, Inc,1974

Using Hops Mark Garetz,1994

The Statistical Register of Victoria Victoria. Registrar-general's Office,1854

Aerodynamic Characteristics of Wraparound Fins Mounted on Bodies of Revolution and Rheir Influence on the Missle Static Stability at Mach Numbers from 0.3 to 1.3 Calvin Wayne Dahlke,Joseph C. Craft,1972 Experimental aerodynamic investigations were conducted for several wraparound fins and one planar fin configuration on bodies of revolution at Mach number ranging from 0.3 to 1.3 and angles of attack from -6 degrees to 6 degrees at 0 degrees at sideslip angle. Six component aerodynamic forces and moments were recorded on the complete missile configuration while simultaneously measuring the aerodynamic normal force and bending moments acting on each fin. The fin configuration parameters varied include chord length, fin thickness, leading edge configuration, tip chord geometry and body, root chord gap. The report presents the plotted coefficient data in two volumes. Volume I contains the complete missile aerodynamic data. Volume 2 contains the individual fin aerodynamic data.

Between Craft and Science Stephen R. Barley, Julian E. Orr, 2018-10-18
Between Craft and Science brings together leading scholars from sociology, anthropology, industrial relations, management, and engineering to consider issues surrounding technical work, the most rapidly expanding sector of the labor force. Part craft and part science, part blue-collar and part white-collar, technical work demands skill and knowledge but is rarely rewarded with commensurate status or salary. The book first considers the anomalous nature of technical work and the difficulty of locating it in any conventional theoretical framework. Only an ethnographic approach, studying the actual doing of the work, will make sense of the subject, the authors conclude. The studies that follow report daily practice filled with disjunctures and ironies that mirror the ambiguities of technical work's place in the larger culture. On the basis of those studies, the authors probe questions of policy, management, and education. Between Craft and Science considers the cultural difficulties in understanding technical work and advances coherent, practice-oriented insights into this anomalous phenomenon.

The Third Craft James T. Harris, 2012 In this dramatic one-volume sci-fi trilogy, three spacecraft crash land on Earth following the destruction of a far-off planet by two warring royal houses. Now, with the discovery of the third craft, the rivalry breaks out in an apocalyptic battle to determine Earth's future. It is a battle between equally determined forces involving two princes, the Queen Mother, and the humans the rival aliens have adapted themselves to – including the twins Joe and Hawk and their father Frank Grayer, an intelligence agent for the U.S. Department of Defense. The Third Craft is a spirited, gripping saga of morality, cosmic civil war, and human evolution – an adventure into the limits of technology, the nature of evil, and the destiny of humankind. JAMES T. HARRIS is a cosmologist, successful businessman, and self-taught chemist. He was born in Montreal, worked in Northern Ontario, and now lives in London, Ontario. Harris has a broad range of interests, including collecting art, quantum physics, flying as a private pilot, ice hockey, and piano, which he learned to play as an adult. His next novel, The Caretaker, is a graphic ghost story, to be published in 2013.

Diary of a Legendary Lone Wolf Christopher Craft,2015-08-25 Diary of a Legendary Lone Wolf - LoboWelcomeThe wolves roam the mountains and forests of Minecraftia, usually minding their own business. Lobo leads the wolf pack that occupies the Frozo Mountain. The wolves hunt for food, protect their young, and Lobo makes sure every wolf is accounted for. There came a point when food in the Frozo Mountain became scarce, and each animal they found was a treasure. One day, Lobo and his pack spotted a lone rabbit, jumping around in the snow. All the wolves attack it in unison. However, the bunny escapes, and the chaos causes an avalanche. Snow covers the entire pack, and they are sent off the mountain. Lobo wakes up at the bottom of the mountain. He has survived, but the rest of the wolf pack is nowhere to be found. The massive avalanche has made the mountain unscalable, so Lobo sets off into unfamiliar territory to find his pack.
